

PREYER TO SPEAK HERE

On Tuesday night, November 20th, Mr. A. T. Preyer, chairman of the Morse International Advertising Agency of New York, will speak in Gerrard hall at 7:30. The subject of his talk is a pertnent one for all students, "After College—What?"

The public is cordially invited to attend the speech which is co-sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity and the placement service.

Denmark Films To Be Shown

Johannes Laursen of Copenhagen, Denmark, member of the staff of the Danish Information Office in New York, will show films on Denmark and speak on "Denmark Today" in Room 403 of the Alumni Building tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

His appearance here is being sponsored by Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary sociology fraternity, and his lecture is open to the public. Roland J. Pellegrin, graduate student in sociology and president of the fraternity, will preside.

Laursen will also address several classes in sociology on child care and other welfare projects of the Danish government.

Before coming to this country, Laursen, a former newspaperman was public relations director for the Danish Ministry of Commerce. He holds the degree of Cand. Polit. from the University of Copenhagen.

Modern Art Exhibit

In conjunction with the exhibit, "What Is Modern Painting?" on display in Person Hall Art Gallery through November 26, George Kachergis of the Art Department will talk on the display and will show slides Friday, Nov. 9 at 8 o'clock in the Gallery. The public is invited.

Kachergis will also discuss important trends in art during the past 75 years in an effort to help those who feel puzzled when confronted by examples of modern art.

NC Speech Officers Elected At Meeting Here Yesterday

Professor Hall Swain of State College was elected president of the North Carolina Speech Association at the fall meeting of the organization held here yesterday. He succeeds Dr. Joseph C. Weatherby of Duke University.

Other new officers are Prof. Norman Mattis of UNC, vice-president, and Prof. Rhoda Hunter, UNC, secretary-treasurer. Victor Michelah, Durham, and Constance Glenn, Smithfield, were elected directors-at-large

The principal speaker at yesterday's session was Earl Wynn, director of the UNC communications center, who urged a speech program for North Carolina.

He outlined the field of speech throughout the nation and particularly in North Carolina, pointing out through the latter "the cornerstones upon which we can build for the future." He described the work of the radio department and the communications center and illustrated his talk with a transcription and motion picture.

Following Wynn's address the group toured the area used at the University for production and training in the use of communication materials.
