NEWS IN BRIEF

SEOUL—Chinese Communists threw back three South Korean and Jane Russell hills yesterday. All three times the South Koreans attempts to recapture Triangle came within 50 yards of the tops of the two peaks, only to retreat under Chinese mortar fire.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—A rioting convict at Ohio Penitentiary was killed yesterday by state highway patrolmen during a steady shotgun barrage that wounded three other convicts and held 1,600 prisoners in four battered cell-blocks. There was no indication when prison guards, state highway patrolmen and 400 Ohio National Guard soldiers will be able to end the 60-hour, million-dollar food riot that began Friday afternoon.

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia—Premier Marshal Tito accused the Soviet Union yesterday of promoting a third world war and pledged Yugoslavia's cooperation with the West in preserving peace. In a speech to the sixth Congress of the Yugoslav Communist Party, Tito said co-existence is not only possible between communistic and capitalistic countries but that experience has shown in concrete ways that such cooperation may prove mutually useful.

RALEIGH—At least 21 people lost their lives on North Carolina highways over the weekend, a United Press survey showed yesterday. The state highway patrol reported 147 persons injured since 4 p.m. Friday in addition to the 21 killed in automobile accidents. The weekend death toll brings the 1952 total to 907, compared to 864 for last year.

ASHEVILLE—Rising winds last night were expected to increase fire danger in western North Carolina forests. Although all fires were either out or under control, the danger of fire increased as the area passed its 25th day without rain.

Nursing Head Will Address Y Committee

Miss Lucille Spaulding, director of the nursing service at the North Carolina Memorial Hospital, will speak to YWCA Hospital Service Committee members this afternoon on "The Roll of the Volunteer in the Hospital."

This program is one in a series planned for the group by Alice Jane Hinds, schedule chairman, and Rosemary Scovil, Hospital Committee chairman. Other meetings will include discussions by a psychiatrist, a hospital chaplain and a worker in hospital recreation.

Party Tonight Will Feature Vote Returns

There's going to be a party tonight in the main lounge of Graham Memorial—an election party from 9 o'clock until a definite time, run in for a moment for the latest results. Both TV and radios will be going full blast.

Television-radio results will be coordinated and posted on a blackboard in the lounge. The blackboard will show the number of electoral votes, the number of voting units and the up-to-the-minute results of each state as they come in.

The party is not sponsored by any political group and everyone is welcome, Penegar said. Free refreshments will be served by coeds.

'Beat Va.' Is Homecoming Display Note

Homecoming displays will be judged Saturday morning in the annual competition, John Seely, University Club president, said yesterday.

The theme of the displays will be "Beat Virginia" and the displays will be judged on neatness and originality. Any kind of display is permitted with no expense limit, Seely said.

Cups will be awarded in four divisions: fraternity, sorority, men's dorm and women's dorm. Entrance fee will be $1.

A homecoming display contest was not held last year due to "unfortunate scheduling," Seely said. "However this year we are looking forward to its being bigger and better than ever before," he said.

Student Wives Invited To Meet

The Student Wives' Association, formed as a YWCA committee, will have its first meeting tonight at the Y at 8 o'clock.

Student wives are invited to join the organization which was formed to enable them to take a more active part in campus affairs. A recent poll conducted by Mrs. James J. Zeller showed a need for such a group on campus and Y Cabinet members voted in favor of it at their last meeting.

Members of the association will meet once or twice monthly at the Y. Their programs will be mostly educational with faculty members as speakers, but plans for social activities also are being made.

of both candidates to sway the undecided voter.

a last minute appeal in a nationwide television-radio program.

Registration throughout the United States hit an all-time high as more than 75 million people made themselves eligible to vote. The vote today is expected to surpass the old record of 49,820,000 set in 1940 when Franklin D. Roosevelt opposed Wendell Wilkie.

The Democrats say a heavy turnout always favors the Democrats, and this time it will mean the people are going down the line for continuation of policies and programs that have brought the nation to unprecedented heights of production and accompanying prosperity.

