Dates Set For Elections Of Dormitory Officers

Election times for dormitory officers and a new delegate from each dorm to Council meetings were announced by the Interdormitory Council at its meeting Monday night.

Nominations for candidates will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 2. Elections will be held on Oct. 9 and runoffs, if necessary, on Oct. 11. Qualifications for the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer will be announced by those conducting the election work for the IDC.

A compulsory meeting of all candidates will be held Oct. 4. IDC officers will lead in an orientation program to acquaint prospective dorm officers with their jobs.

The by-laws of the Council will be adjusted to fit the new change created when the 18 advisors were dropped from membership in the group. In their place will be a representative from each dorm elected by fellow residents. The new delegate will have the same voting power in Council matters as did an advisor.

IDC President Bob Creed urged all dorm residents to start looking for "capable and conscientious" men for the posts. "The new Council will be faced with many problems and we will need leaders who will take an active part in IDC activities," he added.

Meanwhile, the new dorm advisory setup is getting an added boost. Advisors are attending a weekly training course on counseling and guidance techniques, William Cupp, head of the advisors, announced. The advisors heard Dr. Gordon Ellis of the Education department last night talk on counseling. Coach Walter Rabb, assistant baseball coach and intramural director, and his assistant, Bill Kucyk, talked to the group Monday night.

The program is intended to give advisors a broader understanding of counseling and their work in the dorm. "The course will improve their ability to give advice on academic or personal matters," Cupp declared.

Not Enough Males

Because of lack of response on the part of Carolina males, Averett College has had to invite boys from Duke and VPI to its dance this Saturday night, John Reibel of the YM reported late yesterday.

The men who are already signed to go are still invited to the Danville, Va. shindig, which is semi-formal, and those still wishing to go can, however, he said.

Student Party Announces New Officers, Years Plans

The first meeting of the Student Party was held Monday night in the Roland Parker Lounges in Graham Memorial. Chairman Julian Mason opened the meeting by welcoming old members and some 75 visitors who attended the meeting.

Tom Sumner was elected treasurer of the Party to replace John Vincent who did not return to school. Fred Coker was elected to the Student Legislature to fill the vacancy left in Men's Dormitory District 2 by Ralph Wad-

'Beat Georgia' Password At Friday Rally

A "beat Georgia" pep rally in the form of a torch light parade will be held Friday night. The parade, sponsored by the University Club will get under way at 7:30 p.m.

It will be formed in the parking lot behind Graham Memorial and will proceed to points of interest around the campus, terminating in Memorial Hall. There will be plenty of torches for anyone who wants to participate, according to Headleader Cy Minett.

More Faculty Changes

More changes have been announced in this year's faculty by South Building.

Victor A. Gruelach has been promoted to a full professor in the Department of Botany.

Leave has been granted to William A. White, associate professor of Geology, for one calendar year to serve as Professor in the University of Arequipa, Peru; and to Ivah R. Hershner, assistant professor of mathematics to serve in the military service.

The resignation of Charles H. Clarke, assistance professor in the School of Education, has been accepted in order that he may accept a position elsewhere.

Jenkins Accepts Position

The superintendent of the Durham County schools, Wilmer M. Jenkins, has resigned, effective November 15, to accept a position with the School of Education here.

In his duties here Jenkins will be chiefly concerned with teaching prospective teachers their basic courses and working specifically with teachers of mathematics and science. He will also dell, who changed his judiciary.

A full report was made on the National Student's Association Congress held at the University of Minnesota this summer by Dick Murphy, NSA's delegate to UNESCO, and Barry Farber, regional chairman of NSA. Murphy stated that NSA has formed plans to deal specifically with international problems. Farber told of some of his experiences with the organization and of his favorable attitude toward it.

No Epidemic In Hill Area, Garvin Says

"There is absolutely no fear of a polio epidemic in the Chapel Hill area," said Dr. O. David Garvin, public health officer, when questioned yesterday about cases reported here recently.

Leigh Skinner, manager of Le-noir Cafeteria, has been in Duke Hospital for treatment of polio since Saturday. Mrs. Robert B. Lindsay, wife of Dr. Lindsay of the University Infirmary, has also been stricken by the disease.

Dr. Garvin said that there are 50 per cent less cases reported this year than last year. No exact figures were available. He held a meeting of the physicians in the area who concluded that this is not of an epidemic nature, and that all is being done that can be done now.

be responsible for arranging and directing off-campus student teaching activities.

A native of Aulander, he has been superintendent of the Durham County schools since 1943. He began his public school career in 1931 in Ayden as a high school teacher.

