NO GOOD

The plan for deferring college students from the draft now before Congress may not be such a good idea after all. See editorial, page 2.

Valkyrie Sing Idea Deadline Is Set Today

Sororities, Frats, Dorms Participate In Sing April 30

Today is the deadline for submitting ideas for the annual Valkyrie Sing to be held April 30 in Memorial Hall, and all organizations interested in participating should contact Chairman Judy Sanford at the ADP House immediately.

Dormitories are particularly urged to act quickly, as very few of these groups have as yet entered the running. Four cups will be awarded. Sorority, women's dorms, men's dormitories, and fraternities will be competing in different divisions for the cups.

Entering organizations are asked to carry out a particular theme in its presentation of songs and staging. Judges, whose names will be announced later, will make their evaluation on the basis of music 65 percent, originality 20 percent, staging 10 percent, and costumes and props 5 percent.

Groups planning to enter should get information about their theme and name of song director to Judy Sanford today. The deadline is necessary in order to print programs and arrange for rehearsals. Each organization will be given time for a 30 minute rehearsal in Memorial Hall, with a lighting technician provided by Valkyries.

There must be a minimum of eight persons in a group, and no soloists. Each member must sing; not merely be a part of pantomime. No alumni or outside help will be allowed. No dances or dialogue are permissible. Performances must be limited to nine minutes, and only hand props can be used.

WORLD, NATION, STATE

NEW YORK—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were sentenced to death yesterday by Judge Irving Kaufman for sending atomic bomb secrets to Russia. Their co-defendant, Morton Sobel, was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

WASHINGTON—War jitters hit the capital yesterday in the wake of a report that troops, apparently Russian, are massing in Manchuria and the nation may stand on the threshold of World War III.

TOKYO—American tanks and infantry plunged eight miles into North Korea yesterday toward the heart of a Communist offensive build-up of 500,000 troops.

RALEIGH—Gov. Kerr Scott's office said yesterday that a request from the sheriff of Davie County for highway patrol assistance in connection with a textile workers strike at Cooleemee had been declined.

DURHAM—Trial of three suspended policemen on charges of assault and battery in connection with the alleged beating of a Duke University student in the city jail Nov. 24 got underway in Superior Court yesterday.

WASHINGTON—The Army will begin about the middle of this month to bring back from Korea men who have been long engaged in the fighting there. They will be replaced by fresh troops.

300 Frosh Will Enter Here During June Under Speedup

Some 300 or more freshmen will enter the University for the first time at the beginning of the summer session June 11, Dean Guy B. Phillips, director, said yesterday.

"The possible increase in enrollment for the two summer terms (June 11-July 19 and July 20-August 29) assures a reasonably good attendance," Dean Phillips said. "This group of freshmen enrolling for the first term are coming in to get a start on the college program before the possible draft regulations call them into service."

He explained that the University's operation on the quarter system "makes it easy for students to begin one quarter early and complete exactly the same type of work they would have in the fall quarter and allows any regular student to pick up a full quarter of work during the summer."

Dean Phillips said this year's summer session would require all GI students in professional activities who are not enrolled this spring as regular students to be in attendance during the summer in order to maintain GI benefits. "Any student not already registered and established in the GI benefits must be enrolled during the summer to be eligible for any of the benefits to follow," he said.

Another factor arousing more than usual interest in this year's summer session is the School of Education's new master's of education degree authorized by the Graduate School Board. "This degree has been designed especially for teachers and administrators," he said.

Among the number of special features being offered this summer are programs of work for teachers in corrective reading, special education for the slow-learning students, activities designed to meet the particular needs of professional people.

Tate Would Work To Keep Balance

Allen Tate, University Party nominee for secretary-treasurer of the student body, yesterday said if elected he would work closer with the Student Legislature to make all possible funds available to various campus organizations to "prevent any future cut-back in services."

Tate said his idea was to have specific hours and be on hand at these times to consult on financial problems. He said he planned to work with the administration in conjunction "with relieving the students of some of the financial burden in such organizations as the Debate Council and Graham Memorial."

