

UNC Harriers Second In Big Five Meet

State Wins; Red Garrison Leads 'Pack

by Alva Stewart

Raleigh, Nov. 5.—Clyde Garrison and Joe Shockley, a pair of fleet-footed harriers, sparked the N. C. State cross-country squad to its second consecutive Big Five victory here this afternoon. Both of the red-jerseyed runners crossed the finish line together, turning in a time of 19:59.5 for the four mile course.

The Wolfpack captured the win handily with a total of 23 points, while Coach Dale Ranson's Carolina distance men, led by Captain Gordon Hamrick, gained second place with 58 points. Davidson garnered 80 points for the third spot, and Duke's Blue Devils took last place with 99 points. Wake Forest did not enter a team.

Five of the first ten finishers were Wolfpack harriers. Behind Garrison and Shockley, in order, were Tom Stockton (Davidson), Gordon Hamrick (Carolina), Eddie Beall (State), John Tate (Duke), Buzz Sawyer (State), John Smith (State), Bob Webb (Carolina), and Dick Stockton (Davidson). Hamrick ran the course in 20:22, while Webb's time was 20:54. Bob Barden, Tar Heel freshman, finished 12th in the forty-man field. Other Carolina entries in the annual meet were Jack Bennett, Russ Glatz, Mike Healy, Tony Houghton, Al Marx, Morris Osborne, and Ed Vobel.

Bob Marshall of Duke took the lead in the race and held it for a half mile before being overtaken by Shockley and Garrison, who never relinquished the lead. Barden was fourth at the half-way mark, but he dropped back to 8th at the three-quarters mark. Occupying seventh place at the mid-way mark, Hamrick gradually picked up speed and finished strong.

Individual trophies were awarded to the first ten finishers, while State Captain Bobby Leonard, who finished 20th, was presented the team trophy. Wolfpack mentor Tom Fitzgibbons beamed approvingly as Leonard accepted the handsome gold-plated trophy. A coin was flipped to determine the individual winner, with Garrison getting the nod over Shockley.

Coaches for the four teams are: Dale Ranson (C), Tom Fitzgibbons (S), Heath Whittle (D), and H. M. Lewis (Duke).

The Tar Heels jaunt to Charlottesville, Virginia for their final dual meet of the current season Saturday. Next Monday the Carolina runners participate in the annual Southern Conference meet at Duke.

UNC Sailing Club Is Trying To Promote Southern Loop

Under the leadership of Gib Schaeffer and Bill Lawrey, the investigators of sailing for Carolina students, the Sailing Club is attempting, by re-organization, to strengthen its internal organization and its University affiliations with the purpose of promoting a Southern Intercollegiate Sailing Association.

Last year, the National Intercollegiate Sailing Association suggested that Carolina attempt to organize Southern sailing, but the Carolina club's position was much to insecure on its own campus to attempt any activities at other colleges. However this year the club feels permanent enough to try to help other colleges organize. Already the Sailing Club has been responsible for the appearance of a club at Duke which began its competition at Annapolis last weekend. The Duke club has been lucky enough to be favored not only with Carolina's help but also the presence of a transfer from Southern California who has been the Pacific Coast Champion for the past two years.

The Sailing Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at West House in the Old Fraternity Row. The meeting, at which officers will be elected, is open to all interested students.

Up until this year the Sailing Club has been operating independent of the University, transporting its members large distances at the Club expense. For obvious reasons the Club would like to have more help from the Athletic Association which was kind enough to help a little this year when an emergency transportation problem arose. Last, but far from least, the Club is interested in greater coed participation, which that has also improved this year.

UNC Sailors Second In 3-Way Meet

The Carolina sailing team placed second in a triangular meet against George Washington University and Maryland University on the Potomac River in Washington Sunday, scoring 56 points to G. W.'s 66, and Maryland's 40.

Fred McWhenny and Hal Sigman were high-point crews for the Tar Heels, taking a first, four seconds and a fourth in the six races. The regatta was marked by high seas and heavy winds, but G. W. Commodore Bob Harwood handled his boat excellently to place as high score for the meet.

The Tar Heels were handicapped by their lack of practice as a team.

Boaters Play

The undefeated Carolina soccer team plays the Duke booters in Durham today in a game starting at 3:30 p.m. The Tar Heels whipped the Blue Devils, 3-2 here last week on a last period score by Jerry Russell.
