OF COLUMBIA ST. BAN:

Frats Still Want Permanent Lifting

By NEIL BASS

General consensus from fraternities affected by the Board of Aldermen's 60-day lift of the two-hour parking restriction on Columbia St. revealed yesterday they were "pleased" but still prefer a permanent lift.

The aldermen voted at a Monday night meeting to lift the ban until March 15, to allow fraternities on Columbia St. between Franklin St and Cameron Ave. time to "alleviate" their parking problem.

The same two-hour limit, imposed initially last summer, will be reimposed at that date.

REACTION

C. H. Rand, Delta Kappa Epsilon vice president, said he was "pleased" with the temporary lifting "for the sake of other fraternities." The Dekes have no parking problem due to recent construction of a parking lot capable of accommodating some 23 cars.

Hugh McColl, Beta Theta Pi president, said he was glad the restriction had been lifted because it would temporarily "relieve pressure on the other houses."

"I would prefer that it be lifted permanently, however," McColl said. This was the general comment of all other fraternity spokesmen questioned.

Hosea Wilson, Sigma Chi vice president, said he was "definitely pleased" with the 60-day lift, but thought the ban, in its original form, is "definitely unfair to people living in Big Fraternity Court."

Dan Clark, Pi Kappa Alpha president, said he was "very pleased" with the temporary lifting but was "heartily in favor of complete ban removal."

"We are financially unable to purchase any land for construction of a parking lot... thus we can do nothing," Clark said.

Lennie Sacks, Pi Lambda Phi treasurer, told a reporter he was "very happy" with the ban's temporary lift but hoped "for complete lifting of the ban."

Jack Jones, Sigma Alpha Epsilon vice president, said he was pleased with the lift, but he felt it "only helps relieve the crowded situation during the temporary 60-day period." No permanent relief has been brought, he stressed.

SPACE LACKING

Bill Morgan, Sigma Nu president, said he was "glad" the aldermen had seen fit to lift the ban on a temporary basis, but felt there was not much his group could do for permanent alleviation due to the lack of necessary land.

"The parking situation is still pretty bad," Morgan said.

The aldermen lifted the restriction for 60 days due to a "progress report" made by the seven fraternities involved to President Bob Young. Young outlined the progress in a letter to town manager Tom Rose.

They voted in Nov. to lift the ban for the 60-day period if fraternities proved they could take action to alleviate their congested parking problem.

Graduate Students Can Benefit From Revised Program

By GRAHAM SNYDER

College graduate students can derive optional benefit from the Army's new revision of the military service program.

F. C. Shepard, Veterans and Military Advisor, said Tuesday the new order represents an option for military service to the college graduate—either election of the six months active duty and 5½ years reserve duty or two years draftee active service and one year reserve.

"One advantage lies in the fact that the graduate will be able to avoid the draft, if he elects to serve the voluntary six months and the 5½ years compulsory active reserve duty," Shepard said.

Shepard added, "When they graduate, a few students may take advantage of this opportunity."

Shepard stated, "I have not received a copy of the proposed bill, and therefore my opinions are based on what came out in the newspapers."

An anonymous source on the campus explained that the bill, issuing from a directive by Army

Tar Heel Cagers Stage Late Scoring Spree To Rack Up One-Sided 83-57 Decision Over Wolfpack In Raleigh

Rosey High Scorer, Brennan Tallies 22

By LARRY CHEEK

RALEIGH — North Carolina's proud and classy Tar Heels, playing like the champions they are, held their position as the nation's only major unbeaten team here last night as they rang the bell for 30 points in the last seven minutes to turn back stubborn N. C. State, 83-57. It was consecutive victory No. 15 for Carolina and their fifth without a loss in Atlantic Coast Conference play. They are assured of remaining unbeaten for at least two more weeks. Their next game is with Western Carolina at Cullowhee Jan. 30.

The final score is no true indication of what the Tar Heels had to go through to walk out of Reynolds Coliseum victorious. With seven minutes to go, it was anybody's ball game, as Carolina possessed only a three point lead, 53-50.

But then Lennie Rosenbluth, the night's high scorer with 29 points, and Pete Brennan began to hit on free throws to put the Carolinians out of reach. Between the two of them, they poured in 11 straight free tosses to give their team a 10-point lead, 64-54. And for all practical purposes, the game was out of reach for the desperately trying Wolfpack.

Rosenbluth led both teams in scoring, hitting 6 out of 16 from the floor and 17 of 19 at the free throw line. Brennan collected four field goals and 14 charity tosses to finish with 22. The Tar Heels

McGuire Calls Game 'Pack' 'Plenty Tough'

By BILL KING

RALEIGH — The smiling Irishman with the proverbial shamrocks was smiling but he was also heaving a big sigh of relief. "I'm glad that one is over," said Coach Frank McGuire after his club's 83-57 victory over N. C. State in the Coliseum last night.

McGuire, above all people, knew that the final score was no indication of what went on in the tremendous Wolfpack-stomping grounds. Coach Everett Case's boys were tough and McGuire knew it.

"They've got a tough ball club," said the friendly Tar Heel coach. "Of course losing Richter was a tremendous blow to them (State), he continued, "but our boys played a fine ball game. We didn't press too much when they closed in on us in the last half, the boys always seem to play better ball in the clutch."

Asked what he considered the turning point in the ball game was, McGuire said: "I think the turning point definitely came when Seitz fouled out. He is a good man under those boards."

McGuire was also highly complimentary of Ken Clark, the boy who did such a fine job of filling in for the injured Richter. "Ken is a good ball player and a nice kid," he said; "we've known Ken a long time—he really found himself out there tonight."

