Two guards, Tommy Kearns and Tony Radovich, scored a field goal and a free throw each in the last minute of the overtime stanza to wrap up the game for North Carolina. The game had been tied 76-76 at the end of regulation play.

U.S. Whips India In Davis Cup Play

By WILL GRIMSLEY

PERTH, Australia — (AP)— Sam Giammalva, a bowlegged Texan who hits a tennis ball as if it were a hated demon, won his place on the United States Davis Cup team yesterday when he teamed brilliantly with veteran Vic Seixas to clinch the Davis Cup inter-zone final against India.

Told before he took the court that his performance would decide whether he would compete against Australia in the challenge round later this month, the 21-year-old University of Texas student from Houston put on a powerful show with Seixas to crush India's Ramanathan Krishnan and Naresk Kumar in doubles, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

After Bill Talbert, U.S. captain, said "Until further notice this is my doubles team against Australia. Vic and Sammy didn't prove they are the last answer in a doubles team but they teamed well together and right now they look like the best we have."

Talbert acknowledged that before the match he had gone into private conference with Giammalva and told him his position on the team would depend on today's match.

"If Sam had indicated he might not fill the bill, I was ready to experiment with Seixas and Herbie Flam as a team," Talbert added.

Both Talbert and Harry Hopman, Australian Davis Cup captain, must nominate their four man squads for the challenge round today. The lineups appear cut and dried on both counts.

The American team which will be named to face the Aussies at Adelaide Dec. 26-28 will consist of Seixas, a Philadelphia making his sixth Davis Cup campaign, Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., Giammalva and 19-year-old Mike Green of Miami.

The Australian team will be made up of tennis twins Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, plus Neale Fraser and Ashley Cooper.

Rosewall and Hoad are likely to carry the full load.

Talbert insists his singles assignments against the heavily favored Aussies are still undecided and will depend on workouts in the next 10 days. There is still a chance he will go with his youngsters Giammalva and Green on the theory that the oldsters have proved they can't beat Hoad and Rosewall and the experience would pay future dividends for his so-called "kids."

The doubles victory today gave the United States a 3-0 lead over India in the best-of-five series and relegated Sunday's final singles matches to the category of exhibitions.

Wrestlers Top Citadel, 15-10, In Friday Match

The Tar Heel grapplers continued to stay on the undefeated list by out tussling the Citadel Bulldogs, 15-10 Friday night at Charleston, S. C.

This was the third win for the Carolina matmen in four matches. The only blemish on their record is an opening season tie with Washington and Lee.

The strong Tar Heels avenged last year's 27-7 licking received from the Citadel by only given the Bulldogs only two matches and a tie. Carolina lost the 127-pound and the heavyweight matches and the 137-pound match was the tie.

Tar Heel Captain Bob Wagner brought home his third win of the season Friday to stay undefeated. Other Tar Heel grapplers with the same record are sophomores Don Childs and David Atkinson. Charles Boyette had the tie in this match to give him a season record of three wins and a tie.

Perrin Henderson and Dave Ken Hoke are the remaining Tar Heel victors. Henderson and Hoke both have a 2-1 season record.

The matmen will be out of competition until after the holidays. Their next match will be against Virginia January 4.

Rebounding Tar Babies Take On Duke Tomorrow

Carolina's once beaten freshmen basketballers meet their second Big Four opponent of the season tomorrow night in Woollen Gym when they play host to the Duke Blue Imps in a 6 p.m. preliminary to the varsity clash with Maryland.

The Tar Babies will be hoping for better luck on their second stop around the Big Four baby circuit. In their first outing against a local rival, they lost to State's highly touted frosh, 91-39, in Kingston before 2,000 fans.

Before that loss to State, the Tar Babies had whipped to a pair of one-sided wins over the High Point Jayvees and Wilmington Junior College.

Lee Shaffer and Dick Kepley, a pair of jack rabbit skyscrapers with a soft scoring touch, have paced the Carolinians in games to date. Kepley poured in 26 points against the Wolflets while Shaffer followed close behind with 24.

York Larese, a 6-4 forward from New York City, has also been a consistent scorer in games to date and is highly regarded by the Tar Heel brain trust. Holding down the starting guard slots will be diminutive John Crotty and sharp shooting Mike Stepe. Gray Poole, Wally Graham and Sandy Ainslee are front line reserves.

The Blue Imps are somewhat of an unknown quantity, but off their performances in early games must be rated a strong threat. Carroll Youngkin, a burly 6-6 center from North Davidson, and Jack Boyd, a peppery guard, are the ring leaders for Coach Whit Cobb's club.

Tomorrow night's game is the last one for the Tar Babies before the Christmas holidays. They return to action on Jan. 4 when they meet Edwards Military Institute.

Giants Scuttle Eagles To Win Eastern Crown

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)— The New York Giants won their first National Football League Eastern Division championship in 10 years yesterday, crushing the Philadelphia Eagles, 21-7, with a bruising ground attack and a rugged defense.

As a result the Giants headed home for a few days rest and then 10 days of extensive practice for the NFL championship game Dec. 30 at Yankee Stadium against the Western Division winner, either the Detroit Lions or the Chicago Bears who meet head on for the honor tomorrow.

After a scoreless first period there was little doubt that the last place Eagles were merely a stepping stone to the Giants' first Eastern crown since 1946.

Ham Richardson Named Top Netter By USLTA

NEW YORK — (AP)— Twenty-three-year-old Hamilton Richardson, who plays tennis only when he can take time off from his studies at Oxford, yesterday was named as the No. 1 American tennis player for 1956.

Richardson, a native of Baton Rouge, La., heads the mens' singles rankings drawn up by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. And with Vic Seixas of Philadelphia as his partner, Richardson also is listed as No. 1 in men's doubles.

Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., was ranked second. Vic Seixas, rated as the top American amateur after Tony Trabert turned pro, was dropped to third place.

N. C. State Tops GW, 76-62

RALEIGH — (AP)— North Carolina State continued its mastery over George Washington with a 76-62 victory before 4,500 fans here last night.

The Wolfpack's big men, center Bob Seitz and forward John Richter, teamed up to put N. C. State back into the win column after a two-game losing streak. Seitz bucketed 20 points, while Richter had 19.

Richter also bagged 19 rebounds as N. C. State racked up its 17th straight win over the Colonials, who have not beaten the Wolfpack since 1946. It was the fourth straight loss this season for George Washington. They have yet to win one.

The Wolfpack, playing slow and deliberate, led all the way and was out front, 42-31, at the half. Their biggest margin was a 15-point spread midway the second half.
