Extra Session

Of IFC Stops Hazing Here

Fraternity men voted to abolish hazing in stormy chapter meetings all over campus last night, and then sent their representatives to a special session of the Interfraternity Council to make it law.

The IFC took nearly two hours to hear all the objections to the proposed measure. It was finally passed after three amendments had been added. Several fraternities were still dissatisfied with the measure even after the amendments had been included.

The action followed a report by the IFC Committee on Fraternity Hazing that called Hell Week "a direct violation of the Campus Code," "adolescent," and "a waste of time."

The report broke hazing down into three main headings, "public display," "physical abuse," and "scholastic interference." Listed under each were several particular practices objected to.

Public display included scavenger hunts, rides, public disturbances, etc. "Physical abuse" listed paddling, "games", and feeding pledges nauseating foods and mixtures. "Scholastic interference" was defined as any practice putting pledges in a position of being unable to attend or properly prepare themselves for classes.

Committee members were Dick Jenrette, chairman; Eddie Gross, acting chairman; Larry Early, Bill Carr, Otis McCollum, Kent Bradley, and Sam Jordan.

The IFC move came on the heels of a bill in the Student Legislature to abolish hazing. The bill had been tabled pending IFC action. Threatened intervention by the Men's Council in hazing cases was mentioned by several IFC spokesmen.

The Council set penalties ranging from $100 fines to a year's suspension of rushing privileges for offending fraternities.

A preliminary meeting of fraternity presidents had voted unanimously in favor of the measure.

Several IFC members stated, however, that this move does not end pre-initiation activities. Pledges can look forward to an intensified form of the "Greek Week" activities of last year.

Bonfire Rally Set Tomorrow

A bonanza conflagration will be staged tomorrow night in an effort to light up the Carolina spirit and team for the Notre Dame game, Duffield Smith, University Club president, said last night.

The bonfire, to be held on the Intramural Field next to Woollen Gym, will follow a torchlight parade starting from the Y Court.

Smith urged students to start bringing wood in any form down to the field sometime before tomorrow night. "We want this bonfire to be the biggest one this school's had, but it cannot be formed without the help of students," he pointed out. The fire will be held in the middle of the field.

University cheerleaders, headed by Durwood "Nose" Jones, and the University band will lead the torchlight parade.

Myatt Names Senior Class Planning Body

Senior Class President Archie Myatt yesterday announced the appointment of 26 men and women to the Senior Class Planning Committee.

The committee, according to Myatt, will work with the class officers to formulate plans for the senior class. The group will choose the senior gift and make plans for events to take place during the big senior weekend in the Spring.

In announcing the names of committee members, Myatt said, "we have made this committee a large one in order to interest more people in working for their class. With a large group, we will get a better cross section of student opinion and will have more ideas to work with. . . . I think our class has been one of the most unified in the University's history and I want to keep it that way. If we continue to work together as we have in the past I am sure we will make this year one for each member of the class to remember."

The following seniors have been appointed to the Planning Committee:

David Allen, Adair Beasley, Eunice Bizzell, Frankie Byrd, Barbara Chantler, Al Donald, Bob Evans, Gwen Gore, Margaret Green, Gene Hardin, Caroline Hassinger, Al House, Jane Piper, Sheldon Plager, Jack Rock, Bill Rue, Lloyd Smith, Peilen Speck, Patty Starr, Hilliard Staton, Mel Stribling, Allan Tate, Bob Thomas, Woody Williams, and Clem Wright.

Other class committees now being formed by Myatt are Senior Alumni Committee, Complaint Board, Finance Committee, Social Committee, and Publicity Committee.

'Darkness At Noon' Is Set For Next Thursday Night

"Darkness At Noon," the second major production of the Carolina Playmakers, will be presented next Thursday night, November 27. Five more evening performances will be given through December 2 at the Play-

Eisenhower Bill Defeated By Di

The Di Senate last night thoroughly aired the problem of finding a suitable candidate for the next presidential election. Just about every possible nominee was considered from Eisenhower to Gen. MacArthur.

Originally intended for discussion was the drafting of Gen. Eisenhower as presidential candidate of both political parties. A vote of fifteen to four defeated this bill.

At one time during the debate Gen. MacArthur was the subject of an amendment which would draft him for the vice-presidency. This too, was defeated.

Rumors Fly! Coach Denies He's Quitting

Reports that Carolina football coach Carl Snavely will be fired at the end of the football season grew more numerous as alumni voiced dissatisfaction at the team's record of two wins and six losses.

Chauncey Durden, veteran sports observer of the Richmond Times-Dispatch said Tuesday that the 34-14 loss to Virginia "finished Carl Snavely as coach of the Tar Heels." Durden said, "After the season, regardless of how the Tar Heels may fare against Notre Dame this Saturday and Duke the following Saturday" Snavely would be removed.

Snavely said, "It's news to me. I have no comment to make other than that as far as I am concerned, it is something new. No one has discussed the matter with me. I have given absolutely no thought to quitting."

Durden gave as his source of information a North Carolina man who is "privy to North Carolina's highest athletic circles." He did not name the man.

Jack Horner of the Durham Herald predicted Monday that Snavely would be fired at the end of the season.

Last Chance

Students who have not turned in their pass book ticket for the $1 Duke game coupon will be able to do so today, the Wollen Gym ticket office announced yesterday. This will absolutely be the last day that students will be able to do this.

Today will also be the last day that guest and date tickets will be on sale at Wollen Gym. After today all ticket requests will have to be made through Duke University.

Scholarship Winners Are 4 Freshmen

Four freshmen have been awarded the Braswell Scholarships for the academic year 1951-52, it was announced today by Dean C. P. Spruill, chairman of the Braswell Scholarship Committee.

They are Harvie Max Harris, Garysburg; Charles Leroy Hilton, Lenoir; Lewis McDaniel, and Neill McMillan Powers, St. Pauls. Two entered the University in September and two last June.

The Braswell Scholarships are provided by a fund of $21,000 set up in memory of Dr. Mark R. Braswell of Rocky Mount, class of 1868. The income from the endowment is designated for four scholarships of $200 each annually. The accrued income from time to time allows additional scholarships to be awarded.

Recipients are judged on character, scholastic attainment, financial need and general all-around worthiness. The four winners this year were selected from a group of 30 freshmen, all of whom were considered worthy prospects.

Harris, who graduated from Gaston High School in Gaston, was an all-A student in high school. He participated in athletics, dramatics and was a member of school publication staffs and secretary of his senior class. He plans to major in accounting.

Hilton entered from Mountain View High School where he made (See Scholarship, page 4)

'Circus' Talk On Physics Set Tonight

Dr. Eric M. Rogers, associate professor of physics at Princeton University, will give one of his celebrated lectures entitled "Light and Color—a demonstration of color mixing, color vision and illusion," tonight at 8 o'clock in the main lecture room of Venable Hall at the University of North Carolina.

This lecture is intended primarily for non-scientists who want to see some interesting demonstrations of color. Dr. Rogers' job at Princeton is giving demonstration lectures—as he says, "Making experiments big enough to see, and amusing enough to remember, and yet putting in some good physics."

"Life" magazine, May 22, 1950, carried a three-page article about Dr. Rogers' lectures at Princeton. "Circus lecture" is an appropriate name, for Dr. Rogers is noted for employing everything but elephants to put across his points. His guest demonstration of surface tension at the Chattanooga meeting of the American Physical Society was considered a highlight of this year's session.

Born in England, Dr. Rogers was educated at Cambridge where he did work on radioactivity under Lord Rutherford. He has taught at Harvard as well as Princeton, and this fall is visiting the Physics Department here.