Tate, a Chi Phi from Gaffney, S. C., has been active in all phases of campus activity since entering here three years ago. He is treasurer of the junior class, on the Budget Committee, and in the Student Legislature has served twice on the Finance Committee and once on the Tuition Committee.

In addition, he is a member of the Grail, a varsity debater, vice-chairman of the Carolina Forum, and a delegate to the Interfraternity Council.

Former WAC

No Necessity For Draft Of Women, Says Grad

By Joan Charles

This nation will never have to draft women for the armed services—too many of them will volunteer—in the opinion of Lois Nelson, 28-year-old former WAC from Vaughn, Warren County, now doing graduate work here.

Miss Nelson is so enthusiastic about her experiences in the Army that she wouldn't mind going back into the WAC herself, that is, provided she could get a commission.

Miss Nelson has had varied experiences as a former model, government clerk, and Link trainer instructor, in addition to her job with the WAC.

She took up flying while working as a clerk in the War Department in Washington. She joined the Women Flyers of America to find relaxation from her wartime job. She then applied for a job as a Link trainer instructor for the Navy, got the job and was sent to Atlanta where she trained Waves, Marines and Navy men.

Shortly after she started working for the Navy, the Link trainers were taken over by men so

CPU Talks Sunday On Student Politics

Student politics will be the subject for discussion at the Carolina Political Union's meeting Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the Grail Room of Graham Memorial.

Interested students as well as members are invited.

High Schools Guests Here On April 28

Principals, teachers and high school seniors throughout the state have been issued an invitation to participate in the eighth annual North Carolina High School Day to be held here Saturday, April 28.

Letters of invitation from Chancellor Robert B. House have been mailed to all high school principals.

Feature of High School Day will be the annual Blue-White varsity football game in Kenan Stadium, where members of last season's Southern Conference freshman champions will perform as varsity players for the first time.

Sponsored by the University Club, High School Day will also include guided tours through the departments of the University, its buildings, dormitories and campus. Exhibits are being planned and there will be special shows in the Morehead Planetarium.

Members of the University Club will greet the visitors as they arrive at the Old Well. Picnic lunches may be brought and box lunches, sandwiches and cold drinks may be secured in the campus or in town.

Roy Armstrong, director of admissions, will be in charge, and he urges that everyone try to arrive early.

At $36 A Dozen, Paradise Pays Off

When the Carolina Theater shows "Bird of Paradise" Sunday and Monday, the theater will be decorated with rare flowers of the same name flown in from Hawaii at $36 a dozen.

Manager E. Carrington Smith said yesterday the bird of paradise flowers would be on display at the University Florist until the picture opens Sunday.

Dr. Aziz Atiya, Egyptian Prof., Will Visit Here

Arrives Monday; To Give Lecture In Gerrard Hall

The Department of Religion announced yesterday that Dr. Aziz Atiya, professor of medieval history in the University of Alexandria in Egypt and consultant to the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., will visit the University on Monday.

He will meet various classes in the Department of History and in the Department of Religion and will give an illustrated public lecture entitled "New Light on the Biblical Past" at 7:30 Monday night in Gerrard Hall.

Dr. Atiya, being a Coptic Christian, is a member of a very ancient Egyptian family that remained Christian even after the period of the Mohammedan invasion and conquest of North Africa. Dr. Atiya was educated first in Egypt, and then in England at the Universities of Liverpool and London. It was there, where Dr. Atiya was a classmate of Mrs. Arnold Nash, that he met Dr. Arnold Nash, chairman of the Department of Religion.

Dr. Atiya was one of the directors of the Mount Sinai expedition for the Library of Congress to the Monastery of St. Catherine, and for the last few months he has been editing and collating the microfilms of the Arabic collections at the Library.

On March 19 he inaugurated this collection in a lecture at the Library, and subsequently he has lectured at the University of Chicago, Johns Hopkins University, Princeton University, and Harvard University.

Dr. Atiya is a historian with an international reputation and has served as visiting professor in the Universities of Liverpool and London in England and Bonn University in Germany.

When he leaves America, he goes as visiting professor to Zurich University in Switzerland. His book, "The Crusades in the Later Middle Ages," is the definitive work on the subject.

