He has exhibited in such shows as 15 Young Southeastern Painters, the Southeastern Annual (Chicago) and the 149th American Annual (Philadelphia).

Tom Brame and Miss Laura Davis Piner, both of the class of 1953, have shown in the Virginia Interment Annual. Brame has three (See EXHIBIT, page 4)

WC Instructor Sings Hill Recital Tonight

Bonnie-Jean Wold, Greensboro, soprano, will be presented in a recital tonight in Hill Hall at 8 p.m. Her program will be the first of the second semester Tuesday Evening Series. It will be carried over WUNC, the University's FM station.

Mrs. Wold is a member of the faculty of Women's College in Greensboro. She will be accompanied by Inga Borgstrom Morgan, also a member of the WC Faculty.

On the first part of her program Mrs. Wold will sing three songs from Hugo Wolf's Spanisches Liederspiel, Chanson de Bilitis and Fantoches by Debussy and three arias from Puccini's Madame Butterfly.

The second part of the program will be devoted to the works of two contemporary American composers: Leonard Bernstein's satirical song cycle, I Hate Music and Samuel Barber's Knoxville: Summer of 1915.

Mrs. Wold, a native of North Dakota, is assistant professor at WC and soprano soloist at Grace Methodist Church in Greensboro. A graduate of Northwestern University, she has sung leading roles with the Northwest Operatic Ensemble, Roosevelt Opera Workshop, Chicago Opera Theater, The Greensboro Opera Association and has toured with the Metropolitan Quartet. Since coming to North Carolina, she has performed in oratorio, opera and in recitals.

Mrs. Wold has done graduate work at the Chicago Musical College, the Studio of Song and the Eastman School of Music, where she was a soloist with the orchestra and chorus last summer.

Later programs in the series will include an organ recital by Arthur Howes; the UNC Concert Band, Earl Slocum, conductor; a piano recital by David Bar-Ilan; the UNC Glee Clubs, Joel Carter, conductor, and the UNC Symphony Orchestra, Earl Slocum, conductor.

Heaviest Rain

The heaviest rain since the Oct. 15 hurricane—when 4.57 inches fell—hit Chapel Hill Sunday. The local recording station for the Weather Bureau checked at total of 2.1 inches rainfall through the entire day. On Dec. 6 there was another heaving rain—1.6 inches.

To State General Assembly:

Student Race Petition Turned In

A petition in protest against the Supreme Court's racial integration decision, signed by 1,000 University students, has been presented to the General Assembly.

The document, student-originated, and circulated in men's dormitories on the campus during the past two months, is a sort of companion appeal to a similar petition to state authorities that was backed by Dr. W. C. George of the University Medical School faculty. The George petition had over 5,000 signatures, about two-thirds of them reportedly from Orange County, exclusive of Chapel Hill.

Spokesmen for the approximately 1,050 student signers of this latest petition said their document has been turned over to a committee of the General Assembly, and, they understand, will be discussed in connection with forthcoming legislation on the schools-race issue.

In a statement of position that accompanied the petition the spokesmen declared that those who signed would resist by all legal means any group that sought a change from the "present social order." They further stated their opposition to the recently proposed idea to allow autonomous school boards to decide on segregation in their districts, and suggested that legislation should be enacted prohibiting the mixing of races in the state's public schools. This statement was signed by the following 14 students: Ray Barbre Jr., Jack Wilson, Billy Ray Herring, William L. Wilson, Sandy Jenette, Victor Paderick, Ronald Bailey, Bill Acker, Ben M. Bobrow, George Wray, Bruce Mehrman, Jake Goforth, Hugh McCall and Joseph E. Jones.

The petition itself is a brief appeal against the Supreme Court decision that protests "this unconscionable violation of the fundamental American principles of states' rights as guaranteed in the Constitution."

Here are excerpts from the statement of position that accompanied the petition: "... We wish to emphasize that our concern is for the Negro race and its place in our society as well as for our State; Edward K. Graham, Woman's College, and Robert B. House, UNC.

Business managers from the divisions of the Consolidated University, Claude Teague, UNC; Graves Vann, N. C. State, and John Lockhart, WC, will also be present.

Concerning the budget requests for the Consolidated University which President Gray is going to present, he had this to say yesterday: "We are still getting it into shape to offer for the approval or rejection of the assembly and I have none of the content to reveal at the present time."

The message which Gray is to deliver to the assembly also contains requests for the Administrative Division of Health Affairs, Dr. Henry Clark, administrator. Students Going
The student delegation, which arose as a result of the student Legislature's suggestion to "descend a pressure group on Raleigh and make the students' feelings well known," will consist of Ed McCurrey, David Reid and a number of other student leaders.

