Gifts, Tour Await Winner Of Maid Of Cotton Contest

The 1952 Maid of Cotton contest finals won't be held until Jan. 3, but that day will be a second Christmas for the 20 lucky girls who are selected as finalists.

There will be a bag filled with cotton gifts waiting for each of the candidates.

Included in the assortment of gifts to be presented to the Maid of Cotton finalists are cotton gloves by Dawnelle; shoes and matching neckwear in giddy plaid gingham by Westport; cotton cosmetic travel kits by Dorothy Gray; cotton handbags by Colony; Guatemalan cotton skirts by Bates; a set of matching terry towels by the Cone Export & Commission Co.; a selection of fine cotton handkerchiefs; and a cotton fabric gift by Avondale Mills.

The 20 girls who come to Memphis Jan. 2-3 for contest finals will be selected early in December by a preliminary judging committee from the applications and photographs of Cotton Belt beauties who have submitted entries.

Entries now are being received at the National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis, Tenn. To be eligible to become Maid of Cotton, a girl must have been born in a cotton state. She must be between the ages of 19-25, must never have been married, and must be at least 5 feet 5 inches tall. Contestants will be judged on the basis of beauty, personality, and background.

Any girl who meets the four contest requirements is eligible. She need not be sponsored by any group or organization. Contest deadline is midnight, Dec. 1.

Immediately after the 1952 Maid of Cotton is named, she will begin a six-month international tour as the official goodwill and fashion representative of the U. S. cotton industry. She will visit more than 40 cities in the United States, Europe, and Canada. Other countries probably will be added to her schedule before the itinerary is completed. The Maid will be presented an all-cotton wardrobe by 30 leading designers to wear on her tour. At the close of her cotton journey, she will be awarded a new 1952 Ford convertible by the Memphis, Tenn., District Ford Dealers.

Wesley Foundation Has Party Tonight

Square dancing and refreshments will be featured tonight at the Wesley Foundation's party, to be held in the Wesley Lounge of the Methodist Church at 8 o'clock.

All students are invited to attend, according to Publicity Chairman Gerald Parker.

On Sunday at the regular dinner meeting, Dr. D. D. Holt, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in Durham, will be guest speaker. His topic will be "Understanding Ourselves."

The dinner meetings are held at 6 o'clock and are open to all University students.

Don't be bored with your eight o'clock! Get in some practice to win yourself a carton of PHILIP MORRIS.
