

Port Hurls Tar Heels To 3-2 Victory Over Wolfpack Nine

J. Senter Top Hitter For Carolina

By Zane Robbins

Chalmers Port, fast becoming the ace of the Carolina mound staff, finally snapped the jinx which N. C. State has held over the Tar Heels this year and hung up his third win of the season yesterday afternoon at Emerson Field as Carolina defeated the Wolfpack, 3-2.

Port allowed only four hits in going the distance and fanned 11 State batters. In two innings—the third and eighth—he struck out the side. The stocky Millington, Pa., product was seldom in trouble as he defeated State for the first Carolina victory of the year over the Raleigh outfit.

Carolina scored single runs in each of the first two innings and was never in danger after that. After Mark Herring had opened the Tar Heel half of the first inning by fanning, Bobby Henning blasted a long triple to left-centerfield and scored when John (Sleepy) Senter cracked a single into leftfield.

Port Drives in Run

The second Carolina run came on a base on balls, a wild pitch, and a timely single by Port. Brookshire drew the free pass and advanced to second when State Pitcher Ed Hobert unleashed a throw that got away from Catcher Dick McGillis. Port then cracked a sharp single into leftfield to score Brookshire.

The Tar Heels picked up their final tally in the fifth inning when Senter smashed a home run into deep left-center with the bases empty.

State scored its first run in the third when Bill Martin walked, after Mark Wright had fanned to open the frame, and came home on Hebert's stinging triple to left-center. Port then whiffed the next two men to face him to end the threat.

Final Wolfpack Run

The final Wolfpack run came in the ninth when McGillis cowtailed a Port offering, slamming the ball against the left-centerfield wall with nobody aboard.

One of the funniest events of the afternoon came in the seventh inning when State Centerfielder John Fuscoe walked, struck out, and fled to centerfield during one trip to the plate.

Umpire Porter Shepard called a ball after Fuscoe had started to swing at a 2-1 pitch and held up Catcher Weiss and Coach Walt Rabb immediately protested, saying Fuscoe had tipped the ball and was out since Weiss held on to the pitch. Shepard then called two more balls, moving the count to 3-2. The State coach charged onto the field at that point, claiming that four balls were sufficient to allow a batter a free pass. Shepard managed to talk him down also, however, and Fuscoe then fled out to Billy Reeves in centerfield to end the three-cornered squabble.

We Dood It!!!

Netters Capture 5-4 Match From Duke; Ager And Luxenberg Brilliant In Win

By Harvey Riich

Suarked by the brilliant play of Bud Ager and Bob Luxenberg, the Carolina tennis team rose to great heights yesterday afternoon, defeating a strong Duke net team 5-4 in one of the most thrilling matches ever played here.

It was a hard earned win for the Tar Heels and the close play kept the 200-odd spectators on the edge of their seats from the beginning to end.

Three of the five Carolina points were the work of No. 2 man Bud Ager and third singles player Bob Luxenberg. Both played under terrific pressure and had to come from behind to win their singles matches. They later came in doubles play to add the fifth and deciding point of the afternoon.

The turning point of the match came when Ager finally pulled through in his singles match with Duke's John Ross. After three hours of grueling play, Ager came back from a first set deficit to edge out his opponent in a spine-tingling match, 3-6, 13-11, 8-6.

Luxenberg, back in action after a week's seige with influenza, played the tennis of his life in his win over Hal Lipton. Down 3-6 in the first set, he roared back to cop the next two sets, 6-1, 6-4. His outstanding performance in the No. 2 doubles match left nothing to be desired and brought high praise from Coach Kenfield.

Del Sylvia, Carolina No. 1 man, ran true to form in his match with Kes Deimling, beating the Duke ace easily in straight sets, 6-3, 5-2. Sylvia later teamed with Captain Heath Alexander to take the featured doubles match from Duke's Deimling and Carloss, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

The summary:

SINGLES
Sylvia (UNC) defeated Deimling, 6-3, 6-2.
Ager (UNC) defeated Ross, 3-6, 13-11, 8-6.
Luxenberg (UNC) defeated Lipton, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.
Warmath (Duke) defeated Alexander, 6-1, 6-2.
Schellenger (Duke) defeated Izlar, 6-1, 6-8, 6-4.
Tapley (Duke) defeated Lambeth, 4-6, 6-0, 5-2.

