

Fraternities Give Parties For Children

Christmas was brightened for 268 orphans and underprivileged children in the Chapel Hill area this year as fraternities entertained them with various types of Christmas parties.

This custom, started several years ago, has proved to be most successful for everybody concerned. Coeds cooperate with the fraternities in giving the parties, and such gifts as footballs, dolls and other toys are given the children who seem to enjoy themselves even more than their hosts and hostesses. Many a fraternity boy can be seen playing "horsey" to one or two small children beating him over the head with toy guns to spur him on.

Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity entertained 30 orphans from the Meta orphanage in Raleigh on Tuesday. The small guests played parlor games around the Christmas tree and Santa Claus, in the person of Osborne Lee, Lumber-ton, distributed gifts to each one. They were then given dinner after which a magician from Raleigh performed tricks.

Fifty negro children from four to six years of age took over the Kappa Alpha house yesterday as KA's and Tri Delt entertained. Ice cream, cake and candy were given the children and Santa Claus gave each a gift.

Sigma Chi actives and alumni held a Christmas party for 20 orphans from the Wright Episcopal orphanage in Raleigh. Renny Biggers as Santa Claus presented each child with a gift. Dinner was served, after which everyone had Christmas candy and played games.

At the Phi Kappa Sigma house, Alpha Delta Pi sorority aided members in providing Christmas fun for 50 negro children Thursday. Each fraternity member gave a child a gift and extra gifts were distributed as door prizes. Refreshments were ice cream and cake for all.

Kappa Sigma fraternity in conjunction with Pi Beta Phi sorority entertained 20 orphans from the Durham Methodist orphanage. Each child received two gifts from Santa Claus Gaither Walser. Refreshments were served around the tree amid Christmas caroling and game playing.

Beta Theta Pi's entertained 33 children from the Northside Elementary school yesterday. In addition to Christmas caroling and a party complete with Santa Claus and refreshments, they were shown movies. — DS.

Study And Sleep

If psychologists at Georgetown University are right, it may be possible for the next generation of students to study and sleep at the same time. All one would need is a dormiphone—that is, a record player with an automatic repeating mechanism. It has a built-in loudspeaker, an under-pillow speaker and an ear-piece.

The idea is that, while you sleep, the dormiphone repeats your algebra lesson to you throughout the night, grinding it into your subconscious.

At this stage, however, the dormiphone isn't very helpful to students studying for examinations. The Georgetown scientists are experimenting with nonsense syllables, not Shakespeares.

Here's a British Comedy That's Truly Sparkling

If you like your fun served with finesse rather than with loud noises, here's a delightfully entertaining movie.

In the hands of a less expert cast, and without a facile script, the story wouldn't add up to much, but this group of actors makes every minute of the film refreshingly diverting.

A horrible old character, noted for his practical jokes, expires while gaily setting fire to his nurse's newspaper, and leaves a will that perpetuates his particular brand of humor. A stony-faced spinster, renowned for her acid tongue and sadistic treatment of her servants, must, in order to reap her share of the old joker's fortune, work as a maid in a middle class home. If she's fired, she's cut out of the will.

A timid bank clerk, a slick ne'er do well playboy, and a very proper soul who furtively writes blood and thunder tales under a variety of names, are meted out similarly distasteful sentences. Their struggles to reverse their natural characteristics are wonderful to behold. Alastair Sim is an old hand at this sort of thing and his efforts to get himself arrested are hilarious, but Fay Compton, Guy Middleton, and Hugh Griffith are equally good.

The timing thruout is perfect, nothing is belabored and the story has many beautifully unexpected twists. Joyce Grenfell is another asset, as she always is, contributing a role at a toothy, flatfooted woman of a riotously revolting sort.

I would suggest that you make an effort to see this if you're in the mood for some unusually efficient comedy of a superior kind. This movie will be playing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Varsity Theatre.
