professor of nursing in the Nursing School.

The announcement was made today by Chancellor Robert B. House, Dr. Robert R. Cadmus, Hospital Administrator, and Dean Elizabeth Kemble of the Nursing School.

Miss Spalding will assume her duties here in October at which time she will start developing her staff which is estimated to include over 125 registered nurses. It is said that the nursing service will account for about 30 per cent of the University Hospital personnel.

Miss Spalding took her basic nursing education at Washington University School of Nursing, received her B.S. degree in nursing there in 1935, and her M.S. at Western Reserve University in 1946. She won a Public Health Nursing certificate in 1939 and a certificate in nursing administration in 1946.

She served in the capacities of staff nurse, head nurse, supervisor and superintendent of nurses at St. Louis Maternity Hospital and instructor in the Washington University School of Nursing from 1931 to 1938; was with the itinerant nursing service of the

Religion

The first holder of the James A. Gray Chair of Religion in the University—Dr. Bernard H. Anderson—is the author of a volume entitled "Rediscovering the Bible," which is being widely praised by critics and which has been chosen by the Religious Book-of-the-Month Club as its current selection.

Dr. Anderson, now Joseph B. Hoyt Professor of Old Testament Interpretation in Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, taught in the University Department of Religion from 1948-50, and his book, he says, was written in close cooperation with students in the University at that time.

Dr. Monroe

Dr. David G. Monroe, associate professor in the Department of Political Science of the University, will present a paper on "Current Developments in Police Training—Nationwide" before the annual meeting of the American Bar Association in New York City Sept. 17-21.

Dr. Monroe is chairman of the Association's Committee on Police Training and Administration of the Selection of Criminal Law.

American Red Cross in the mid-western area in 1939-40; was an instructor and later assistant professor in the Western Reserve University School of Nursing from 1940 to 1942 and in 1946.

From 1942 to 1945 Miss Spalding was in the Army Nurse Corps, serving as chief nurse with the 21st General Hospital.

provals, and allocations of controlled materials.

Although the building program as a whole is lagging about six months behind schedule, the Manning Hall law library addition is near enough to completion for most of it to be used now, and some sections of the Library addition, to be completed in January, are currently in use.

Completed are the University filter plant and the telephone building.

The new three-building commerce school is expected to be opened by March.

The new men's dormitory, which will house 400, is under construction on the Country Club road next to the Monogram Club, and should be completed by February and ready for occupancy latter two on defense. Britt may be kept out by a leg injury.

The Tar Heels tapered off workouts yesterday and kept contact work to a minimum. Special attention was given to kickoffs and kickoff returns, kicking extra points by Abie Williams, and Billy Williams, and quick-kicking by Bud Wallace.

The injury list remained the same with only halfback Chal Port definitely out of the game. He had his appendix removed three weeks ago and is not expected to return to the lineup until the Texas game two weeks off. Of the doubtful list are guards Doc Venters and Jimmy Neville and Back Louis Britt.

by spring quarter. It is not affected by the carpenters strike since it is a non-union project.

Percentages of completion of other buildings, according to Chief Engineer H. E. Thompson's September report are as follows: power plant, 90 per cent; addition to the chemistry building, 8.7 per cent; dental school, 0.7 per cent; new laundry building, 4.7 per cent; nurses and intern's buildings, 30.2 per cent; hospital roads and drives, zero per cent (bids were asked for last week and actual work has not yet begun.)

USED TEXTS

To S-T-R-E-T-C-H Your Dollars

Prices on new texts get higher and higher. Even used texts have a mean bite now-a-days. But we've done our best to stock books at prices as merciful as the times allow, and we think it will pay you to check up.

For instance, we have used copies of:

- Brooks and Watson—Modern Rhetoric
- Ferguson and McHenry—The American Federal Govt.
- Four Great American Novels
- Introduction to Historical Geology
Plus dirt cheap editions of
- Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn
- Neuf Contes Choisis de Daudet
- The Scarlet Letter

BRING IN YOUR OLD TEXTS:

We buy most any used text, but we particularly need:

- Crockford and Knight
Physical Chemistry
- Wish
Contemporary America
- Ogburn and Nimkoff
Sociology
- Barck, Wakefield and Lefler
The United States
- Weatherwax
