Tar Heels better turn up their collars for Autumn's first extended cold spell is here.

With the low going to near 40 degrees early this morning, the weatherman forecast a repeat performance for tonight. Today's high is expected to go near 60. The cold snap should last to the weekend, R. M. Evans, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist, said.

No frost is forecast and the days will be partly cloudy with some winds, the weatherman added.

The cold front, moving in from the north, hit Asheville Monday night with a low of 38.

Welfare Head Asks For Boarding Homes

The need for boarding homes for children is increasing, the superintendent of the Orange County Welfare Department said yesterday.

Miss Annie Strowd said the state-wide program which assists in providing boarding homes for children is one of the most valuable programs administered by welfare agencies. She said she believed more homes would be offered for this purpose if the people knew the need and the plan which provides them.

Boarding homes are licensed, Miss Strowd said, to take care of children who are in one of two groups. One group is made up of children who are being studied for adoption. The other group is composed of children who are not living in their own home.

The County Welfare Department shares responsibility for the child with the foster parent and a staff member makes regular visits to the home. The state boarding home fund is made available to counties on a 50 percent matching basis for individual children.

In Orange County there are six boarding homes caring for 12 children. More are needed, Miss Strowd said. She asked those interested to contact the office in Chapel Hill or Hillsboro.

Consolidated Council On TV Reviews Films

A Television Council made up of representatives from the three branches of the Consolidated University met Monday afternoon in Swain Hall to review 12 kinescope films.

The films, produced in the main studio of Swain Hall, consist of lectures and demonstrations by professors from the University, State College and Woman's College.

Members of the council are Dr. Logan Wilson, William Friday, Dean C. P. Lyons, C. E. Teague and Earl Wynn of Chapel Hill; Dean S. H. McNutt, Charles Phillips and Dean Katherine Taylor of Greensboro, and Rudolph Pate, E. W. Ruggles and Dean John W. Shirley of Raleigh. Also present was Ann Spinney of the Ford Foundation.

'The Pink Circus' Tryouts To Begin

The Playmakers will begin tryouts this afternoon for the first experiment of their new season, "The Pink Circus". Auditions will begin at 4 p. m. They will be informal and open to all. The drama, which tells the story of matricide in a Mexican labor camp, has a cast of six men and five women, with boys and girls of the camp.

No New Cases

No new cases of polio were reported yesterday and Dr. E. McG. Hedgpeth, University physician, said the condition of the five stricken students was improved.

NEWS IN BRIEF

SEOUL—15,000 screaming Chinese Communists pushed ahead here yesterday to overrun seven Allied hill positions. Allied infantrymen counterattacked in an effort to regain a vital outpost on the western front near White Horse Mountain. Allied troops surged back against the Reds under the eerie, flickering light of aerial flares, searchlights and exploding artillery shells. A correspondent reported that a roaring artillery barrage powered yesterday's assault. The Reds pumped 1,200 rounds an hour at each of the heights before the Allied infantry charge.

SAGINAW, Mich.—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson accused Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday of giving comfort to Russia with charges that American prosperity is based on a war economy. The Democratic presidential candidate hurled the charge at Eisenhower in a prepared speech here. "There is no greater disservice the Republican candidate could do America in its world role than to suggest that our economic strength here at home is a war prosperity," declared the Illinois governor. Last night in Detroit the governor spoke on the Communist menace, at home and abroad.

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower ignored Adlai Stevenson yesterday to feud with President Truman over which party would do the most for the Pacific Northwest in water power development. Last night in Seattle he tagged Truman as "an expert in political demagoguery" giving the people "a course in nonsense fiction." Eisenhower was enthusiastically received by a crowd of over 10,000.

LOS ANGELES—Ed Max, 43-year old radio actor, startled a House Un-American Activities subcommittee by tossing his war medals to a congressman and telling him to "take them back to President Truman." Max claimed that "unfriendly" witnesses falsely testified against him.

EN ROUTE WITH TRUMAN—President Truman stumped east across Colorado yesterday after sarcastically comparing the Republican "truth squad" to his 1949 "shadow"—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. He sneered at the three Republican senators who make up the so-called "truth squad," calling them a "synthetic brigade." "You know what's the trouble?" he challenged the President. "We're telling the truth on them, and that really hurts," he added.

PHILADELPHIA—An Air Force C-47 transport plane seeking to land during a heavy fog crashed into a wooded area here yesterday, killing three crew members and injuring three passengers.

Cases Of Wine Get Television For Roommates In Cobb Dorm

By Tom Parramore

A couple of enterprising lads in Cobb Dormitory have come up with something novel in the line of dormitory room fixtures.

Bill Fetzter and his roommate John Lambert brought a TV set from their home, Rocky River, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland. They installed the set in their dorm room.

Seems that this summer Fetzter's father, a wine-dealer, transacted with the owner of a radio shop whereby two cases of wine traded addresses with a new TV, complete with antenna and table. Bill wrote to UNC

Happy Days Here Again! Pogo Leaves Swamps For Chapel Hill

Pogo embarked from the South Georgia swamps yesterday, getting ready to climb back into the pages of The Daily Tar Heel.

Yielding to the prod of student opinion, the Publications

Board voted to bring back the popular swamp critter as well as retain his would-be competitor, Drew Pearson. Pogo is now in the midst of his presidential campaign but wired The Daily Tar Heel he would cancel all engagements to complete the necessary arrangements.