The Republicans say a big vote will be a protest vote against a party they contend has grown corrupt by being too long in power, that it will be a vote for a change.

In one way or another, most of the issues distill down to those two positions—the Democratic cry that people "never had it so good" against the Republican clamor that "it's time for a change."

Political leaders in North Carolina yesterday were looking forward to a record vote with Democratic leaders confident Gov. Stevenson will win in the traditionally Democratic state.

State Republican Chairman J. M. Baley, however, asserted the Stevenson - Eisenhower "race is close in North Carolina." Harking back to 1928 when Herbert Hoover swept the state and two Republican congressmen were elected, Baley added "we have an excellent chance to elect two or three Republican congressmen."

The question is before the American people now and the answers will be more apparent after the outpouring of ballots today goes through the tabulating machines.

Yack Beauty Contest Deadline Set Friday

Friday is the deadline for entries for the 1952 Yackety Yack beauty contest.

Interested organizations on campus are invited to turn in as many entries as they wish. Each entry should be accompanied by a $5 fee. Any coed is eligible to be entered, however, the Yack staff would prefer that no girl be entered in the contest who has previously been in the Yack beauty section.

This year's contest will be held Nov. 20 in Memorial Hall. Judges will be members of the North Carolina Professional Photographers Association. They are Chairman of the Board of Judges, F. Lavergne Johnson, Chapel Hill; Robert Hodgkin, Jr., president of the NCPPA and director of publicity for Seaboard Railway, Wilmington; Ben J. Stimson, former president of the NCPPA and a prominent salon judge, and F. Leon Joyner, secretary of the NCPPA, Henderson.

Judging will be on the basis of photogenic beauty entirely, with special emphasis on symmetry of features, carriage, gracefulness, hands, hair, and complexion.

Concerning Death of Rameses

Duke University Legislature Sends Letter Of Condolence

"An appropriate note of sympathy" concerning the death of Rameses VII was received here yesterday from the Student Legislature of Duke University.

The resolution, written by Rowe Fesperman and recently passed by the legislature, includes a special condolence to "Bushy Cook, the trusted and revered keeper of the ram."

"Be it further resolved," the resolution continues, "That a propitious wish be included stating our fervent desire that the reign of Rameses VIII will be an eminently happier and more successful one than that of his predecessor."

The text of the resolution follows: "Whereas: The student body of the Greater University of North Carolina has been beset by many misfortunes in the past three weeks;

"Whereas: During the summer one of the symbols of Carolina Campus life was elevated to still greater heights; and

"Whereas: The more spirited half of the Duke University student body has been mentioned as a contributing factor to his early and tragic death;

"Therefore be it resolved by the legislature of the Duke University Men's Student Government Association that an ap-

UC Now Accepting Trip Reservations

Train and hotel reservations for students wishing to attend the Carolina-Miami game Nov. 28 will be made by the University Club beginning this week.

John Seely, UC president, said yesterday the advantages of traveling by train seem to outweigh those of chartering buses.

"The Seaboard Railroad has offered us a wonderful rate of $39.62," Seely said. "This includes chartered bus service from Chapel Hill to Raleigh and back, breakfast on the train going down and dinner in the evening coming back. These rates are almost half of what we thought they would be."

Chartered buses will still be offered if enough people are interested, Seely said. These persons may sign up at the booth in the Y from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. every day this week.

The trains will leave Raleigh about 7 Wednesday night and arrive in Miami at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. The passengers will be asked to decide when they purchase tickets whether they wish to return on Saturday night or on Sunday night. The return trains will leave Miami around noon on either Saturday or Sunday.

"The train cars will be the latest model reclining chairs and will be private," Seely said.

The University Club will make reservations for students at the best hotels available in Miami Beach. Rooms will cost $3 per person per night with two persons in each room. "These rooms during the tourist season would rent for not less than $20 a night," Seely said. The hotel will be complete with swimming pool and cocktail lounges.
