

The Daily Tar Heel

VOLUME LX

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1951

NUMBER 38

Carolina Is Underdog Against Top-Rated Vols

By Bill Peacock

The battered Carolina football team, winner of only two games in six starts this year, has an almost hopeless task here today when it takes on Tennessee, the nation's most powerful team. The kickoff at Kenan Stadium is set for 2 p.m.

A capacity crowd will be on hand to watch the Vols try and uphold their position as Number One team in the nation. Tennessee has been made a two or three touchdown favorite.

A wet field today, will further the Tar Heel's plight. Carolina will have to depend upon its

Grail Dance Ends Week

The third in a series of four informal dances sponsored by the Order of the Grail will be held tonight in Woollen Gym from 9 until 12. Bill Byers and the Duke Cavaliers will be on hand to furnish the music.

Tickets will be on sale at the door and the price is 75 cents per couple and $1 for stag.

The proceeds for this dance, as for the previous dances, will go to an annual scholarship fund and for other worthwhile campus activities. The Grail sponsors dances after the State and South Carolina games. They will sponsor one after the Notre Dame game.

Group Plans Parties For Men's Dorms

A Student Government committee studying campus recreation and social life has found that "Carolina spirit" is dying. It believes the cause to be from the lacking interest in dorm life.

In order to boost the fading pride among Carolina students, the committee, with the approval of the Dean of Student's and Dean of Women's offices, plans a program of recreation for the dorm residents. The plan which is to be initiated next Friday night includes informal parties to be held in the parlors of women's dormitories at regularly scheduled dates. One men's dormitory will be invited to attend each party.

Since the number of men's dorms is three times as great as that of the women's, a systematic means of division has been arranged to match up the dorm residents with the parties.

Social committees of both the women's and men's dorms will work with the Recreation Club to provide entertainment for the party-goers.

A survey will be held in the dormitories this week-end to find out the degree of student interest in the program and to obtain suggestions for planned recreation. The committee asks that everyone cooperate with the survey in order that the program may be a success.

Delegate Attends First National Meet

North Carolina was represented at the first National Conference of the newly formed Adult Education Association of the U. S. in Los Angeles, where adult education leaders from all parts of the country gathered this week to discuss "Working Together for Better Communities."

Russel M. Grumman, Director of the Extension Division, attended the Delegate Assembly as the official representative of the members of the Association living in North Carolina.

During the Conference Mr. Grumman met with representatives from the Southeastern states to make plans for a regional conference on adult education to be held in Chapel Hill next spring.

He participated in a series of discussions on the role of adult education in the establishment of national security and attended the special interest group meeting on general adult education in colleges and universities.

One of the features of the conference was the Adult Education Assembly held in the Hollywood Bowl which was attended by over 17,000 students from the Los Angeles city adult schools. The combined orchestras and choruses of the Adult Schools provided an unusually good musical program.

"Within the theme of the Conference, delegates studied how to improve family relations, democratic citizenship, vocational preparation, and life after retirement," Grumman said.

Football De-emphasis

Lady Golfers Ruining Turf By Playing On Kenan Field

by Donna Hauck

This is the year of the de-emphasis of football. You can't point your finger at us coeds and say we're not doing our part.

OK, so we're seen more often in the company of huge husky brutes with broken noses and frequently on crutches. Maybe we like helpless men or more likely we're all disappointed nurses. Besides, our favorite color sweater just happens to be any old navy blue thing—so long as it has a huge monogram on it.

Another reason for the perpetual interest in football players on Carolina's campus is the delicious ice cream they serve in the Circus room.

But back to de-emphasis—have you noticed the chuck (that's a mid-west term meaning "throw him over he doesn't play football") holes on Kenan field? They're meant to trip up the opposition, but it seems the Tar Heels are the more susceptible to the feminine lures. These holes can be ordered through the Women's Physical Education department. They come in all sizes and can be located anywhere on the field. They all have a common

Dedication Of Addition Scheduled For Today

Dedication ceremonies for the new addition to the University's Law School, one of the oldest State University legal institutions in the country, will be held in the new courtroom in Manning Hall this morning at 10:30.

Grail Gives Five Awards

The Grail Scholarship winners of 1951-52 were announced yesterday by Dr. D. D. Carroll, chairman of the University Scholarship committee.

The Order of the Grail has again donated funds sufficient to award five scholarships of $150 each for this school year.

Winners are Albert Louis Allred, Mt. Airy, junior; Wiley Eugene Auman, High Point, junior; John Robert Baggett,

Lillington, junior; Joseph Dail,

Tarboro, junior; and Fred Alton

Neal, Jr., Greensboro, sophomore.

Grail Scholarship awards are made each year on the basis of high scholastic record, participation in outside student activities and contribution to the welfare of the student body, and need for the earning part of the University expenses.

Several years ago the Grail endowed a number of scholarships and since then the Grail has been able to add to the original endowment by using net receipts from the Grail sponsored dances.

Besides members of the State Supreme Court and their wives, Lt. Governor H. Patrick Taylor, representing the State, University officials, members of the legal professions and guests will be present to celebrate the formal dedication of the new structure.

The building doubles the physical facilities of the school, making it one of the best plants for its size in the country. The Law School was founded in 1845 when Kemp P. Battle was made Professor of Law.

Principal speaker for the ceremonies is Dean F. D. G. Ribble of the Law School of the University of Virginia, who will talk on the "Spiritual Values in Legal Education."

The program will include brief addresses by Dean Henry Brandis, Jr., Law School Association President Knox Walker, President Gordon Gray, Lt. Gov. Taylor, Speaker of the House W. Frank Taylor, Chief Justice W. A. Devin, Attorney General Harry McMullan, State Bar President Louis J. Poisson, President W. A. Leland of the State Bar Association, and Dr. Robert H. Weitach, former dean and member of the Law School faculty. Rev. David Yates of the Church of the Cross will give the invocation and benediction.

(See CEREMONIES Page 5)

Alumnus' Poems To Be Published

ELON COLLEGE, Nov. 3—The first volume of collected poetry by John Foster West, associate professor of English at Elon College and UNC alumnus, will be released December 1, 1951, according to a late announcement by the publisher, Payton, Paul Publishing Co., of New York.

The book, entitled "up ego!" will contain twenty-seven poems, some of which have appeared previously in periodicals and one of which was first prize winner in a contest.

Prof. West was graduated from the University in 1947 with an AB in English and Journalism and received his M.A. degree in English from here in August of 1949. He has recently done further work here toward a Ph.D.

Alumni Meeting

There will be a fall meeting of the University's Alumni Board at 11:30 a.m. today in the Moorehead Building.

Board members and their wives will be served a buffet luncheon in the Moorehead dining room at noon.

Following the luncheon-meeting, the members will be guests of the University at the football game.

Probable offensive lineup:

Carolina	Pos.	Tennessee
O'Brien	LE	J. Davis
Ruffin	LT	Stokes
Yarborough	LG	Campbell
Miketa	C
Gruver	RG	Michels
Higgins	RT	Haslam
Baker	RE	Kaslam
Hesmer	QB	Hahn
Gant	RH	Rechichar
Williams	LH	Lauricella
Wies	FB	Kozar

UP Completes Election Slate

The University Party completed its slate of candidates for fall elections in a committee meeting Thursday night.

Scheduled to run on the UP ticket are:

Student Council: Jake Froehlich, Jim Adams and John Dorch.

Town Men II: Bucky Barkley (Year terms) Joseph Parker (six-month terms) and Brock McMullen (Six-month terms).

Senior Class Social Chairman: Mary Nell Boddie.