CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

NUMBER 19 -A

Metropolitan Tenor Sings Here Nov. 9

R. Eugene Conely, Metropolitan Opera tenor, will appear on November 9, and the Longine Symphonette on January 17 it was announced by the Student Entertainment Committee today.

"SEC has had a drastic cut in the budget from last year, but we hope to maintain the same type and standard of the presentations," said Charlie Brewer, chairman of the committee. SEC gets its appropriations through the student legislature.

As usual, students will be admitted free with the presentation of ID cards.

Brewer said that the schedule is not yet complete and any suggestions or improvements are welcome.

H. V. Murray, Bob Simmons and Barbara Chandler are the new members who have been appointed to SEC. Larry Peerce and Duffield Smith are old student members, and Sam Selden, Olin T. Mouzon and William S. Newman are the faculty members.

Every Tar Heel on campus this weekend will be wearing a card similar to the one pictured at the right. The card is part of the 'Get Acquainted Weekend' program being sponsored by the Grail and the YWCA.

Grail "Get Acquainted" Weekend Begins Today

"Get Acquainted" weekend begins officially today and all students are urged to wear the Tar Heel cards which will be distributed from a booth at the "Y" all day today and tomorrow morning.

The Grail, aided by the YWCA, is sponsoring this new idea for a weekend and "Get Acquainted" chairman Ed Love hopes all students will cooperate so that UNC may become a friendlier campus. He also urges the students to wear the cards throughout the whole weekend.

Climax of the weekend will be

With music by Bill Byers and the Cavaliers of Duke and Carolina, the dance will be held in Woollen Gymnasium from 9 until 12 o'clock. Tickets will be on sale at the door. Tickets are $1 stag and 75 cents per couple.

This Grail dance is the second of four which the campus honorary organization will sponsor this fall. The first of these dances was the Greater University Day Dance following the State game and other dances will be held after the Tennessee and Notre Dame games.

Proceeds from Grail dances go into a fund which the Order uses to pay for scholarships and loans which it annually makes to students and for worthwhile campus activities which the Grail endorses.

The Homecoming Dance will be the climax of the "Get Acquainted Weekend" which the Grail is sponsoring in conjunction with the YWCA.

Grail dances are open to everyone on campus and are offered at lower rates so that every student may take advantage of them.

Johnny Long's Band To Play For Germans

Johnny Long, Blue Devil alumnus, who will appear here with his orchestra for the German Club dance scheduled for November 2.

Blue Devil alumnus Johnny Long will have his musicians on hand to make with the music for the Fall Germans scheduled for November 2, the Tennessee weekend, according to Jake Froelich, Germans Club president.

Instead of the usual two dances, one each on Friday and Saturday nights, there will be only one on Friday night this fall, the Germans club reports.

This is due, the club spokesman says, to the larger attendance at the Friday night dances in the past.

A concert will be held Friday afternoon before the dance. The game with Tennessee Saturday afternoon will top off the weekend.

The club urged that everyone planning on having an import down should buy their football tickets early. The game promises to be a sellout, and the tickets are going fast, according to the Athletic Association.

Long started his career at Duke University and comes to this campus for the first time since making a name for himself.

"Long has been wanting to come to Carolina for one of the Germans for a long time and we have finally brought him due to student demand," says Jim Schenck, club member.

Club officers other than Froelich are Billy Quarles, vice-president, Chuck Haywood, treasurer, and Bill Bostic, secretary.

Bowdoin Chapter Quits National

(Special to The Daily Tar Heel)

Brunswick, Me., October 11—The Bowdoin College chapter of Delta Upsilon fraternity divorced itself from the national fraternity yesterday in preference to complying with an order that they dismiss a Negro member.

Since a Negro student was rushed and pledged in November 1950, the 93-year-old Bowdoin fraternity has been under suspension.

The student president of the Delta Upsilon chapter here, John A. Ritsher of Longmeadow, Mass., said yesterday that the national fraternity had "made it clear that the pledging of any student of Negro descent will be considered an unfraternal act," and that his fraternity would rather divorce itself from the national group than comply with its racial policy.

