

THE BACK ROOM of a small cafe serves as the meeting place for Communist conspirators in Sidney Kingsley's three-act play, "Darkness at Noon," beginning a six-night engagement tonight at 8:30 in the Carolina Playmakers Theatre at the University of North Carolina. Left to right, the characters are: Pablo played by Andrew Adams, North Hollywood, Calif.; Luigi by Hansford Rowe, Richmond, Va.; Andre by Bruce Strait, Cincinnati, Ohio.; Rubashov by Frederick Young, Chapel Hill. Tickets for all performances are on sale at Swain Hall and at the theatre box office after 7 p.m.

Piano Group Will Appear In Durham

(Special to The Daily Tar Heel) DURHAM — The First Piano Quartet, appearing at Page Auditorium on December 6, will be the last off-the-series attraction offered by the Duke University All-Star Concert series this season.

The musical team, which appeared two seasons ago on the regular Duke Concert program, is being brought back as a specialty attraction because of its popularity, Manager J. Foster Barnes said yesterday.

Tickets for the performance may be secured by writing Barnes at box 4822, Duke Station, Durham, or by phoning the university, Extension 6225.

Coed Services

(Continued from page 1) conscious, however, until her death.

Miss Chandler was sent to her home in Delaware, where she has been suffering from a severe case of shock. She is expected to return to Chapel Hill tomorrow night.

Miss Simpson was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority here. Miss Chandler is a Pi Beta Phi.

Also injured during the long Thanksgiving weekend was Douglas G. Howell, senior from Warren, Ohio and member of Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity.

Howell was struck by several pellets from a shotgun fired by a hunting companion, who mistook him for a deer when he stepped out of his stand. They were hunting near Jackson N. C.

He was taken to the nearby Camp Lejeune hospital and is expected to be transferred to the infirmary here soon. Although not severely injured, he will probably be confined to bed for several days.

Girls Tie Dook

The Carolina girls field hockey team tied Duke's team, 1-1, in a game played here yesterday afternoon.

Both of the scores came in the second half of the game.

Tookie Allen, Duke center forward, scored the only tally for her team and Pepper Stetson, center forward, scored for Carolina.

Because of wide interest in this PHILIP MORRIS contest we are allowing a contestant to win only once . . . Remember, every contestant gets free samples!

DAILY CROSSWORD

- |                                    |                            |                                       |
|------------------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| ACROSS                      | DOWN                | 21. Seizes                            |
| 1. Resorts                         | 1. Vent                    | 22. Owner of rented property          |
| 5. Book of maps                    | 2. Cover with asphalt      | 23. Insect a class                    |
| 10. Wash                           | 3. Birds, as a class       | 24. Plover                            |
| 11. To shift                       | 4. A decree (Law)          | 25. Zambales province capital (P. I.) |
| 12. Baking chamber                 | 5. Viper                   | 27. Story                             |
| 13. One of Columbus' ships         | 6. Belonging to thee       | 29. Southeast (abbr.)                 |
| 14. Examinations                   | 7. Crescent-shaped figure  | 31. Sheep in their second year (var.) |
| 16. Approaches                     | 8. Specles of pier (arch.) | 33. Like a wing                       |
| 18. River (Eur.)                   | 9. Frightened              | 34. Pitch of voice                    |
| 20. Thorium (sym.)                 | 15. Similar                | 36. Glen                              |
| 21. Strike obliquely               | 17. Injections             |                                       |
| 24. Measure of weight (West U. S.) | 19. Music note             |                                       |
| 26. A farm (C. Asia)               |                            |                                       |
| 27. Country (C. Asia)              |                            |                                       |
| 28. Poker stake                    |                            |                                       |
| 29. Dishes of greens               |                            |                                       |
| 30. Bachelor of Divinity (abbr.)   |                            |                                       |
| 31. Narrate                        |                            |                                       |
| 32. Fine-grained rock              |                            |                                       |
| 35. Old Norse works                |                            |                                       |
| 39. Branch of knowledge (humorous) |                            |                                       |
| 41. Relieve                        |                            |                                       |
| 42. Scope                          |                            |                                       |
| 43. Pen-name of Charles Lamb       |                            |                                       |
| 44. Garment                        |                            |                                       |
| 45. Quantity of paper              |                            |                                       |

Yesterday's Answer

Victory Bell

(Continued from page 1)

the kitchen to wash dishes, the boys went make a phone call, and the other two went in search of the head.

That was the last Sleepy has seen of his friends, and that's as far as Sleepy fits into the picture. The rest he picked up from friends who participated in the victory calvacade.