The Legislature hearing will start at 2 p.m. in Room 513, Revenue Building in Raleigh. The meeting is an open one. No legislative action will be taken.

The Advisory Budget Commission recently recommended to the Legislature that average room rents be raised to $130 per year. Consolidated University President Gordon Gray will head the administrative delegation and will deliver an address to the committee. Other University officials attending the session include James H. Purks, University provost; W. D. Carmichael, vice president and controller, and W. C. Friday, assistant to the president.

Also attending as representatives for the Consolidated University will be the three chancellors, Carey H. Bostain, N. C.

A delegation of students and University officials will attend the Appropriations and Finance Committee meeting of the state Legislature in Raleigh this afternoon. The group will appeal to the committee concerning the proposed hike in dormitory room fees.

The governor will deliver a public address in Memorial Hall at 8 p. m. and a reception in Graham Memorial will follow.

Windsor said a private dinner honoring the governor will be held in the Carolina Inn Ballroom prior to his address and a tour of the campus is planned for earlier afternoon.

Governor Williams' appearance here will be the first in a series of addresses by prominent Democrats to be presented by the YDC during the spring semester, Windsor said.

Others who have accepted invitations, according to Windsor include former President Harry S. Truman and Sen. Dick Neuberger of Oregon.

Coed Dorm Party Fees Are Upped

Women's dormitory social fees have been raised by a recent vote of the Women's Honor Council, according to Miss Ruth Jones, chairman. Fees have been raised to $2 and the assessment fee to $1 per semester. Former fees were 50 cents and 75 cents. They are required of all residents of women's dorms, and go into effect this semester.

The reason for the increased fees is to allow the dormitories to carry out a more elaborate social program, which has been urged by some administrative officials, said Miss Jones. The officials, she said, want to see more in the way of faculty teas, picnics, study breaks during exams and dances.

The increase in the assessment will eliminate the necessity of "passing the hat" for fund raising projects, Miss Jones said. The treasurer of each dormitory is responsible for the handling of funds, and for working out a tentative budget for the semester with the approval of the executive council of each dormitory.

All Residences To Be Visited In Polio Drive

Every dormitory, fraternity and sorority on campus will be canvassed tomorrow night by members of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and other volunteers in the PiKA's annual campus march against polio, according to Luther Hodges, Jr., director of the drive for PiKA.

The drive will be conducted from door to door, said Hodges, and students are requested to give as much as they possibly can to aid in the battle against infantile paralysis.

"The year just ended witnessed giant strides against polio, but victory is not yet won," said E. C. Smith, director of the March of Dimes Drive in Orange County, yesterday. "Even if the trial vaccine experimented with last year is effective, polio will continue to strike during the years just ahead."

"Orange County appreciates the help the students have given in the past, and we hope that they will contribute as much as they possibly can Wednesday night," Smith added.

The PiKA drive was originally scheduled for January, but it was postponed so that it would not interfere with study for final exams.

New Musicales Set In Spring

Graham Memorial has announced the new series of Petites Musicales for the spring semester.

The Musicales are short concerts given on Sunday evenings and featuring soloists and small ensembles.

The program for the new series is as follows: Feb. 27, William Whitesides, tenor; March 13, a joint recital by Douglas Pam-brough, piano, and the Thomas Wheeler Wind Quartette; March 27, a program of Gilbert and Sullivan music by a group of six voices and piano; April 10, Nara Snor-ricks, piano; April 24, Richard Cox, tenor, and May 1, Marjorie Still, piano.

The Musicales all begin at 8 p. m. and are given in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

Manly Wellman To Talk At Bull's Head Tea

Manly Wade Wellman, Chapel Hill author, will be guest speaker at a Bull's Head Bookshop Tea on Thursday afternoon at 3:45 in the University Library Assembly Room.

Known as a writer of varied topics, Wellman will discuss his latest book, Dead and Gone, 10 stories of old North Carolina murders, just published by the UNC press.

Morehead Planetarium Announces New Schedule

A change in the schedule of special demonstrations for school children at the Morehead Planetarium here was announced yesterday by Director A. F. Jenzano.

Beginning today, school children visiting the Planetarium Wednesday and Thursday mornings will see "Billions of Years Ago," the current public show, according to Jenzano. It will replace "The Sun's Family," originally scheduled for students for the period from Feb. 8 to 25.

"We are making this program change," Jenzano explained, "to afford school groups the opportunity to witness our new program of spiritual and scientific signifi-
