

Basketball Team Meets W&L In Second SC Contest Tonight

The North Carolina basketball team will be looking for its second straight of the season tonight at 8:00 when it meets Washington & Lee in Woollen Gym in a Southern Conference contest.

The Tar Heels won their opener Monday night, 70-50, against The Citadel, with Frank Maguire, the new Carolina coach, making a successful debut.

Another newcomer, freshman Jerry Vayda, led the Carolina win with 21 points and sparkling floor play. The six-foot, three-inch forward from Bayonne, N. J. started for ailing Paul Lickens and quickly established himself as the man to watch in the Carolina lineup.

Other standouts in Carolina's win were Co-captains Vince Grimaldi and Jack Wallace, Ernie Schartz, and Bud Maddie.

Tar Babies Lose To Duke, 35-21

Carolina's junior varsity dropped a 35-21 decision to the Duke Blue Imps in a scoring free-for-all at Duke Stadium Thanksgiving afternoon. A crowd of only 1,500 saw Duke capture its second win in the five game series.

Micky Riggs, a freshman half-back from Portsmouth, Va., starred for the winners, scoring a touchdown in each quarter. Bernie Blaney ran well for Duke also, and Bernie Jack kicked five extra points besides scoring the last Duke touchdown.
