

Wolfcubs Blast Tar Baby Nine, 11-4

State Rally In Second Wins Game

By Bill Hughes

The Tar Baby baseballers wound up their 1951 season yesterday afternoon in inglorious fashion by dropping a wild 11-4 tilt to the N. C. State freshmen at Emerson Stadium.

State cashed in on two Carolina errors, two walks and some powerful hitting in the second inning to tally five runs and grab a lead which they didn't lose throughout the course of the game.

John Yvars started the inning for State with a drive to center field good for a base hit. But Sonney Clifton of Carolina let the ball get away from him, and Yvars went all the way on the error to score the Wolfpacks first run.

Landslide

The Tar Babies' troubles had just begun. Jim Stevenson grounded out, Kim Buchanan drew a walk and Tom Reeves got on by a fielders choice which retired Buchanan at second. Hugh Laughridge then smashed a powerful drive over the head of John Groome for a four-bagger.

After Bob Gardner reached first on an infield error, L. A. Greene tripled to bring across another State run. Carl Wyles singled to score Greene, and Yvars, on his second time at bat in the inning, fanned out to close it up.

Good Start

State's rally came after the Tar Babies had made a substantial start in the first. Lead-off man Charlie Yelverton flew out to left field, but three successive

Carolina Intramural Athletes Have Tied For First Place In Big Four Meet

By Buddy Northart

Carolina's Mural athletes came away from the Annual Big Four Intramural Field Day at Duke Tuesday with 23 points and a tie for first place with N. C. State. The Tar Heels took first place in table tennis, volleyball and tennis; won second place in handball; third place in softball, with a tie for third in golf; and fourth place in horseshoes.

Carolina got off to a slow start in volleyball, losing its first game to Wake Forest. The locals came back strong, however, to win the next two games. In the second game of the finals against Duke the Tar Heels overcame a 14-9 lead and went on to win, 17-15. Steve Jones captained the team composed of L. Koerig, Weddel Hargis, Sam Cathran, Jim Landis, singles by Joe Mosier, Bruce Holt and Fred Dale, were good for one tally. After Jack Mitchell drew a free trip Holt scored on a fielders choice which retired John Groome at first. Sonney Clifton wound up the inning via the strike out route.

Carolina came back in the third to score two unearned runs. In the remainder of the game they were unable to take advantage of several opportunities for further scoring.

State, on the other hand, went on to pile up six more runs for their overwhelming win.

The table tennis team was composed of singles aces Clark Taylor and Hugh Barrett, while Phi Kap Sig furnished the doubles team.

Ager, Sylvia Will Captain Tennis Team

Bob Luxenburg and Del Sylvia have been elected co-captains of Carolina's 1952 tennis team.

Luxenburg, a senior from New York, N. Y., has one more year of eligibility left. He recently teamed with Bud Ager to win the Southern Conference doubles championship.

Sylvia, a rising junior from Richmond, Va., was seeded first in the recent Southern Conference Tournament, but lost the Conference singles title to Ager. Sylvia played in the No. 1 position for Carolina this year.

Both boys played exceptionally well during the past season and Coach John Kenfield is counting on them to form the nucleus of his 1952 team which will defend three Southern Conference titles—singles, doubles, dual meet—won by this year's team.
