Doubles As Cab Dispatcher

Dr. Reet, Phi Delt Houseboy, Serving 17th Year On Campus

By Rolfe Neill
Wandering around the Phi Delt House with a toothsome smile on his face is Dr. Reet, whose 17 years as houseboy gives him claim to the oldest position of this sort on campus.
Reet, who doubles in everything from straightening the house's library to tending bar at parties, will be 40 in June. Born in Durham County in 1911 as Matthew Mason, he became Dr. Reet in 1933 when an exuberant Phi named him after a floorshow character then popular in New York.

Probably one of the best reasons Phi Delt grads of years past remember Reet is because he remembers them. Reet can remember the name and face of every brother who has been through since 1934.

DR. REET

His job at the house from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day is only half of his day's work, however. After 5 o'clock each afternoon he reports in to Hollywood Cab Co. where he is dispatcher. He has held two jobs continuously since coming here in 1928.

"I've had to," explains the good-natured Reet, "I've got six children and my wife." His oldest boy, who is 21, attends Morristown College in Tennessee.

Probably the thing which stands out in Reet's mind is a bit of calculation one of the brothers did for him a few days ago. They figured Reet has made up 178,500 beds since he's been houseboy for the Phi Delt.

At that, Reet flushed slightly and admitted that "my own bed at home is unmade right now."

MacNider Attending Philadelphia Meeting

The pictures will be taken down Friday afternoon and the vote tallied in time for announcement of the winner at the Carnival that night.

All proceeds taken in by the voting will go to the Cancer Fund.

Last year, when the contest was played for the first time, David "Mo" Hantley won the honor.

CHICAGO CHAMPION

Mark McCormack, number two player on the William and Mary golf team, was Chicago high school champion in 1947.

-Grail-

(Continued from page 1) is based on campus leadership and service, character, and personal integrity. To be initiated into the Grail is the highest honor which can come to a sophomore.

The annual Grail banquet was held at Bartlett House near Durham last night. Grail Alumnus Kay Kyser delivered the principal address to alumni of the Grail as well as the old and new active members. In its 31-year history at Carolina has initiated 441 men, many of whom are outstanding leaders in state and nation.

William S. Roth, Oteen, is Delegate of the Grail this year, and was in charge of the initiation and banquet.

University Club Elects Duffield Smith Prexy

Duffield Smith, rising senior from Dallas, Tex., and retiring treasurer of the University Club, has been elected president of the group to succeed Jerry Sternberg.

Barbara Sanford, Leaksville, was chosen historian under the newly created office. In describing the job for this new official, Smith said the club felt someone was needed to collect clippings of publicity the organization receives.

Other officers elected were Charles Highsmith, Greensboro, vice-president; Erlene Griffin, Goldsboro, secretary, and Buddy Herman, Winston-Salem, treasurer.

Rounding out this year's activity, the Club will put on its annual carnival on Navy Field this Friday. It will sponsor High School Day here, also an annual occurrence, Saturday, May 5.

The University Club is responsible for the organization of all pre-football game pep rallies in the fall, for entertaining many visiting groups on campus, and for taking care of student transportation to away games.