Now the Tar Heels take time out for a two weeks battle with the books before returning to action Jan. 30 in Cullowhee against Western Carolina in a dedication game.

Israeli Troops To Leave Sinai

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—An Israeli delegation spokesman announced last night Israeli troops will pull out of the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula by Jan. 22 except for one point commanding the Gulf of Aqaba.

He said U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was informed of the decision by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban today.

The development came significantly just before the return here of Mrs. Golda Meir, Israeli foreign minister, and as the African-Asian block in the UN moved to

Ernie Pyle Award Goes To Kuralt

Charles Kuralt, a former editor of The Daily Tar Heel, has won a $1,000 Ernie Pyle award for writing hailed as "sensitive, warm with affection for" obscure people, and with excellent touches of humor where that is needed."

Kuralt, 22-year-old reporter-columnist for the Charlotte News, was announced today as one of two national winners. The other is Gordon S. Bish Thompson of the Evansville, Ind., Press. They received bronze medallion plaques in addition to their cash awards.

The Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance contest judges decided that their writing and reporting "most nearly exemplified the style and craftsmanship" of the late Ernie Pyle, famed World War II reporter and columnist.

At UNC Kuralt moved from managing editor of The Daily Tar Heel to the editor's desk for the 1954-55 school year. In addition to his newspaper activities he was a member of the Order of the Golden Fleece and the Society of the Holy Grail.

Applications are available from Mrs. Charles C. Perrin, Box 925, Paoli, Pa.

DKE Parking Lot

Shown above is a parking lot which Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity is presently constructing. The DKEs and two other fraternities—Sigma Nu and Beta Theta Pi also plan to build lots as a result of a two hour parking restriction in front of Big Fraternity Court. The three lots, when completed, are expected to take care of parking problems of four other fraternities in the area affected by the restriction. The regulation was put into effect last summer by the local Board of Aldermen.

Old Man Winter Gives Snow For Exam Season

Holding to tradition, old man winter offered a sprinkling of snow to the Chapel Hill area yesterday to start off the exam season.

The slight flurries of snow, mixed with sleet, began at dawn yesterday, changing to "freezing rain by the end of the day."

According to the Raleigh-Durham Airport Weather Bureau, a very cold air mass moved over N.C. Monday night, followed by a low pressure area which swarmed along the boundaries of the cold front over the south eastern states. A low pressure area which formed over Louisiana caused rain over most of the south east and brought snow to North Carolina.

The storm is expected to turn to the north east along the N. C. coast today. Snow, freezing rain and sleet are predicted to end by early this morning.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a low of 23 to a high of 26. Today's temperatures are expected to be in the upper 30's, with no snow foreseen. Below normal temperatures are predicted to continue for several more days.

Competition Is Open For Delta Scholarships

Applications are now available for competition for Delta Delta scholarship, according to information released today by the Office of the eDan of Women.

Eligibility for the scholarships requires that a women student be on a campus having a Tri Delta Chapter, and that she be "well-qualified as a student, showing promise of valuable service in the future."

Announcement of award winners will be made by May 15, according to the Dean's Office.

Applications deadline is February 23. Applications are available from Mrs. Charles C. Perrin, Box 925, Paoli, Pa.

Ballet Co. To Appear Tuesday

Franz Lehar's "The Merry Widow" and "Revenge" are the productions to be staged in the Chicago Opera Ballet's appearance Tuesday in Memorial Hall at 8 p.m.

Ruth Page's company will present the original ballets with a company of 48 soloists, corps de ballet, complete scenery, costumes and orchestra.

Soloists for the performance will be Marjorie Tallehiel and George Skibine, leading dancers of the Marquis de Cuevas Ballet of Paris. Both artists have not been seen in America in several years and have obtained a leave of absence from the Cuevas Ballet to join the Chicago Opera Ballet.

In addition to these solo dancers, the cast includes Sonia Arova, Job Sanders, Barbara Steele, and Kenneth Johnson.

The works chosen by Ruth Page for the initial Chicago Ballet tour have been given a new interpretation by the producer. "The Merry Widow," "Revenge" is a melodramatic tale adapted from Verdi's opera "Il Trovatore."

A student rate of $4 has been set for this performance plus the remaining three programs on the Chapel Hill Concert Series. The student series seats are unreserved in the downstairs area of Memorial Hall.

UNC Gridders To Be Moved In Cobb Dorm

Tar Heel football players will live together in a University dormitory next year.

This was announced by Chancellor Robert House, who said he favored the idea.

The athletes will room together in Cobb Dormitory, said House. Their rooms will adjoin each other.

Purpose of the move is to allow the athletes to get rest, peace and quiet—hard to get in most dormitory setups, said House.

The chancellor said the move "won't violate any right of any man who is (in the dormitory) now." Football players will move in "as vacancies occur," said House.

Chancellor House said head football Coach Jim Tatum had requested such an arrangement a year ago. "It has long been an idea that it was better to shift (football players) around the campus," said House.

"But I see nothing sacred in the idea. Therefore, I'm perfectly willing to experiment."

Cobb, the latest and biggest dormitory for men here, was chosen because it is convenient to Woolen Gymnasium and the Monogram Club, said the chancellor.

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary yesterday included:

CAROLINA STUDENTS AT GRADUATION

... what does the draft mean this year?

No UP Meeting

The University Party did not meet last night, according to Chairman Mike Weinman, because of the Carolina-State basketball game.

The party will hold its next meeting Feb. 5. Weinman said Sam Magill, director of student activities, will speak before the group at that time.

A negative opinion voiced opposition to "the tedium of having to