Student Legislature Holds First Meeting Of Year Tomorrow

The first meeting of the Student Legislature will be held Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the Di Hall. Most of the business will be taken up by organization as many new appointments will be necessary due to resignations and changes of judiciary, according to Chairman Bunny Davis.

The budget will also come in for some consideration by the legislators. The budget was prepared last spring for an average enrollment of 4,000 and will have to be adjusted to the present enrollment of 5,500.

Following the meeting this week there will be an intermission of one week to allow time to fill the vacancies and make the new appointments.

Any visitors will be welcome and are requested to sit in the back in order not to cause confusion.

Hartig Is Coach

Don Hartig, former Carolina blocking back is head coach at Morganton High School this year.

He was assisted in the pre-season workouts earlier this month by Dub Hord, a senior at Carolina and a former Tar Heel guard.

Strict Silence Is Asked To End Dirty Rushing

Conservation between fraternity men and prospective rushees will be limited to a simple greeting until rushing starts October

7, the Interfraternity Council ruled at its meeting Monday night.

The Council acted on a recommendation by the IFC Court that "modified silence be abolished and strict silence" be substituted in its place.

Klan To Hold N.C. Meeting

Highway 701 between Whiteville and Tabor City will be the scene this Saturday of a Ku Klux Klan public meeting at 8:30 p.m., Grand Dragon Thomas Hamilton of the Association of Carolina Klans said yesterday.

Klan handbills posted yesterday and today termed the assembly a "public speaking" and added a challenge.

The handbills stated, "Bill Hendrix, Grand Dragon of Florida, has challenged the president of the North Carolina Jaycees to a public debate.

Carolina's Grand Dragon Hamilton recently threatened to sue the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce if it does not retract a resolution calling the Klan "un-American."

State Jaycee President Harry Stewart and his organization say they have no intention of doing so.

Agency To Manage Ball Game Travel

A new service to Carolina students will be offered this year by the Graham Memorial Travel Agency, according to an announcement made yesterday by Frank Allston, director of the Travel Agency.

Allston said that a file would be set up for the benefit of all students offering rides to any Carolina football games and for those seeking rides. There will be no charge for this service.

Allston suggested that anyone interested in utilizing this service for the Texas game on Oct. 6 contact him immediately at the Travel Agency. The Agency is open Monday through Friday from 2-4 o'clock and the telephone number is 9882.

AF Of L Strike Continues; Centers On Wage Dispute

Work stoppage on new construction on campus went into its third week as carpenters remained off the job because of two unsettled points in a proposed contract.

A 12 cents an hour wage increase was agreed on by both the A. F. of L. Carpenters Union and the employers but they couldn't agree on when the wage increase should go into effect.

Neither could they agree as to when the contract could be opened for further wage negotiations. The stoppage effects construction in the Durham-Chapel Hill area.

The carpenters want the wage increase to be retroactive to the first day of the strike and want to Fraternity interest cards are available at a table set up in the Y Court today for all freshmen who started school during the summer, the Interfraternity Council announced yesterday. Those wishing to be rushed for a fraternity should sign the card.

The IFC defines "strict silence" as "allowing fraternity men and prospective rushees to exchange salutations only." The old system of modified silence allowed fraternity men and rushees to talk about anything except fraternities.

The Council warned that any violation of this rule would be dealt with as such by the IFC Court. If a rushee is convicted of such a violation, he renders himself ineligible to join or be pledged by any fraternity at Carolina for a period of not more than six months.

In the case of a violation on the part of a fraternity, or one of its members, "a penalty of not being allowed to pledge or initiate a person over a period of twelve months may be placed on that fraternity," the IFC Rushing Rules state.

Johnny Robison, president of the IFC said Monday that "the action of the IFC in changing the rushing rules at this time was the result of complaints by fraternity men that modified silence was an open invitation to dirty rushing."

Hey Puffers!

There will be a meeting of Die Pfaffenraucher, the Carolina Pipe-Smokers Club, Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in 102 C Dormitory. Herb Telchman, the president of the organization, invited all interested pipe-smokers to attend. The club, the only one of its kind, will discuss plans for the fall quarter, including a coed-smoker and other social activities. Don't forget the matches.

be able to reopen the contract for further wage increase negotiations in six months if the rising cost of living warrants it.

The contractors do not want the six months clause in the contract but are willing to pay half the wage increase from the first day of the strike. A spokesman for the management said that the half way mark was as far as they could go.

J. B. Mills, Jr., business agent for the striking workers, said that the strike would go on until the dispute is settled. Mr. Mills said he knew of no further meetings scheduled with the Federal Mediator, Seth Brewer, to attempt to end the