Carolina Catcher Dick Weiss Top Hitter Among Big Four Batters With .636 Mark

Special to The Daily Tar Heel, DURHAM, April 18 — Dick Weiss, a husky Carolina football fullback who is now turning in an outstanding job as the No. 1 catcher on the Tar Heels' baseball outfit, was the top hitter in the Big Four going into yesterday's game against N. C. State.

Weiss is also one of the top extra base hitters in the fast college loop with a double and two triples among his seven clouts in 11 trips.

Blue-White Football Game Set For Saturday, April 28

The annual Blue-White intra-squad football game will be held Saturday afternoon, April 28 at 2 o'clock in Kenan Stadium. This is the game that gives the students an early look at the Tar Heels for the coming year.

The game is sponsored by the Monogram Club. Tickets for the game have been distributed to NC Club members in the dorms and fraternity houses and may be obtained from them. The student tickets are 50 cents each if accompanied by passbook coupon number 50.

General admission tickets are $1.00. Anyone not a student of the University comes under this heading. The high school seniors, guests of the school administration for the week-end, have already had their tickets arranged.

Students will enter gates No. 2 and No. 3. High school students will enter gate No. 5 only, on the south side. General admission tickets will be valid at either side of the field.

Next year's varsity will be led for the first time by its newly elected captain and alternate captain, Joe Dudeck and Bob Gantt.

Last year the Whites, composed of old grads and a few borrowed varsity players, dropped the up and coming 1950 team by a 14-13 count on a sweltering afternoon. A crowd of 19,000 was on hand last year.

Lacrossemen Set To Meet Washington

Coach Alan Moore's lacrosse men will begin the second portion of their season tomorrow afternoon when they meet a star-studded Washington College team on Navy Field.

During the past two weeks, the Tar Heel mentor has been trying to devise methods to stop the high-scoring Shoremen. The Tar Heels received a devastating blow this week when it was learned that Dick Pillsbury had dropped out of school because of sickness.

Now Carolina must rely almost entirely on the first stringers to carry the brunt of the attack. The defensive situation improved somewhat this week and should be functioning more smoothly when Jim Ervin returns to action on Friday.

On Thursday of last week, the Tar Heels travelled to Durham to meet Duke's second stringers. The Tar Heel unit performed well in the last three periods but lost, 5-6, in the final seconds.

Washington College will feature the highest scorer in the country in Ray Wood who tallied 140 markers in his first three seasons. Backing Wood up are Graham Menzies at attack and Duke Case at midfield.

The Tar Heels will have to be at their peak to stop the "whiz-kids" from the Eastern Shore of Maryland. The Maroon raiders lost their first encounter to Navy, 6-8, but then triumphed over Adelphi, Hofstra, and Lehigh.

Leading the local attack will be Ted Dawes, Walt Ernst, and Art Greenbaum. Dawes has tallied five goals while Ernst is close behind with three. Greenbaum has only one but is leading in assists with five.

Carolina Frosh Tracksters Win, 78-48; Duke, Brown Cop Two Events Apeice

By Bill Peacock

DURHAM, April 18—Bob Mayer took three first places here today for the Duke freshmen, but it wasn't nearly enough as Carolina's Tar Babies romped in a dual track meet, 78-48, under near-perfect conditions.

Mayer got three of Duke's four firsts, winning the 880, mile, and two mile, breezing home in all three. The only other Duke first was taken by Jack Kistler, who won the shot put with a good throw of 42 feet, 5 1/4 inches.

Carolina had a pair of double winners, out of their 10 blue ribbons. Harry Brown won the 100 in the fine time of 10.2 and capped the first 220 he had ever run in 22.3, beating Chuck Novak of Duke by two strides.

Billy Duke was the Tar Babies' other double winner, taking the pole vault and the broad jump. His pole vault was 12 feet, three inches, a good mark in varsity competition. He failed to break the freshman record of 12 feet, six inches after two tries. Duke's winning broad jump was 19 feet, 9 3/4 inches.

Sonny Beall of Carolina took a first in the low hurdles and a second in the high hurdles, his performance in the lows being of varsity caliber. Beall won the lows in 25.3, whipping Curtis Langdon of Duke by a step.
