

Carolina Swamps Furman, 100-57

Grimaldi Gets 24, Wallace 21 In Rout

Greenville, S. C.—The Carolina basketball team went literally wild in the second half, scoring 55 points, to swamp a good Furman five 100-57 in a Southern Conference game here tonight.

The Tar Heels left the floor at half time with a 45-39 edge, but completely outplayed the Bulldogs in the second half to win.

Vince Grimaldi was high man for the Tar Heels with 24 points. The little forward couldn't be stopped in the last half as he sparked the Carolina attack. Forward Jack Wallace got 21 points for the Carolina cause and guard Bob Phillips hit for 14.

The game was supposed to be played in Textile Hall on the Furman campus, but after the preliminary contest the coaches and officials decided that the floor was too slippery. The fans and teams were transferred to Woodside Gym on the other side of town for the game.

Roger Thompson was high man for the Bulldogs with 20 points, 18 of them coming in the first half. In that half he hit on 9 of 13 tries from the floor.

Coach Tom Scott, when quizzed about his team's surprising display of scoring power said, "The boys improved over the Citadel game. Furman tired in the last half and we were able to use our fast break to an advantage. The point spread didn't show the difference between the two teams."

State Releases Beattie Feathers

RALEIGH, Dec. 3 — Beattie Feathers was released as football coach of N. C. State effective as soon as a three-man committee can find a replacement.

Feathers, who has coached eight years, signed a three-year contract last year. His team this fall was rather disappointing and won only three of ten games.

The action of the athletic council was taken Saturday in a meeting here, but was not released until today. The council had previously refused to say why the meeting was called.

Feathers is a former All-American back at Tennessee and was a great star in pro football before becoming a coach.

UNC Sailors Over Marines Win, 89-38

The Carolina Sailing Club defeated Camp Lejeune, 89-38, Saturday at the Marines' base. It was the second time this year that the Tar Heels have beaten the Marines.

The Tar Heels won easily with the Camp Lejeune team taking only a second and a third from the four races. There were only four boats sailing in each race.

Tar Heel Lawrey was high point man of the regatta with 25 points followed by Tar Heels Fred Mewhinney and Gib Schaeffer, with 24 and 21 points, respectively.

Carolina started the regatta using team tactics, but changed to man-for-man. Mewhinney came from third place to win the first race, passing Lawrey and Schaeffer. Schaeffer forced Lawrey 300 yards off course in an attempt to keep from being passed, but Lawrey finally passed to windward to take second place.

Lawrey won the individual point total by taking a fourth and a second in the last two races, while Mewhinney got a fourth and a third. Mewhinney lost one place when he broke his tiller in the middle of the third race.

Bernie Janicki Gives Duke Additional Scoring Threat

by Bill Peacock

Those Duke Blue Devils that the Carolina basketball team takes on tomorrow night in Durham in the Gerry Gerrard game, have got many local observers thinking that they might be able to stop State in its search for a sixth straight conference championship.

The biggest reason is not Dick Groat, who is just as hot this year as he was last, but forward Bernie Janicki, a six foot, three inch forward who made 21 points against Temple Saturday night. Janicki, a sophomore from Ambridge, Pa., hit on nine of 21 shots from the floor and played a good driving game.

The tow-headed Janicki, like Groat, prefers to drive in for his shots, rather than take set shots and appears to be a real "point" man, going for the basket any time there is a chance for a shot.

His play gives the Blue Devils a real one-two punch and will make it difficult for Duke opponents to put two men on Groat as they have in the past.

Carl Glasow, the divinity student who won two letters at Cornell with a V-12 team showing a fair hook shot from the pivot, but he seems badly out of condition. He is big and tall enough (Six feet four inches, 190 pounds) to be a good rebounder, but the Duke forwards did most of the work in the Temple game.

At any rate, he rates a great improvement over Red Kulpan and Dayton Allen, and it is significant that he is keeping an improved Dick Crowder on the bench. Duke can be definitely regarded as improved at center.

Rudy D'Emilio, a sophomore, and letterman Dick Johnson, who split the duties at guard, are much the same type player as the departed Scotty York, with D'Emilio, perhaps, the better set shot. Both are good dribblers and hard-drivers, and both tend to make bad passes when rushed.

Chi O's, Tri Delts Tit in Hockey Final

The Tri Delts tied the Chi O's, 1-1, yesterday in the finals of the Girls Field Hockey tournament on a goal in the last four minutes of the game by Pepper Stetson. Neither team was able to score in a five minute overtime period.

The teams will play again Friday at 2 p.m. in Kenan Stadium.

Chris Oglesby scored the goal for the Chi O's.

The Chi O's reached the finals by virtue of a forfeit and the Tri Delts defeated the ADP's, 5-0, to gain the finals.
