

Two Fires Reported Here Over Weekend

Fire struck on two occasions in Chapel Hill over the weekend. Fire Chief J. S. Boone reported that in both cases the damage was slight.

The first fire broke out at 12:50 p.m., Saturday, in the basement of the Village Apts. on E. Franklin St. A mattress caught fire in the janitor's room. Officials believe the fire was caused by a carelessly dopped cigarette.

The second occurred at 183 Jackson Circle in Victory Village at 2:08 a.m. Sunday.

Robert Fleming, the occupant, was not at home. The fire was discovered by the people upstairs, who smelled smoke and turned in the alarm. It was attributed to a short in the refrigerator system. There was damage to the refrigerator and wall and the apartment was damaged somewhat by smoke.

Cosmopolitan Club Is Active Social Organization On Campus

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

How many people know an Austrian, a Dane, a German, or an Egyptian?

In the Cosmopolitan Club each of these nationalities and many others are represented.

The Cosmopolitan Club, a social organization composed of foreign students and an almost equal number of Americans, meets every other Sunday afternoon in the assembly room of the library. The next meeting will be a week from today. Refreshments are served and the club breaks up into small groups and chats for about 45 minutes. Then one of the members gives a program sometimes illustrated with slides of films.

The conversations and programs at the meetings are conducted in English. "The club gives Americans a chance to meet delightful people from abroad."

"We would very much like to have more students, especially Americans," says John Wible, publicity chairman. The dues are $1.50 per semester.

Dick Carter of Chapel Hill is president of the organization. The vice-president is In Hyun Song of Korea. The secretary is Miss Rosemarie Fussenegger of Austria. Miss Josephine Verdonner, treasurer, was formerly of Holland and is now a naturalized American citizen. Ken Yang of Formosa is the program director and an Austrian. Liselotte Rehor, is in charge of refreshments.

In connection with UN day the club is sponsoring a program in Hillel House at 8 p.m. Wednesday. About 30 members of the Cosmopolitan Club will participate in the program.

Last year about 40 foreign students made a trip to Zebulon. The club co-operated with the YM-YWCA in making this trip possible. Other off-campus visits were made last year also.

There are 31 countries represented in the organization. Asia has the largest majority of members.

Before World War II there was a Cosmopolitan Club, but with the withdrawal of foreign students, the club became inactive. It was not until 1949 that the group was reorganized with the aid of the YMCA and YWCA. Although the Y has a representative in the club, the club is independent.

Gillin Declares Test Shows No Race Superior

"Science has not yet devised a test capable of determining the superiority of one race over another," said John Gillin, professor of Anthropology at UNC, in a talk before the Interracial Fellowship for the Schools Thursday evening.

"As for equality, the only case in which science could speak of true equality between two individuals—of whatever race—would be that of identical twins. In view of this, there seems nothing to be gained by starting from a racial premise when undertaking social reforms."

"What is important," Prof. Gillin continued, "is the individual. Society should be concerned with providing the opportunity for each individual, regardless of race, to develop to the limits of his own capacity—whatever it is."

The speaker said there is no proof of any significant difference in intellectual capacity between Negroes, Mongols and whites.

"Successive waves of immigrants to this country have proved," said Mr. Gillin, "that though looked down on as inferior when they first arrive, given a chance, they succeed in becoming assimilated into our culture—and contribute richly to it. What makes the Southern situation unique and difficult is that the South is one of the few places in the world, so far as I know, where there is only one culture with two groups practicing it in parallel fashion."

Herbert Fred Made Full Instructor In Music

By TOM BYRD

Herbert W. Fred has been appointed as the University's Director of the Bands and has been made a full-time instructor.

HERBERT FRED
... full time job

He is succeeding Dr. E. A. Slocum, who is retiring after 23 years to work with the University Symphony Orchestra.

Fred has been with the University as a graduate assistant since 1953. He is nationally known as a conductor, composer and arranger.

His original works published for bands include: "Fantasy on an American Air," "Spaico," "Moods Interlude" and "Cavalier Overture."

"Skip To My Lou," "Poor Way-faring Stranger" and "Lil' Liza

Jane" are among his arrangements of popular folk songs.

Fred's "Finnish Rhapsody" was released during this past summer. His arrangement of "Pop Goes the Weasel" has been accepted for publication next year.

Fred is working on his Ph.D. degree in musicology at the present. He received his B.M.E. and M.M. degrees from Northwestern University.

A native of Minn., Fred served as Director and Commander of an Air Force Band during World War II. He has served as band director and instrumental teacher in the Evanston (Ill.) Public Schools, 1946-'49.

Other positions include: Director of Bands, Ball State Teachers College, 1949-53, and visiting professor of music, University of Missouri, during the summers of 1951 and 1952.

In addition to teaching, composing and arranging, Fred has served as a guest conductor at clinics and festival concerts in several states.

Graduate Student In Math Wins Grant of $3,000

Marion B. Smith Jr., a graduate student in mathematics, has been named winner of The International Nickel Company, Inc. Fellowship.

The announcement was made by the Institute of Natural Science at UNC.

Smith entered the Graduate School at UNC in 1952 and since 1953 has held part-time teaching positions. He plans to enter teaching and research after completing his graduate work.

The International Nickel Fellowship, newly established at UNC, provides a stipend of $3,000 to the recipient. Under terms of the three-year grant, an additional $1,000 a year is provided for "such purposes of the University as may be determined by its appropriate officers."

The $1,000 has been allotted to the Institute of National Science for use in its program of improving science and math teaching in North Carolina's high schools and colleges.

Graduate Assistant In Dramatic Art Writes Article On Theater, Her Travels To Greece

For about the price of eighty good cigarettes or seventy-five cents, a resident of Athens, Greece can watch the performance of what one theatre critic from UNC calls "fresh and sincere interpretation but unrealistic drama."

The critic is Miss Marcelline Krafchick, who holds a graduate assistantship in the Dept. of Dramatic Art.

She has recently written an article "Theatre in Athens Today" telling of her nine-day trip to Athens "to see what is going on in their theatre world—now."

The article appears in the October issue of the Educational Theatre Journal published by the American Educational Theatre Association. In it, Miss Krafchick described Athen's eight theatres which perform for more than one million people who live in and around the city. Each theatre gives 11 performances every week.

MARCY KRAFCHICK

Miss Krafchick spent a year of study in the English and Drama Dept. at Bristol University, England, on a Fulbright Scholarship. She is publicity director of The Carolina Playmakers and is editor of The Carolina Quarterly, student literary magazine.

According to Miss Krafchick, the modern Greek theatre stresses drama in a mature and independent way but still resembles the French theatre in manner of presentation and acting.