Blood Donors Needed Now

Volunteer donors are asked to register for the Red Cross Bloodmobile at the Red Cross Chapter office in Alumni Building from Monday to Thursday next week between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The Bloodmobile will be in Graham Memorial on April 17 and 18, operating on the same procedure as when it was here in February. Donors who gave at that time are eligible again.

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity is taking charge of donor recruitment, it was announced by Robert Schenkan, chairman of the project. Donors may also schedule appointments by telephoning the Red Cross Office (2-8811) during the hours listed above.

UNC Physicists To Attend Meet

Several members of the staff of the Physics Department are attending meetings of the Southeastern Section of the American Physical Society at Chattanooga, Tenn., this weekend.

A total of seven papers are being presented by staff members and graduate students of the department.

Those attending the meetings include Drs. Paul Sherin, Nathan Rosen, Joseph Straley and Wayne Bowers, and several graduate students. Dr. Shearin will also attend meetings of the Executive Committee, of which he is a member.

Tiny Crowd Of 150 Students Comes To Hear Candidates

Aspirants To Three Top Campus Jobs Give Brief Speeches In Memorial Hall

By Chuck Hauser

A meager crowd of some 150 students, or approximately two and one-half percent of a 5,800-member student body, showed up in Memorial Hall last night to hear a brief set of speeches by candidates who will hold down the most important positions on campus for the next year.

A number of students who were in the auditorium from 7:30 to 8 o'clock for a compulsory meeting of all spring election candidates left when the speakers' meeting was convened, apparently not interested in hearing statements by their running mates.

Speakers at the meeting, presided over by Elections Board Chairman Julian Mason, were Henry Bowers (Student Party), Ben James, (independent) and Dick Penegar (University Party), running for president of the student body; Frank Allston (UP), Walt Dear (SP), Glenn Harden (Ind.), Don Maynard (Ind.) and Bruce Melton (Ind.), for editor of The Daily Tar Heel; and Jim McIntyre (SP) and Allen Tate (UP) for secretary-treasurer.

The candidates spoke in alphabetical order, beginning with the editorial candidates, then secretary-treasurer, then president. Unopposed vice presidential candidate Bunny Davis, Yack editorship candidate Sue Lindsey and head cheerleader nominee Cyril Minnet did not speak. Each is doubly-endorsed.

Bowers, first speaker of the presidential aspirants, told the slim crowd that the student body "must work for a deeper awakening of consciousness of the problems and challenges which face us today. This is the most important job of the president."

Mason said Jim Haney, at 305 Aycock, would serve as acting chairman of the Elections Board over the weekend.

Bowers said the Student Party has presented "the only workable plan" for opening social rooms in every men's dormitory.

James, the second speaker in the top bracket, said he had been carefully listening to what the other candidates had to say "for it is the combination of all our thoughts, whether UP, SP or independent, that really guide our overall thoughts."

"Too many times students have been cheated out of something they deserved," James continued, "because of the politicians who have been and are still too spineless to speak for themselves and their fellows."

Penegar, speaking in a quiet voice, said he did not have a platform to read to the audience. "I stand firmly behind the platform of the University Party," he stated.

The UP candidate broke his talk into three main points: (1) Building up of campus spirit through a better orientation program, (2) Seeing that funds in the student government budget benefit the tire student body, and (3) Publicizing activities of various branches of student government, including the courts, more than has been done.

Dr. Whyburn Heads Meet

Dr. W. M. Whyburn, chairman of the Mathematics Department, will have general charge of the program of the 46th meeting of the American Mathematical Society which will be held April 20-21 at Tulane University, New Orleans. Dr. Whyburn is associate secretary of the Society.

One University professor and a graduate fellow in the department will give papers at the meeting.

Dr. Alfred Brauer will give a paper entitled "On the Irreducibility of Polynomials with Large Third Coefficients." Leonard P. Burton will discuss "Minimax Solutions of Ordinary Differential Systems."

Others from the University who will attend the meeting include Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pignani. Pignani is a graduate teaching assistant in the Department of Mathematics.

