Hallford Elected New SP Chairman

Jim Holmes resigned as Student Party chairman last night. He was replaced by Sonny Hallford.

Holmes tendered his resignation due to "personal reasons." The party accorded him a standing ovation.

In his opening speech to the party, Hallford said:

"This year there is a pioneer who is leading the way into phases of student government which have long remained unexplored. We are the settlers who will come behind and benefit. It is up to us!"

Chairman Hallford also called for "unity" and asked party members to "lend" to the party:

1. "Your ability."
2. "Willingness to do whatever confronts us."
3. "Part of your time."

"With these, we can't lose," he concluded.

Holmes expressed his "joy and gratification" at being able to serve the party and sounded the optimistic note that he felt the new chairman would "be rewarded by a continued showing of voter approval in the spring election."

Hallford, a senior from Rocky Mount, was recommended to party members by the group's advisory board.

The meeting was a special one called exclusively for the purpose of naming a new chairman.

Tickets To WCTC-UNC Game Are Now On Sale

Tickets to the Carolina-Western Carolina basketball game to be played in Cullowhee Jan. 30 are now on sale at the information desk in Graham Memorial. Approximately 70 tickets are on sale at $1.50 each. 100 tickets were originally allotted to UNC for the game but at least 30 have been sold since yesterday morning.

Last Concert

The final Tuesday Evening Concert of the fall semester at UNC will be presented today by Dr. Wilton Mason, associate professor of music.

Dr. Mason will appear at 8 p.m. in Hill Music Hall, presenting two piano selections never performed previously on the campus: "Suite in E Minor" by French composer Rameau, and "Pictures at an Exhibition" by the Russian composer Moussorgsky.

The Tuesday Evening Series, open to the public without charge, is sponsored by the UNC Music Dept.

PETITION STARTS UP

Students Ask Return To Quarter System

A petition to re-establish the quarter system has been drawn up by Julian Sessoms, a UNC student. The semester system was begun here in the fall of 1953.

This petition does not have a necessary majority of the student body's signatures, but a later petition, according to Sessoms, could embody the force of the student body.

The petition states that the quarter system would give the student more time to study and relieve the pressure of having five to six courses at once. The petition further states that the quarter system would allow the faculty to cover the course more thoroughly, and also would reduce strain by completion of all exams before holiday periods.

The petition asks that students see their legislative representative and have the legislature vote favorably on this matter.

The petition is as follows:

To the Student Body:
We the undersigned believing that the re-establishment of the quarter system, to replace the ineffectual semester system, to be beneficial to every student and to the faculty also, be adopted immediately. The benefits of three courses at once meeting five hours a week allows the student to do better work and to learn more. It also gives him more

Menon Here

V. Krishna Menon will speak here Feb. 11, provided his work at the United Nations does not necessitate his presence there, according to Jim Holmes, Chairman of the Carolina Forum.

Menon has been forced to cancel his appearance at Carolina twice. The confirmation of Menon's February 11, appearance was made by R. Bhandar, private secretary to the minister, in a letter to Holmes.

Bhandar states that the debate on Kashmir will come up next week, and that there is no indication when it will end. However, he adds, there are no other important matters before the United Nations which have not been disposed of.

news in brief

High Court Finds Error

RALEIGH—(AP)—A case in which a Chapel Hill man wanted to test the authority of officers to check his driver's license failed to achieve its purpose in the State Supreme Court.

The high court found errors in the warrant against Theodore M. Danziger and halted judgement in the case.

Danziger was charged with "unlawfully and willfully failing and refusing to show his driver's license to an officer."

The Supreme Court said the warrant should have stated that a person is required to exhibit his license only when operating a car or when in charge of a car. The court also said the warrant should have named the officer to whom Danziger refused to show his license.

Danziger appealed the case from the February, 1956 term of Orange Superior Court.

Bogart Dead

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Movie tough guy Humphrey Bogart finally gave in Monday to the foe he couldn't lick—cancer. He died at his home at the age of 56.

Saudi Arabia Protests

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—Saudi Arabia called on the United Nations Monday to intervene in what it called armed Israeli aggression in the Gulf of Aqaba. In letters to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and the Security Council, Saudi Arabia's delegation accused Israel of launching two attacks on the Saudi Arabian mainland in the past three days.

French Hit Rebels

ALGIERS—(AP)—French forces supported by planes and helicopters shot down about 40 Nationalist rebels in a two-day operation near Nedromah, in Western Algeria, reports reaching here Monday said.

