

Yanks Beat Giants, 3-1 Behind Lopat

Lefthander's Five-hitter Evens Series

Lefty Ed Lopat evened the World Series for the New York Yankees yesterday by allowing the New York Giants only five hits, three of them by Monte Irvin, as the Bronx Bombers won, 3-1, before 66,018 fans in Yankee Stadium.

Lopat was the hero of the day, but his pitching performance barely exceeded that of Larry Jansen, the Giants righthander who allowed only four hits, one of them being Joe Collins' second inning home run, in the six innings he worked.

The Yankees used bunting tactics and speed to score one run in the first inning and then scored their winning run in the second on an old Yankee trick—a home run.

Mickey Mantle and Phil Rizzuto bunted safely to open the first inning and on Rizzuto's bunt, Whitey Lockman threw wildly to Eddie Stanky, covering first, sending Mantle to third. A single by Gil McDougal scored Mantle, but Joe DiMaggio hit into a double play to end the inning.

With two out in the second, Joe Collins pumped a homer into the right field stands, 350 feet away for the run that meant the ball game.

Then Jansen and George Spencer, who relieved him in the seventh inning, got tough and retired 16 straight Yanks before Bobby Brown led off the eighth inning with a single.

The Giants got their run in the seventh when Monte Irvin opened with a single and later scored on a long fly by Bill Rigney. After Irvin singled, Whitey Lockman sent him to second with a short single to center. Willy Mays forced Lockman at second and Irvin went to third, and from there pinch-hitter Rigney brought him home.

LEFTY ED LOPAT, who stopped the New York Giants on five hits was the star in the Yankees' 3-1 World Series win yesterday.

Harriers Open Season At Richmond

RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 6—Cross-country tutor Dale Ranson and seven harriers from the University of North Carolina arrived here last night to make their 1951 debut against the University of Richmond here at two p.m. today.

Gordon Hamrick, team captain, Jack Bennett, Bob Barden, Mike Healy, Tony Houghton, Morris Osborne, and Bob Webba are the boys who will take their places at the starting line for the Blue and White. Of the seven, five have previous experience with the Tar Heels. For Barden and Houghton, both freshmen, this meet will mark their first intercollegiate competition. Hamrick is a senior, while Bennett, Healy, Osborne and Webb are third-year men.

The Tar Heels' adversaries enter this meet with one victory under their belt. Last week the Spider harriers nipped the Keydets from V.M.I. by 26-29.

short punt and T-formations all week and will likely spring one of the new attacks on the Longhorns who have been working all week to perfect a defense against the single-wing.

Carolina is the only Texas opponent that uses the old-fashioned single-wing although Southern Methodist employs a spread formation, the first cousin to the single-wing.

Texans have been singing the blues all week despite the impressive wins turned in against Purdue and Kentucky. The Longhorns will be missing some of their top men for the game.

Byron Townsend, the bulldozing fullback, injured the lower part of his back against Purdue last week and may be held out of action against the Tar Heels. June Davis, All-Conference guard last year, and Bill Georges, a defensive end, will definitely miss tomorrow's scrap.

Two other Texas linemen, Guard Sonny Sowell and Tackle Charles Genthner, were injured in pre-season workouts and probably will not get into action before next week.

Coach Ed Price of Texas said today that he is expecting a tough game from the Tar Heels and added that reports from Scout Eck Curtis have convinced the Longhorns that Carolina will be anything but a pushover.

Halfback Gib Dawson of Texas said, "It won't be the easiest game we will play this year and we will have to get out there and play like heck to win. From all I have heard they (the Tar Heels) have a mighty fine club this year."

Tomorrow's match will be the rubber game in the Carolina-Texas series. The Longhorns smothered Carolina here in 1947 when they romped to a 34-0 verdict. A year later Carolina turned the tables on the Texans, defeating them, 24-7, at Chapel Hill. The two teams have not met since 1948.

John Gaylord In Infirmary

Fullback John Gaylord of Charlotte, who was being groomed to run from the T-formation today against Texas, remained in the infirmary yesterday for observation. He was admitted to the infirmary Thursday morning with a swelling of the glands of the neck.

The next home football game on the Carolina's rugged slate for 1951 is the South Carolina scrap here October 13. Tickets are available to the general public.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

SHEEDY was a big walrus-flower. "All I ever get is the cold shoulder," he blubbered. So his roommate said: "Tusk, tusk, you old soak—try a new wrinkle on that messy hair: Wildroot Cream-Oil! Non-Alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Freeze your hair from annoying dryness and loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-nail Test!" Now Sheedy's really in the swim! Just sealed his engagement to a pretty young flapper—and he's about to wisker off to an ivory-covered cottage. So water you waiting fur? Get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil Hair Tonic at any drug or toilet goods counter! And ask your barber for professional applications. "Now," you'll say, "Ice sea why there's snow other hair tonic like Wildroot Cream-Oil!"