House, Fetzer To Star In Pep Rally Tonight

Harmonica playing "Hillbilly" House and "Coach Bob" Fetzer, of the Athletic Association, will star in the "Beat South Carolina Pep Rally" in Memorial Hall tonight at 7:30.

It will be one "of the biggest pep rallies of the year," according to Duffield Smith, University club president.

House, who normally acts as Chancellor of the University, will entertain the group of football team supporters with several of his remarkable harmonica selections.

Fetzer, Smith says, will appear in what will be the first "opportunity for the freshmen to hear and view the man who has done more for Carolina in the field of sports than any other man in her history."

Theme of the pep rally, he explained, will be for the "Tar Heels to knock the game out of the South Carolina Gamecocks. We want to show the team that we are still behind them and that we are expecting them to run hog-wild over the birds."

The University Band will be there, too.

Jo Grogan, current head of the Card Board, will give a preview of Tomorrow's card stunts.

South Building bells will begin ringing at 7:15 to summon remaining supporters of the twice-defeated football team to the rally, a traditional pre-game activity.

G M Football Contest

Graham Memorial's football contest will be run again this week with the prize for the most correct answers being the same as previous.

The games in this week's contest are:

N. C. State vs Duke; William and Mary vs Wake Forest; Yale vs Columbia; Maryland vs Georgia; Navy vs Rice; Kansas vs Utah; Minnesota vs Northwestern.

Notre Dame vs S.M.U.; Oklahoma vs Texas; Wisconsin vs Ohio State; Washington and Lee vs Virginia; California vs Washington State; Oregon State vs Southern Calif.; Stanford vs U.C.L.A.;

Auburn vs Florida; Mississippi vs Vanderbilt; Tulane vs Holy Cross; Richmond vs West Virginia; V.P.I. vs George Washington; Baylor vs Arkansas; and CAROLINA vs SOUTH CAROLINA.

Tomorrow!!!

Scoop!! Flash! . . . Stop the presses. A safari sent out from this office has observed the elusive OYCI . . . has tracked him to his lair . . . has seen his foul feeding habits . . . has heard his wild and sloppy mating cry. Our regged in yesterday, their squirrel guns still smoking. They were ambushed by a crowd of savage OYCI's in the Y Court. - Watch tomorrow's paper.

Plans Made For UN Day

Tentative plans for the October 24 United Nations Day were made at an October 8 meeting in Town Hall attended by representatives of both Chapel Hill and the University. The holiday which has been annually celebrated since 1945, is official by a presidential proclamation.

Civic clubs from Carrboro and Chapel Hill are planning programs for the day. Films about the United Nations will be shown at the local theaters and speakers have been invited to speak in the town and at the University.

The theme set forth and taken from a presentation of an Oscar Hammerstein, II, production for this year is "More Than a Dream."

Quota Over By 38 Pints

Some 438 pints of blood were donated yesterday to the Red Cross bloodmobile to exceed its quota by 38 pints.

Yesterday's volunteers, mostly students, contributed 223 pints to top Wednesday's 215 pint figure and go over the 400 pint goal set by Red Cross officials.

The blood was immediately packed in ice and shipped to Charlotte for processing. It will go directly to Korea after final packing.

Last year, students donated blood in two drives, meeting the quota in one of them. The bloodmobile will be back here in April. Next week it goes to Durham.

R.H. Wettach, chairman of the drive, thanked all donors and volunteers who helped in the campaign. More than 70 volunteers, mostly Red Cross Gray Ladies, were on the job as assistant nurses and receptionists. Members of the Air Force and Naval ROTC units turied out in large numbers to help boost the number of donations.

No Sorry Seniors

Central Records report that there are 1,096 seniors in the undergraduate school at Carolina.

Only about 200 of these have had their class pictures taken for the 1952 Yackety Yack.

If you are a senior, you are reminded that today, Friday, October 12, is the last chance you have to get your picture in the yearbook. Interested seniors are invited to come by second floor of Graham Memorial today between 1 and 9 since, no sad "I couldn't come because . . ." stories will be listened to Monday. The photographers won't even be here, and last year's picture cannot be run.

Girls wear white blouses and boys wear white shirts, coats and ties. "Don't be a Sorry Senior—Come Today!" Sue Lindsey, Yackety Yack editor, says.
