BUDGET RECOMMENDS $8 MILLION FOR UNC

Hodges Requests Changes In Tax Structures, Wages

RALEIGH—(AP)—Here are highlights from the legislative program which Gov. Hodges last night placed before the 1957 General Assembly:

Tax revisions—nearly one-third of the 29-page message the Governor read to the legislature dealt with changes in the tax structures recommended by a special study commission. Hodges laid heavy stress on the need to revise income taxes on industry as "another tool in our efforts to raise per capita income."

Public education—Hodges urged that the state provide "A good minimum on an equal basis for all children in our 100 counties." He also declared that state leadership and support must be "supplemented by funds from local sources." He recommended increased appropriations to meet rising enrollment and a pay increase raise for school teachers.

Highways—Recommendations of a study commission for a seven-member highway body to replace the present 14 commissioners and to reorganize the highway department was strongly urged by Hodges.

Prisons—Another report recommending that the prisons system be separated from the highway commission also was "strongly" endorsed by the Governor. Diversion of highway revenue "to take care of a legitimate expense of the general government ought to stop as soon as reasonably practical," he said.

Highway Safety—"Major Proposals" of the Motor Vehicles Dept. were recommended by the Governor. These include additional patrolmen, a mechanical inspection program, use of chemical blood tests as binding evidence in the trial of drunken driving cases, and others.

Minimum wage—A state minimum wage law was urged to raise "the level of our very low income earners, something we badly need to do."

Reorganization—The Governor asked for creation of a new state Dept. of administration, to consolidate service agencies of state government. He also urged that the commission or reorganization of state government be continued. In addition, Hodges asked for creation of a capitol building commission to consider a new capitol building for the state, and suggested that a commission be set up to submit recommendations for changes in the state constitution.

Hodges repeated to the legislature recommendations from his 1955 legislative message that the civilian absentee ballot provisions for the general election be abolished, and that the question of legal liquor sales be submitted to a vote.

Jaroff Leads Cossack In Appearance Tonight

Serge Jaroff, diminutive director of the Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers, will put his men through their fast-stepped paces tonight when the Russian troupe appears in Memorial Hall at 8.

Sponsored by the Student Entertainment Committee, the program will feature folk songs, church music, and operatic melodies delivered with an original Russian flavor. Added to the vocal music are traditional Cossack dances performed by members of the chorus.

Cossack is a Mongolian word meaning "man on horseback," but in their world-wide tours the Don Cossacks have girdled the globe by almost every available means.

The troupe first visited the United States in 1930 and has appeared in this country annually for 26 seasons. As a result of their growing success, they have been obliged to rename themselves the Original Don Cossack Chorus to avoid confusion with imitators.

WUNC-FM'S GAME BROADCAST:

Commercial Complaint Caused Cancellation

By CHARLIE SLOAN

Cancellation of WUNC-FM's basketball coverage planned for last night came as the result of a misinterpretation of the University's broadvision agreement with commercial radio and television stations.

WUNC Radio Director John Young explained that when University officials met with representatives from radio and television stations in WUNC-TV's broadcast area it was agreed that three games would be broadcast.

Since then the proposed broadvision of the State game has been cancelled.

When Young discovered that no radio or television stations in the area were planning to cover the Virginia game in Charlottesville last night the WUNC-FM staff started making arrangements to report the play-by-play.

Sunday morning, after widespread publicity was released on WUNC-FM's coverage Consolidated University Vice President and Finance Officer, William Carmichael notified Young that the University had received a complaint that the coverage was in violation of the broadvision agreement made Jan. 15.

Young said the University group had not meant for radio to be included in the agreement, but that the University's policy is to "work cooperatively with all groups."

According to Young the University was faced with the decision of whether to go back on the publicity to their audience and cancel the game or go ahead and broadcast the game and appear to break faith with the commercial stations.

A group of WUNC-FM staffers had already been sent to Charlottesville when the cancellation was made. The Athletic Association had arranged to pay the line charges, and were offering complete cooperation, said Young.

Speaking of the broadcast's unexpected cancellation, Young said, "I regret very much we can't carry it."

The broadvision of the State game was cancelled because of heavy conflicts with high school games the same night. Young explained that for most schools it will be the final night of the season and WUNC-TV could not compete with commercial stations carrying high school games.

