Rosenbluth Scores 47 As Tar Heels Rout Furman, 94-66

The Orange Bowl: Who Should Go?

The most representative team from the Atlantic Coast Conference will not be playing in the Orange Bowl come New Year's Day. Instead they will be sitting back by the fireside, watching Clemson and Colorado battle via the medium of TV.

In case you haven't guessed, the team we're talking about is Duke, far and away the best club in the ACC. Because of a couple of bad Saturdays, the Blue Devils were knocked out of the New Year's Day scrap. And yet at the end of the season no one questioned the fact that Duke had a better team than did Clemson. That is no one but Tiger fans.

The question is this: Does the ACC want to send their best team or the conference champion? We for one would like to see the matter cleared up one way or another. This "representative team" business leads only to confusion.

The Baseball Beat

Carolina has a new head baseball coach, or at least that's what the official release stated. Actually the new coach, Walter Rabb, has been in charge of the Tar Heel baseballers since 1947 when he took over as field manager for oldtimer Bunn Hearn, victim of a severe stroke. Hearn officially retired only last spring, however.

The 'new' Tar Heel coach is a personable, energetic fellow who has a finger in a little bit of everything. In addition to his coaching duties, Rabb has served as director of the extensive Intramural program here at UNC, and has been a member of the NCAA District Baseball Committee.

This could be the year for Coach Rabb. The affable head mentor will have a veteran rich squad at his command this spring when horsehide season rolls around, and with several outstanding pitchers from former years returning from the inactive list, the Tar Heels could go a long way. One of the squad's brightest young hurlers will be missing this spring. He's Les Gilliland, stringbean righthander from Pinehurst who was killed in a tragic auto accident last Saturday night. Gilliland proved last year in his sophomore season that he was a real comer, and had been counted on for extensive service in the upcoming campaign.

Hurlers returning to Tar Heel livery after a leave of absence include lefty Joe Morgan and Charley Ayeack from service and Tom Maultsby who has just finished a year's ineligibility

Another former Tar Heel baseballer has been making quite a name for himself since graduation. Bruce Holt, regular third baseman on the '54 team, performed with the U. S. Olympic baseball' feam in an exhibition game in Melbourne. The Olympic feam is composed of Army, Navy, Marine and Air, Force men in the Far East command. Airman Holt is stationed at Johnson Air Base in

A Little Bit Of Everything

A quartet of athletes here are having their troubles with the school books. They are frosh halfback Cornell Johnson, swimming All-American Charlie Krepp and varsity basketballers Bill Hathaway and Stan Groll. And over at Duke, Wray Carlton, sophomore halfback who was a leading Blue Devil ground gainer in the season's closing stages, is finding the scholastic going much rougher.

Jack Nelson, formerly a student here at Carolina, grabbed off fourth place honors in the 200 meter butterfly event in the Olympics. Teammate Bill Yorcyzk won the event.

And speaking of the Olympics, who are you picking to win the unofficial team championship? Well, we don't want to be branded 'red', but we're mighty afraid the Russians will pull it out by monopolizing such sports as women's gymnastics and Greco-Roman wrestling. Anyone interested in attending the Carolina-NYU game in Madison Square Garden Dec. 20 should contact Lou Rosenstock at the ZBT fraternity. If enough students are interested, Coach Mc-Guire will reserve an end zone section for Tar Heel supporters.