Editor Barry Farber, speaking from behind a pile of pro-Pogo letters said beggily, "I've received enough Pogo petitions to wallpaper a two-story warehouse. Please let us have him back." The PB did.

The creation of Cartoonist Walt Kelly, Pogo made his initial appearance in The Daily Tar Heel last year. His popularity was attested by dozens of letters with hundreds of names protesting his dismissal this fall.

In conclusion, Farber good-naturedly pleaded guilty to what he called "miscalculating the popularity of the marsupial politician."

'Distant Journey' Show In Memorial Tomorrow

"Distant Journey," second in a series of outstanding movies to be here under student auspices, will be shown in Memorial Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Students are reminded of the change in meeting place.

Texas Dean Coming Here For Law Talk

Dean Robert G. Storey, of the Law School of Southern Methodist University, Dallas, president of the American Bar Association, will deliver an address at the University October 23.

The announcement was made yesterday by Dean Henry Brandis of the University Law School.

Dean Storey will speak to students and faculty members of the Law School at a dinner meeting in the Carolina Inn. His topic will be "Law Schools and the Legal Profession."

The following day, October 24, Dean Storey will address the North Carolina State Bar Association at a meeting in Raleigh on the subject, "Professional Leadership."

Dean Storey, who was admitted to the Texas Bar in 1914, served in both World War I and World War II.

Seniors May Apply Early

Coast Guard applicants may now make application 120 days before their graduation.

The word came yesterday from Commander E. R. Cardwell, USCGR. Commander Cardwell said the applicant must submit a transcript of his credits earned up to the application date, a copy of his present schedule and the date on which he will get his degree.

Professors Dismissed On Refusal To Testify

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Board of Higher Education yesterday fired three college professors for their refusal to tell a Senate committee whether they had been Communist party members.

While the session was being held at Hunter College some 75 students shouted in behalf of the professors from the street.

Umstead Says Faculty Sure To Get Raise

A state legislator in a recent talk here said he felt a salary increase of 10 percent for the University faculty "will be passed without any question" at the Legislature this January.

Legislator John Umstead spoke to the American Association of University Professors in the Faculty Lounge of Morehead Planetarium.

Dean Guy Phillips preceded Umstead and explained a recent letter from Consolidated University President Gordon Gray concerning the payment of professors' salaries for the 1952 summer session.

The meeting was adjourned with the introduction of the new members of the various departments.

NROTC Unit Adds Sprowl As Yeoman

Capt. J. S. Keating, USN, Professor of Naval Science at the University, yesterday said Chief Yeoman Hugh L. Sprowl, USN, has reported for duty on the staff of the NROTC Unit.

Sprowl is a veteran submariner with 25 years of naval service. He is a native of Jeffersonton, Kentucky.

In the 25 years that Chief Sprowl has served in the Navy he has visited 28 foreign countries. Prior to reporting to the local unit for duty the chief was attached to the staff of Commander Submarine Division 22, on the USS PIPER (SS 409), based in New London, Connecticut.

Sprowl is married and has two children.

Demo Drive Starts Today

Democratic volunteer solicitors start a national campaign today to collect $5 contributions from each citizen to help elect the Democratic ticket.

Volunteers are needed for the campus drive and are asked to contact Julian Mason, 34 Old West Dormitory or Margaret Davis Thompson, 217 Spencer Dormitory.

Polls To Open At 9, To Close At 6 Tonight

Balloting Slated In Every Dorm; Runoffs Tomorrow

By Earl Yandle
Dormitory residents will elect their officers today from the largest list of candidates to file for office in years.

The polls will be open in the individual dormitories from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. with elections being held for four offices in each dorm: president, Interdormitory Council representative, vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

The president will be elected for a full year, but since the IDC is starting a new system of overlapping terms, the IDC representatives will be elected to serve only until March. After this election, the representatives will be elected for a full year, March to March.

Also serving with the new council will be incumbent officers, Paul Somerville, Bill Acker, W. D. Gurley and John Ingle, all elected last March.

Among other duties, the IDC has the responsibility of electing at its first meeting the IDC Court. The court, which maintains dormitory social rules, will have an extra load work this year due to the addition of social rooms to the dorms.

Any run-offs made necessary by today's elections will be held tomorrow, President Paul Somerville said yesterday.

The list of candidates as released by Ray Jefferies, assistant to the Dean of Students, follows:
Alexander Dorm: president, Don Huntington and Marty Sides; vice-president, Bill Woosley, Jim Wiles, Rupert Williams and Ed Bulluck; sec.-treas., Harold Austin, Jerry Daughtridge, Richard Creed and Gene Maloney; IDC Rep., Kit Crittendon, Doug Dodson, G. L. Tweed and Bill Tolbert.

Aycock Dorm: Pres., Bob Hinchshaw and James Pruett; vice-pres., Mahon (Mike) Parker and Donald McCormick; sec.-treas., Kenneth Frye and Phillip Ransdell, and IDC Rep., A. Earl Garrett, John Hallett and Allen Bader.

Law and Juniors

Today is the last day for sophomores to have their pictures taken for the 1953 Yackety Yack.

Tomorrow and Friday pictures will be taken of juniors and of Law School students. Picture dress is white shirts, ties and coats for the boys and white blouses for the girls.

The photographing is being done in the basement of Graham Memorial. There is no charge.