McKeel Will Speak On Wednesday

The do's and don'ts of employment seeking and interview technique will be discussed at the second in a series of Career Meetings to be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in 105 Gardner Hall.

C. A. McKeel, manager of the Personnel Administration Department Manufacturing Division of Vick Chemical Company, will be the guest speaker. The meetings are being sponsored jointly by the Placement Service, Alpha Kappa Psi, and Delta Sigma Pi, honorary commerce fraternities.

McKeel will present a sample interview between a supposed employer and his prospective employee. He hopes to show not only the probable questions asked in such a situation, but also the underlying facts an employer would be seeking through them.

Many a chance for a job is lost by a person who has a poor technique for applying when actually he is very well qualified for the position according to the local Placement Service.

"This information, provided by one who is an authority in his field, should prove invaluable," the service said. "Anyone interested is invited to attend."

McKeel, a native of Greene County, attended Duke University. Prior to his association with Vick Chemical Company, he was a special agent with the North Carolina Rating and Inspection Bureau and served in General Insurance, Mortgage Loan and Property Management. McKeel is also a member of a number of professional organizations and of the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce.

Army Announces Cut In Time For Draft-Age College Men

Law Also Affects The Nat. Guard

WASHINGTON—The Army Monday announced a major revision of the military service and training program that will allow college-age men to escape the draft altogether.

The men, between the ages of 18 and one-half and 25, can volunteer for six months active duty. Men who take this option will spend 5 and one-half years in the ready reserve, less nearly four months waiting period before they start their six months training.

The revision requires all National Guardsmen to take six months active duty training.

The announcement brought an immediate protest from the National Guard Assn. which threatened to carry the fight to Congress.

The Army decision, described as based on a directive from Secretary of Defense Wilson, automatically will reduce the military service obligation of all except career soldiers and will provide a way for most youths to escape draft duty altogether.

Under the new order, three years of training and service in the ready reserve will be cut from the military obligation of pre-draft age men who volunteer to take six months of active duty training.

Young men who entered the reserves through this option will hereafter serve 4 and one-half instead of 7 and one-half years in a ready reserve unit after completing training, and then have three years in the standby reserve. This latter duty requires no regular training or organized military effort.

The new order also reduces from two to one year the required service in the ready reserve for draftees and others who spend two years on active duty.

Men who spend three years of voluntary active duty with the Army will hereafter have one year instead of two years in the ready reserve and will then be transferred to the standby reserve.

McLean Needs 2nd Semester Counselors

Counselors are still needed for second semester men's orientation which will be held Jan. 30-31, according to Orientation Chairman Bill McLean.

McLean said second semester counselors will not have to meet until the night of Jan. 29.

"All those men students who were counselors this fall or in previous years are eligible," he said. "The program itself, because of the time limit, will be very brief as compared to the fall program."

He asked those interested in being counselors to leave their names and addresses with Mrs. Grassman in the student government office on the second floor of Graham Memorial. The telephone number is 4352.

Aldermen Remove Restriction

The Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen voted Monday night to suspend until March 15 the two-hour parking restriction on S. Columbia Street.

At the end of the 60-day period, the present regulation will go back into effect.

Town Manager Tom Rose referred to a letter written him by student body President Bob Young. Young's letter outlined progress made by a number of fraternities in the area toward solution of the problem.

Young's letter said two of the fraternities — Delta Kappa Epsilon and Beta Theta Pi — are in the process of building parking lots behind their houses. A third, Sigma Nu, is currently raising funds for a lot.

Four others — Sigma Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Lambda Phi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon — have no property of their own for parking lots.

Young's letter said "... when the work of these three fraternities is complete, the parking area is complete, the parking area in Big Fraternity Court should take care of all the automobiles owned by the other four fraternities."

Young expressed gratitude to the board for its decision. He called it a nice gesture of cooperation on the town's part.

The aldermen placed the restriction on S. Columbia Street last summer. It limits parking to two hours from Cameron Avenue to Franklin Street.

Aside from reporters, President Young was the only University student evident at the hearing.

Jobs Available For Next Semester Now

Students interested in working next semester should make applications at the Student Aid Office as soon as possible, the office announced yesterday.

Most jobs available will be in the dining hall due to a change in class schedules, according to the office.

Several scholarships will also be available. Transfer students from four year colleges will be eligible for scholarships if they obtain a "C" average for the fall semester. Students transferring from four year colleges are not eligible for scholarships until they have completed one semester.

