Phi Debates Korean War Acts Tonight

Tonight the Phi Assembly debates a proposal that UN troops either carry warfare and air bombardment to Chinese territory or withdraw from Korea entirely.

Proponents of the bill argue that so far nothing has been accomplished in the Korean War except a great deal of unnecessary loss of American life. The position taken by General MacArthur is the only logical position it is claimed.

Opponents claim the bill is unwise and that the action proposed would only result in a third World War. It is the desire and purpose of the UN to contain the war and to prevent further aggression. This cannot and would not be done by invading China. Rather every peaceful attempt should be made to end the conflict as is being done.
