

Billy Williams Out For Virginia Game

Carolina Is Underdog By 6 Points

The Carolina football team, which can use all the help it can get, received a blow yesterday when it was learned that first string Tailback Billy Williams will not be able to play in the Virginia game Saturday. Williams and Tackle Bill Kuhn, who was previously thought to be out for the game, will not make the trip.

Williams injured his knee in practice early this week. Kuhn was hurt against Wake Forest and may not be able to play for the remainder of the season. Backs John Gaylord, Chal Port and George Foti have been out with minor injuries but should see action against the Cavaliers.

Virginia has been installed as a 6-point favorite over the Tar Heels. The Cavaliers have a surprising 5-1 record for the season and hold decisive wins over George Washington, VPI, VMI, Duke and The Citadel, all by 20 points or better. The only defeat was a stunning 42-14 setback at the hands of Washington and Lee.

Running from the split-T Coach Art Guepe's charges are way up for this game, hoping to make it two in a row over the Tar Heels. Last year the boys in Orange and Blue routed Carolina by a 44-13 score in a game that resembled this year's Wake Forest contest.

Leading the Virginia offense will be Quarterback Rufus Barkley. A senior from Charles, S. C., Barkley broke into the starting lineup last year and proved himself a fine field general and passer. The 167-pounder played his finest game against Carolina last year when he completed 10 of 17 passes for 166 yards and 3 touchdowns.

The quarterback slot could easily fall to Mel Roach of Roanoke. Roach was such a surprise to the Virginia coaching staff that he wasn't even listed in the football brochure. He is one of the reasons that the Cavaliers have done well this season. He has scored once himself, and kicked 15 extra points to be tied for third in individual scoring honors. Roach has supplied the spark that makes the Virginia running attack work.

At the halfback positions the Cavaliers will start two scatbacks; Jimmy Ashwell, a 170-pound speedster from Herndon, Va., and Gordon Granger, a 165-pound flash from Charlottesville. Ashwell is tied for the team's leading scorer with 24 points. He has 166 yards rushing for a 4.3 yards per try average. Granger is averaging 4.6 yards per trip.

Two other fine backs for the Cavaliers are Harold Hoak, tied for the leading scorer, and Bobby Pate who is averaging 4.4 yards a carry.

The big surprise of the team has been Fullback Jerry Furst. Benched before the season started

CENTER ANDY MIKETA, a senior from Baden, Pa., has been one of the bright spots in the Carolina offensive line. The 192-pound pivot man has been a real husiler and has won high praise from the coaching staff for his aggressive play.

Duke Tickets Go On Sale Monday

On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Nov. 12, 13, and 14, Carolina students who plan to attend the Duke game in Durham Nov. 24 may secure at Woollen Gym for one dollar, coupons which may be exchanged at the Duke Stadium the day of the game for reserved seats in the Carolina student section. These tickets are not transferable and students will be required to present ID cards and pass books.

Tickets for wives of students will be available at $3.50 each.

Tickets for dates and guests will be put on sale to students Thursday, Nov. 14, provided any space remains. These tickets will sell for $3.50.

because of excess weight, Furst looked so good in practice that he finally got a chance against VMI. He has been the number one fullback ever since. The 183-pound senior has gained 224 yards in 37 carries for a 6.0 average.

The defensive line which has held the opposition to 63 points, is led by Guard Joe Palumbo, team captain. The rest of the defensive line is intact, the same one that he the Tar Heels to -20 yards rushing last year; Tom Scott and Paul Phipps, ends; Joe Mehalick and Bob Miller, tackles; Palumbo and Tom Ford, guards. The secondary has Bob Gut and Herman Catling, linebackers; Tom Berry and Bob Tata, halfbacks; and Jimmy Lesane, safety.

Virginia Tickets

There are a few tickets for the Virginia game left at the Woollen Gym ticket office. About 1500 tickets have been sold to Carolina students.

Officials expect a near capacity crowd in Charlottesville, but there should be tickets left for those who want to buy them there. The Cavaliers' Scott Stadium holds over 30,000 people.

Is Your Car WINTERIZED?

Winter is really upon us, and it's necessary to prepare your car for those cold months ahead. Don't let winter catch you unprepared.

For quick starts these cold mornings you need the right grade of oil, a strong battery, a complete lubrication job, and anti-freeze in your car. For any of these Winterizing needs drive by—

Herbert Pendergraft's
VILLAGE
Service Station
Opposite Bus Station

Tennis Team Plays Virginia With Four Frosh On Team

Carolina's tennis team will play its first match of the year this afternoon at Virginia, with four freshmen in the six singles positions. Five of the six have never played tennis in intercollegiate competition.

The Tar Heel racketmen lost their Number One man in both singles and doubles when Del Silvia pulled a muscle in his leg while wrestling. Freshman Sammy Handle will be in the number one spot today in Silvia's place, in singles and doubles. Handle, a Philadelphian, is a Navy veteran and has considerable tournament experience.

Freshmen will also be in the second and third positions in singles. Herb Browne, who will be playing on the same courts that he played on when he won the Schoolboy Championship, will be Carolina's Number Two man, and Bobby Payne, Virginia Schoolboy Champ from Richmond, is slated to play as Number Three. Browne, who is from Columbia, and Payne will be the Number One doubles team.

Playing at four will be Bill Isler, a junior and the only man on the squad with varsity experience. Ronnie Kadasha, another freshman, is the fifth man, and either Dick Sapp or Bill Thompson will play six. Handle and Isler will play second doubles, and Kadasha and Sapp, third.

Tennis Coach John Kenfield expects to get a line on his team's performance in competition, but he doesn't expect to win the match. He hopes for the best, though, and said "The boys want to win—you just can't be overly optimistic with five of them inexperienced."

The Cavaliers have an excellent team, with most of last year's squad returning. Bill Young, the Virginia Number One man last year, is back, and the Cavaliers are heavy favorites to beat Carolina.

This will be the first pre-season match the Tar Heels have scheduled with Virginia since before the war when the tennis team played the Cavaliers every Thanksgiving, just as the football team did. The matches were discontinued when the football games came too late in the winter, and are being revived now that Virginia has been moved up on the grid schedule.

COMPLETE
ARROW LINE
AT ---

Varley's
MEN'S SHOP

nothing clannish about
Arrow Plaids
...they're the best-liked
sports shirts on campus!

with the new
Arrowfold collar $4.50 up

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDBANDANNES

THE COMPLETE ARROW LINE AT—
THE
Sport SHOP
N. COLUMBIA ST.

Shoe Prices Slashed to Pre-Korean Level

BUY NOW AND SAVE

Bills Mailed Home at Your Request

Milton's Clothing Cupboard

163 E. Franklin St.—Dial 27708