Four Players Drop Out Of School: Tatum

Four football players who were expected to report for Spring practice will not be returning to school, Coach Jim Tatum said yesterday.

He added that he had no information concerning the alleged suspension of four players for Honor Council violations and expressed concern over the rumor.

"Academic difficulty" was cited by Tatum for the four players dropping out of school.

He would not elaborate further on the situation, but indicated that he expected three of the four boys who dropped out this Spring to return in the Fall.

The four who dropped out for "academic reasons" were Ronnie Koes, sophomore center from Duryea, Penn.; Wally Vale, senior fullback from Ellersore, Va.; Fred Mueller, sophomore of Iserlin, N. J.; and Jack Menahan of Bela-Cynwyd, Pa.

No Provisions For Union, Married Students Housing

By CLARKE JONES

Special To The Daily Tar Heel
RALEIGH—An appropriation of over $8 million dollars was recommended here to the General Assembly Monday night for the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

There were no recommendations made for housing for married students or for a new student union building at UNC.

The recommended appropriations were part of the North Carolina budget for the 1957-59 biennium submitted to the General Assembly by Gov. Hodges and the Advisory Budget Commission.

The exact total recommended for the University at Chapel Hill came to $8,051,751. UNC had asked for over $10 million.

Requests by the University for married students' housing and a new student union building were $1,740,000 and $1,242,500, respectively.

The Consolidated University, composed of UNC, Woman's College at Greensboro and N. C. State at Raleigh, received a recommendation for general administration of $225,922.

A $50,000 appropriation was also recommended to the Consolidated University for alterations and repairs to the former Institute of Government building where the Consolidated offices may move.

UNC received a recommendation of approximately $5 1/2 million for capital improvements. It had requested over $16 million.

Included in the improvement recommendations are $1,150,000 for a pharmacy building, $1 million for three new men's dormitories, $1,200,000 for a physics building and $790,000 for a dormitory for men students in health affairs.

The Division of Health Affairs at UNC received a recommended appropriation of $3,648,000. It had requested $4,236,544.

The total for administration and general expense at UNC comes to $535,048. This included the salaries of the chancellor and the controller and business manager, $15 thousand and $12 thousand, respectively. Both positions received the amount asked for.

The salaries of Consolidated University officers include: President, $18,000 as requested; vice-president and finance officer, $15,000 as requested; vice-president and provost, $15,000 from a request of $16,500 and business officer and treasurer, $12,000 from a $13,000 request.

The University's budget requests are led through three different channels which accounts for the usual practice of receiving lower recommendations than were originally asked for.

The University's first request is made to the Board of Higher Education which then makes a recommendation to the Advisory Budget Commission.

The Budget Commission then recommends appropriations to the state legislature through Gov. Hodges.

The Budget Commission recommends what it figures to be the University's total requirements—almost $14 million—and subtracts its recommended estimate of receipts—almost $6 million. This gives the Commission its recommendation.

Armstrong Headlines Weekend's Performers

By EDITH MacKINNON

The torrid tones of trumpeter Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong to round out the musical bill of fare. The entertainment for this week-end's, Feb. 14-16, gala Mardi Gras festivities.

For a week-end of sound, the Mitchell-Ruff Duo and Dick Gable's All Stars join Armstrong to round out the musical bill of fare.

An informal jam session by the Dick Gable group will be held Thursday night in Graham Memorial's main lounge. On Friday the Mitchell-Ruff Duo will present a concert in Memorial Hall. Armstrong will be featured for the formal dance Saturday in Woollen Gym.

Called the U.S.'s "trumpet-blowing ambassador," Louis Armstrong has spread his musical fame throughout Europe and other parts of the world. One of his greatest successes came in Britain, where his jazz fans included such notables as Princess Margaret and the Duke of Kent.

The quotable Satchmo has his own colorful views on jazz and the musical world. When he was asked the reasons for the return in popularity of Dixieland jazz, Louis grinned, "Daddy, it ain't never been away."

Part clown and part musician, Armstrong firmly believes in the saying "When you play jazz, you don't lie. You play from the heart."

The U.S. State Dept., which has spent millions of dollars in an effort to sell the American way of life to foreigners, thinks of Armstrong as an unofficial envoy. Said a spokesman of the U.S. Embassy in London, "He's very, very useful, and he's most helpful."
