

Undefeated Wrestlers Face Virginia Cavaliers Tonight

UNC's unbeaten varsity wrestling team will meet Virginia tonight for the toughest match so far this season. The Freshman team will wrestle the Virginia freshman at 7:30 p.m. and the Varsity match will start at 8:30 p.m. in Woollen Gym.

Last year Carolina was completely overpowered by the strong Cavaliers. But this year the two teams are considered equal.

After practice yesterday, spirits were high in the Carolina grapplers' dressing room. Capt. Bob Wagner commented, "I think the fans that turn out surely won't be disappointed."

Going to the mat for the Varsity will be Henry Rhyne at 123, Capt. Bob Wagner at 130, Perrin Henderson at 137, Charlie Boyette at 147, Ken Hoke at 157, Dave Atkinson at 167, Glen Daughtry at 177, and Don Childs at the heavyweight class.

The lineup for the Freshman will be Curt Champlin at 123, Bill Suttle at 130, Joe Perinni at 137, Jim Welborn at 147, Bill Russell at 157, Jim Hudson at 167, Benno Sack at 177, and Mike Pittman at heavyweight.

Heads Up!

Joe Quigg, 41, Carolina center, and Cal Ramsay, 37, NYU forward, go high in the air for a rebound in action under the boards in the UNC-NYU game played Dec. 20 in Madison Square Garden. In the background is Tar Heel forward Pete Brennan, 35. Carolina survived a tight NYU zone defense to win the game, 64-59. Bob Cunningham was high scorer with 16 points. (Photo by Larry Morris.)

TAR HEELS REMAIN UNBEATEN:

UNC Cagers Take Six Wins Over Holidays; Win Classic

By LARRY CHEEK
Like Ol' Man River, the Carolina basketball team keeps rolling along. Over the holidays, the busy Tar Heels rolled to 6 consecutive victories on foreign courts to extend their unbeaten string to 11 and hang on to the runnerup spot behind Kansas in all the major cage polls. Three of the wins came over northern squads in games played before critical metropolitan eyes in Boston and New York, while the other three came in the south's greatest hardwood extravaganza, the Dixie Classic. Juiciest plum of all for Coach Frank McGuire and his charges was the Dixie Classic triumph in Raleigh's Reynolds Coliseum. The Tar Heels whipped Wake Forest, 63-55, last Saturday night in the finals after breezing by Utah and Duke in preliminary games.

It was the first successful Classic effort for Coach McGuire in five long and often lean years on the Hill. Two years ago the Tar Heels were knocked out in the semi-finals by N. C. State and went on to finish third. Last year they reached the finals only to be derailed by a red hot State team again. This season Wake Forest took care of the Case-men, and the Tar Heels marched to the crown.

The Tar Heels got quite a scare in their first northern game against NYU in Madison Square Garden, and it was all they could do to pull out a 64-59 win over the fighting Violets. An airtight defense devised by canny Coach Howard Cann that limited Lennie Rosenbluth to nine points almost did the trick for NYU, but Bob Cunningham, Pete Brennan and Joe Quigg took up the scoring slack.

The road weary UNC quint pulled themselves together the next night in the Boston Garden, to handily trim Dartmouth, 89-61, as Rosenbluth hit 30 points to break the all-time Carolina scoring record formerly held by Al Lifson. The Tar Heels climaxed their trip to yankeeland one day later by topping stubborn Holy Cross, 83-70, in a game that was close until the final minutes.

Then came the biggest and best holiday tournament in the land, the 8th annual Dixie Classic. Pre-tourney speculation had Carolina and West Virginia, both unbeaten, running as co-favorites with Duke not far behind. Utah, State and Wake Forest were classified as dark-horses, while DePaul and Iowa didn't figure.

And what happened? It was all Carolina, as the highly regarded Mountaineers from the hills of West Virginia lost three in a row to finish last in the eight team field. Duke did little better, losing their last two starts after beating West Virginia to finish fourth. State took third, Wake Forest was second, Utah fifth, DePaul sixth and Iowa seventh.

The tall Tar Heels opened their title bid on Thursday night by stomping Utah's once beaten Redskins, 97-76. And just to prove it was no fluke they powered past highly rated Duke in the semi-final round, 87-71, to enter the championship game against the Demon Deacons, 73-66 conquerors of State.

It was in the title scrap that Carolina's class and poise became evident. With Tommy Kearns sparking the attack from backcourt, the Chapel Hillians jumped into a quick lead and never allowed the plucky Deacs to come any closer than six points. The final was 63-55, and there was no doubt in anyone's mind who the new Dixie Classic champions were.

Frosh Cagers Go After Fourth Tonite At EMI

Carolina's frosh cagers, idle for 18 days, will go back to the hardwood tonight down east at Salemberg where they will meet Eastern Military Institute.

Although the Tar Babies' only get together since the Duke freshmen game was yesterday, they will be heavily favored. An indication of E. M. I.'s strength is a bad licking given to them by the Duke Frosh early in the season. The Tar Babies gave the Blue Imps an 85-53 licking just before the holidays.

So far this season the Tar Babies hold a 3-1 record. They have conquered, High Point J. V.'s, Wilmington Junior College, and the Duke freshmen; and were beaten by the State frosh.

Tar Baby coach Vince Grimaldi pointed out yesterday that the E. M. I. gym is very small and will be a blessing to both squads after the long Christmas lay-off.

It will please you in a hundred ways!