May Drop Plan

WASHINGTON, April 5—The House probably will vote to scuttle Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey's elaborate new deferment plans for college students. Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee said today.

The plan, which would defer thousands of students who make a certain grade on an aptitude test to be given, is well underway now with test centers already set up.

Students, Officials On Murrow Show

Several University officials and students will be heard on Edward R. Murrow's "Hear It Now" news program tonight at 9 o'clock over CBS when they will discuss the draft deferment aptitude test.

The show was tape-recorded at Swain Hall yesterday and flown to New York for editing. The final product will be 10 minutes long. Those included on the original recording are Gordon Gray, president of the Consolidated University; Robert Burton House, Chancellor of the University at Chapel Hill; Roy K. Armstrong, director of admissions; Dean of Students Fred Weaver; Guy B. Phillips, dean of the School of Education; Oliver K. Cornwell, head of the Physical Education Department; Wallace C. Caldwell, head of the Department of History; Carl Snavely, head football coach; Charlie Justice, assistant backfield coach and former star halfback; John Sanders, president of the student body; Dick Murphy, attorney-general of the student body; Daily Tar Heel Editor Roy Parker; Yack Editor Jim Mills; Barbara Fyne, Sarah Fyne, Wilma Jones, Jim Kilgo, Barron Sumner, Jack Prince, and Jo Ann Culler.

Kappa Delta Interviewers Extend Time

Time for coed interviews with representatives of Kappa Delta Sorority has been extended over the weekend, Mrs. H. E. Mueller, national president, said here yesterday.

Mrs. Mueller said she believed there are a number of girls who would like to be interviewed who have not yet had the opportunity. She invited girls interested in joining Carolina's sixth sorority to contact her in Room 204 at the Carolina Inn. Yesterday was to have been the final day for interviews.

Pledging of the girls selected will take place next week, probably on Wednesday, Mrs. Mueller stated. She said a number of the sorority's members on campus planned to affiliate with the new chapter here.

A house is in the process of being procured and will be ready for occupancy in September, the national officer added.

Miss Ruth Spurgeon, central office secretary, Springfield, Mo., arrived yesterday afternoon to assist Mrs. Mueller and Miss Minnie Mae Prescott, central office manager, also of Springfield, in the organizational work.

Dekes Open Centennial Here Today

The Beta chapter of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, which claims the distinction of being the first fraternity in the state to be established (Phi Gamma says they were chartered first), will begin today a three-day Centennial celebration.

The program includes a reception Friday afternoon, a dance Friday night, a softball game between alumni of the East and West Saturday afternoon, a stag banquet, and a dinner party for the wives and dates Saturday night with Mrs. Gordon Gray as host.

President Gordon Gray, a member of the fraternity, will be the principal speaker at the stag banquet to which all alumni and active members are invited.

Brief addresses on the same program will also be given by Hugh Morton of Wilmington, Dr. Arthur Ambler of Asheville, Tom Pearsall of Rocky Mount, Howard Holderness of Greensboro, Bowman Gray of Winston-Salem.

Symphony To Present Concert Monday Night

Wolfgang Schanzer, noted pianist, will be soloist with the North Carolina Symphony at its Monday night concert in Hill Hall at 8:30.

Although still in his 20's, Schanzer has had widespread experience as a musician. During the 1948-49 concert season, he served as accompanist for David Lloyd, well known tenor, as well as playing a number of solos on each program. The pair toured all of the U. S. and part of Canada playing some 70 engagements.

Schanzer was in North Carolina in 1949 as assistant conductor with the Wagner Opera Co. Monday afternoon some 1,800 Orange County school children are expected in Hill Hall at the Symphony's annual free concert. Adults wishing to accompany children will be admitted upon presentation of a symphony membership card or by paying 50 cents admission at the door.

Admission for the concert that night is $2.10 at the door or presentation of a symphony membership card.

The children have received preparation in the classroom for the music they will hear by the symphony. Numbers which will be played by the symphony include the "Nuttercracker Suite," "Overture to the Marriage of Figaro," and "Work Song."
