UNC Takes 13th Straight; 3rd Doubles Is Only Loss

by Tom Peacock

The North Carolina tennis team extended its undefeated season to 13 straight games here yesterday, beating Lehigh University 8-1 in one of its easiest wins this year.

The Tar Heels' only loss was the third doubles match, in which Bill Gess and Ken Pincourt were defeated 6-3, 1-6, 6-3 by Newton Bugbee and Hall McKinley of Lehigh. Neither Gess nor Pincourt had played in a match for Carolina before today.

Carolina coach John Kenfield had his number two, three, and four men, Herb Browne, Bob Payne, and Sam Handel dress after they had won their singles matches so some of the men down the line could play. Besides the doubles match, Carolina lost only one set to Lehigh in the whole match. Number one man and team captain, Del Sylvia, was paired with seven man Dick Sapp for Carolina's first doubles team, and they lost their first set to Paul Torgerson and Sam Keiser of Lehigh, 7-5. Sylvia and Sapp bore down in the last two sets and won them, 6-0, 6-4 to take the match.

Browne and Handel were both given a little trouble in one of their singles sets. Browne had to finish strong to beat Keiser, 7-5, in their first set, and Handel was surprised by Torgerson who forced the second set to 8-6 after losing the first, 6-1.

Bobby Payne, Carolina number three man, continued to keep his own win streak up with the team's taking his match with McKinley, 6-1, 6-0. Payne is the only man on the team who hasn't lost a match this season.

Sylvia won his 12th match of the season with ease, downing Lehigh number one man, Bill Dengler, in two straight sets, 6-0, 6-3. Bill Izlar had no trouble beating Murray Miller in the fifth singles, 6-3, 6-4. Izlar and Sylvia are juniors, and usually play number one singles together.

Ronnie Kerdasha played well in his match, defeating Bill Hardwick 6-1, 6-2 to round out the singles matches. Payne, Browne, Handel, and Kerdasha are all freshmen, with Payne and Browne playing second doubles and Kerdasha and Handel playing third doubles in normal circumstances.

Coach Kenfield paired Izlar and Kerdasha to play second doubles, the Carolina men winning, 6-2, 6-0. Kenfield said after the match that he could tell little about his team from the match.

Singles—Sylvia (UNC) defeated Dengler (L), 6-0, 6-3; Browne (UNC) defeated Keiser (L), 7-5, 6-4; Payne (UNC) defeated McKinley (L), 6-1, 6-0; Handel (UNC) defeated Torgerson (L), 6-1, 8-6; Izlar (UNC) defeated Miller (L), 6-3, 6-4; Kerdasha (UNC) defeated Hardwick (L) 6-1, 6-2.

Doubles — Sylvia-Sapp (UNC) defeated Torgerson - Keiser (L),

Kenfield Has Tough Choice Of Players

by Vardy Buckalew

Coach John Kenfield of the Carolina tennis team has the pleasant duty of choosing between two of the top freshman tennis players in the country for his second and third positions. Herb Browne is now playing in the number two position and Bob Payne is in the third position. Payne is undefeated this year and Browne has lost two matches.

The choice is not an easy one because, according to Coach Kenfield, the boys play pretty even. Kenfield says, "They play each other every day when we don't have a match and one day Browne wins and the next day Payne wins." Browne is now playing ahead of Payne because he is ranked higher in the national ratings.

Browne won the National Interscholastic championship last year in Charlottesville, Virginia.

Payne is the bigger of the two, and therefore has more power. Browne is on the light side and Coach Kenfield says that he will have to get a little more size before he can really become great.

Kenfield says, "Bob has as good shots as any of the boys but his main trouble is concentration. Brown on the other hand," says Kenfield, "has trouble with his forehand. He has a tendency to lift the ball and hit it too high."

When asked to compare these two boys with Vic Sexias when he was a freshman, Coach Kenfield said that it was difficult to do. Vic was older than these boys when he came here, serving a hitch in the Navy before entering Carolina. Browne and Payne are both nineteen years old.

Coach Kenfield does not expect to go through this season without a defeat. He says that the team from Rollins College has two Mexican Davis Cup players on the team and we are almost certain to lose that one.

He also expects to have tough competition from Duke and Davidson in the Southern Conference and Harvard and Williams on the northern swing. He says, "You have to be twenty percent better than the other team when you are travelling every day and I don't believe that we are that much better than some of those teams we will play on our trip."

Any way you look at it, the prospects for the future of the Carolina tennis team are good. With three more years of eligibility ahead of Payne and Browne and with another year for captain

4 Students Play In GGO; Ruening Low

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL

GREENSBORO, April 12—Carolina had four students golfers in the first round of the Greater Greensboro Open but none of them did much to threaten the first-day leaders.

Low man in the quartet of Tar Heel hopefuls was Jim Ruening, a senior from Bristol, Va., and the best he could claim was a nine-over-par 80. He had rounds of 39-41.

Following behind Ruening in the Carolina contingent were Jimmy Vance with 40-41—81; George Mountcastle, 43-41—84; and Doug Roberts, 46-41—87.

All four have been trying out for Carolina's undefeated golf team. Vance and Mountcastle are sophomores and Roberts is a freshman.

Setting the pace for the entire field after the first day were Dick Mayer and Skee Riegel, both of whom haven't been too lucky in the pro ranks, with 67's.

MURALS

Hopeful participants in both intramural track and golf haven't got much more time to get their names on the entry lists.

Qualifying for the annual golf tournament ends Tuesday and all entries for the track meet must be in by Wednesday.

A full week is one tap in other intramural sports, however, with softball, tennis, and horseshoe teams in action.

Monday's schedule:

Lacrosse Team Defeats Norfolk For 2d Victory

by Bob Colbert

The Carolina Lacrosse team showed a rebirth of spirit yesterday morning in defeating the Norfolk Naval Air Station by a score of 12-5. It was the team's second win of the season.

The Norfolk team, composed of both servicemen and civilians, arrived in Chapel Hill at 3:30 a.m. Saturday morning after having lost to the Lehigh team Friday. This is the same Lehigh team which tied Carolina in the last 12 seconds of play here last Thursday.

Yesterday's game was one of the best games the Carolina lacrosse team has played this season. It showed coach Al Moore that the scheduling of three rough Northern teams at the beginning of the season paid off. Although the Carolina team did lose to these northern teams; it learned a lot by the experience of having played them, and put that experience to use yesterday.

Del Sylvia, it doesn't look like Coach Kenfield will have too many worries for some time to come.

High man in yesterday's game was Walt Ernst with five goals. Two of Walt's goals were scored within one minute. Early in the third quarter he took a pass from Dave Cole and scored. Then just 38 seconds later, he found a loose ball in front of the Norfolk (See LACROSSE, page 5)