Sleepy's friends, while driving through Durham, heard the ringing of a bell and cheering, they said. On investigation they discovered the Victory Bell in tow of an automobile leading a motorcade of extremely happy Duke students. Riding the bell and ringing it was a person they described as "sorta' short and wearing a loud tartan vest." They joined the group which made its way to Chapel Hill.

They entered Chapel Hill on Franklin St. and continued on down it to the Carolina Theater stoplight and turned left onto Cloumbia St. At the Carolina Inn stoplight the lead car with the bell was the only one which made it under the green. It turned left towards the campus on Cameron Ave. and then pulled into the alley that enters the parking lot behind Peabody Hall.

That was the last the Blue Devils have seen of their bell. So what has become of the Victory Bell? Did Carolina students abscond with it? Some Blue Devils seem to hold that conviction. But if so, who did it, and where did they deposit it? Will we ever see the bell again?

(Editor's Note: This all calls to mind the mistreatment the bell has had at the hands of Duke University ever since it was turned over to them after the 1950 Duke-Carolina game.

It has hardly been used and has been kept locked up and covered with debris and fertilizer in an equipment shack near the Duke Stadium. It was not taken out of this intersanctum until the Duke weekly student publication, the Chronicle, exposed the situation in print.

All of this also calls to mind our note which was run above reprint of the Chronicle's story in The Daily Tar Heel which suggested that since Duke had no interest in the bell it should be returned to Carolina where it is appreciated.

French Club

The French Club will meet tonight at 6:30 for its weekly dinner in the Upper Dining Room of Lenior Hall. In addition to a short business meeting, there will be a very interesting program entitled "La France En Couleur." The public is invited to attend this program.

by Chap L. Hill

Giftalk

Exciting, colorful, happy—that's the Christmas season, and it's here again! Tip of the season to students: since the folks back home already know what's in those stores, make your gifts real surprises by selecting them right here.

You'll learn why Chapel Hill is known as the gift shopping center. There's a tremendous variety of truly "different" gifts, all of tip-top quality, ranging from the inexpensive to the high-priced—and always at or less than nationally advertised prices!

For something you won't find anywhere else in the area, The University Florist and Gift Shop offers you the famous and beautiful Russell Wright china in open stock. A 16-piece starter set, with a full year's guarantee against breakage, sells at $9.95. Also at this charming shop you'll find the De Kern solid copper hand-enameled bowls, imported from Holland, from $2.15. Stop by!

Foister's Camera Store has gift specials at well under regular prices, including the dependable Baby Brownie ($2.85), books on photography, photo albums, and picture frames. There's even an Ansco Junior Press Photographer's Outfit with camera, flash gun, bulbs, batteries, film, other accessories and a splendid carrying case for $10.95—regular price on this is $13.95!

Sweet-smelling, glamorously-packaged gift ideas abound at Robbins Fashion Center. Smart item: perfume atomizer the size and shape of a cigarette lighter that sprays its supply of White Satin or Black Satin by Angeli- que . . . spill proof and refillable . . . $5.00 plus tax. Other fragrant gift ideas from $1.00 by Faberge, Corday, Frances Denney. Free gift-wrapping. They'll mail for you, too!

Any man on your list will be proud of a genuine Rabhor Robe ($11.95) from The Sport Shop on Columbia Street. This shop-full of everything smart men like to wear is right next to Western Union. Other things men like: impeccable Hansen gloves with fleece lining at $5.95 . . . the Hickok matched set of cuff links and tie clasp from $2.95 . . . the hand-tailored Stradivari shirt at $9.95!

You can spend as little or as much as you wish at Wentworth and Sloan, but your gift will be best quality and dearly received. Engraving on any of the famous Ronson lighters is free . . . you can choose from 63 patterns in Towle, Gorham, International and Heirloom silver . . . a Parker or Schaeffer pen, pencil or matched set comes in a wide range of prices . . . silver hollow-ware is always welcome!

The Carolina Sport Shop has a real special: a set of six Ben Hogan irons for $32.95! Then there's a golf bag at $5.95 . . . record albums, any speed, begin at $2.15—and music on records makes a perfect gift, too! . . . the games at The Carolina Sport Shop are better than ever, including everything from chess and electric football to Monopoly and Canasta sets!

Shop Chapel Hill for distinctive gifts—at money savings!

First Piano Quartet
CONCERT ARTISTS AT
PAGE AUDITORIUM, DUKE UNIVERSITY
Tickets: $2.50 and $3.00 (incl. tax). On Sale: 201 Men's Union, Phone Durham, 9-011, ext. 6225; or write J. Foster Barnes, Duke University, Durham, N. C., for information and reservations.