Approximately 400 students working part-time on campus obtained jobs through the Student Aid Office. Approximately the same number hold scholarships awarded through the office. Over half of these students hold both scholarships and part-time jobs.

A part of the scholarship fund is set aside for emergencies. The office estimates that from 20 to 40 scholarships are awarded a semester through the emergency fund supply.

Scholarships and part-time jobs are granted primarily on financial need and scholastic achievement. These students should not normally have a car or belong to a social fraternity or sorority.

Scholarships are renewable each semester if students maintain a "C" average. If a person fails to make this average, he may be placed on probation for a semester. He must then make up the lacking quality points or lose the scholarship.

Local Restaurant Changes Hands

Shown above are the present owners of the Carolina Coffee Shop, Mrs. Sophie Livas, and Donald Belton, a local resident who will become the restaurant's owner Feb. 1. Belton has been living in Chapel Hill since 1953 where he has been employed as a salesman for an orthopedic supplies firm. He plans a few remodeling changes to increase the seating capacity of the restaurant. Mrs. Livas has operated the restaurant, opened 34 years ago by the late George Livas, since the death of her husband last year.

LEAVES IN JUNE

Dr. Horn's resignation, offered several weeks ago, will become effective June 30. He will then become librarian of Occidental College, a private school near Los Angeles.

Horn To Become Librarian Of College On West Coast

By CLARKE JONES

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY TAR HEEL
RALEIGH—The resignation of UNC Librarian Andrew Horn was approved Monday by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Horn's resignation, offered several weeks ago, will become effective June 30. He will then become librarian of Occidental College, a private school near Los Angeles.

His resignation was due to "personal reasons."

There was speculation last week Dr. Horn resigned out of despair because the state Legislature two years ago cut library funds in half for the 1955-57 biennium.

UTAH NATIVE

Dr. Horn, 43, is a native of Utah. He has taught history at several institutions and has written numerous documents about library work.

From 1948 to the summer of 1954, he served as assistant librarian and associate librarian at the University of California in Los Angeles (UCLA).

He came here as head librarian in the summer of 1954. Included among his accomplishments here are establishments of:

1. "Library Notes," a weekly journal to inform library employees of activities in the library.

2. An administrative manual—widely acclaimed throughout the country—to assist library personnel in administrative work.

3. A television program, "Books and People," which has introduced the library into homes of several thousand of the state's citizens.

There are 12 libraries currently on campus, largely through Horn's efforts.

OTHERWISE ROUTINE

The Executive Committee meeting was otherwise routine. In addition to accepting Dr. Horn's resignation, the committee, meeting with Gov. Hodges, also:

Opera Ballet Here to Present 'The Merry Widow,' 'Revenge'

Franz Lehár's "The Merry Widow" and "Revenge" are the productions to be staged in the Chicago Opera Ballet's appearance on Jan. 22 in Memorial Hall at 8 p.m.

Ruth Page's company will present the original ballets with a company of 48 soloists, corps de ballet, complete scenery, costumes and orchestra.

Soloists for the performance will be Marjorie Tallchief and George Skibine, leading dancers of the Marquis de Cuevas Ballet of Paris. Both artists have not been seen in America in several years and have obtained a leave of absence from the Cuevas Ballet to join the Chicago Opera Ballet.

In addition to these solo dancers, the cast includes Sonia Arova, Job Sanders, Barbara Steele, and Kenneth Johnson.

The works chosen by Ruth Page for the initial Chicago Ballet tour have been given a new interpretation by the producer. "The Merry Widow," "Revenge" is a melodramatic tale adapted from Verdi's opera "Il Trovatore."

A student rate of $4 has been set for this performance and the remaining three programs on the Chapel Hill Concert Series. The student seats are unreserved in the downstairs area of Memorial Hall.

Cold Wave To Continue Til Wednesday

Old man winter will continue to plague the Chapel Hill area with his presence today.

The present cold wave has been predicted by the Raleigh-Durham Airport Weather Bureau to continue today with temperatures ranging from a low of 20 this morning to the upper 30's later today.

Relief may be in sight, however, if a predicted slow warming trend starts Wednesday.

Spring Elections Now Set For April 2

The tentative date for the spring elections has been set for Tuesday, April 2.

Elections Board Chairman Ralph Cummings made the announcement yesterday. Cummings said that any run-offs necessary after the election would be conducted on April 9.
