Big Pi Kap Phi Weekend Highlighted By Rose Ball

Festivities for the big Pi Kappa Phi weekend commenced last Friday evening with a cabin party on the Airport Road and a late breakfast at the house. After a light lunch Saturday, the crowd adjourned to the Vet's Club for an afternoon party, and following this a buffet supper was served at the house by stewart Charlie Wolff.

Their weekend reached its climax on Saturday evening with the Rose Ball held in Woman's Gym. During intermission, awards for the year were made to Alfred Strauss, Tenefly, N. J., who received Best-Pledge plaque, and Hal Paderick, Kinston, Best-Paddle medal. Taking the spotlight was newly elected Rose of Pi Kappa Phi, Jean Tiller of Leakesville. 'The South's Gonna Rise Again' When KA's Hold Old South Ball

Chapters of the Kappa Alpha Order from Duke University, North Carolina State College, and the University of North Carolina will join in Raleigh Saturday for their third annual Old South Ball.

Each year throughout the national fraternity, members celebrate their founding which took place in 1865 at Washington College, now Washington and Lee University, as "the old Southern fraternity."

Based on the ideals of the Old South, as embodied in Robert E. Lee, the KA's will bring back the days of hoop skirts and gracious living when they again secede from the union for a weekend of costumed festivity.

A noon reception and banquet is planned at the Carolina Country Club. Howard P. Locke, Senior Counselor of the Order, will deliver a brief address on "The Ideals of Kappa Alpha." The groups will then adjorun to Memorial Auditorium where they will organize for a costumed parade, beginning at 4 o'clock. The parade will proceed up Fayetteville Street to the Confederate monument on the Capital grounds where the official secession ceremony will take place.

The Ball will be held in the Virginia Dare Room o fthe Hotel Sir Walter from 8 until 12 o'clock. The KA Rose, chosen by dignitaties at the Ball, will be crowned during intermission. Ted Weems and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance.

For the parade and dance, the boys will be dressed as Confederate soldiers or planters of the ante-bellum days. In keeping with their costumes, many of the members will exhibit a variety of beards which have been painstakingly cultivated for the occasion. The girls will don full hoop skirts for the dance to complete the plantation theme of decorations.

Once again "suhs," southern belles, and Confederate money will reign for a weekend when "the South's gonna rise again."

The Story of a Book That Wasn't Read

Behold the tale of J. Henry Bustard, Jr.

Seems that one May, just about this season now that you mention it, this J. Henry got to thinking about his Old Man, and he said to himself, "The poor old Square could do with a little chirking up."

So he trotted down to a certain famous establishment we're too modest to mention, and shipped his Progenitor something laughable, like, maybe, Hopalong Freud, or The Decline and Fall of Practically Everybody.

Well, believe it or not, old J. Henry Senior was so proud he wore the book out showing it to his Rheumatic Cronies before he ever got a chance to read it himself. And every time he showed it off, he said "I didn't think the little Bustard knew I could read!"

You too can spread happiness among the Aged, and pave the road to a pleasant Summer. —adv.
