

ACC Finds State Guilty On Two Counts Of Moreland Aid

RALEIGH—(AP)—The Atlantic Coast Conference has reaffirmed that North Carolina State College was guilty on two charges of giving aid to basketball star Jackie Moreland and has closed the case.

This was disclosed Wednesday in the ACC findings released by Dr. Carey H. Bostian, State College chancellor.

The NCAA slapped a four-year probationary sentence on State College for alleged recruiting violations in the case.

Dr. Bostian issued a long prepared statement in which he said he was writing "all of those principal witnesses whose names were given to us by the NCAA" asking them to appear in a hearing in Louisiana on or about Feb. 23 before a committee representing State College.

"I am asking them to confront the individuals who have been charged with the violations of NCAA and ACC rules," he stated.

Bostian released a copy of a letter from ACC Commissioner Jim Weaver containing findings of the ACC faculty representatives at a meeting in Greensboro Sunday.

The faculty committee ruled that the ACC will not sponsor an open hearing on the Moreland case as State had requested. It was pointed out the ACC does not have the authority to subpoena witnesses for an open hearing.

Weaver, the statement said, had contacted certain witnesses and had learned that some of them would not appear to give evidence at an open hearing.

In reaffirming its findings, the ACC held State was guilty of offering Moreland $80 to pay his way to Raleigh for enrollment in the college and offering him a 5-year unrestricted scholarship.

Originally the ACC imposed a $5,000 fine on State College, which was to be paid if Moreland left school. The former high school star at Minden, La., dropped out of school recently.

In its ruling, the ACC reduced the penalty from $5,000 to $2,500. It said the college had "partially fulfilled the intent of the commissioner's ruling" by stating that Moreland could retain the grant-in-aid whether he was eligible or not.

The ACC ruled in December that Moreland was ineligible. At the same time, it imposed the basketball staff would not be allowed to recruit off campus for one year.

Going still further, the ACC said the college will not be allowed (see MORELAND page 6)

Cagers Stop Late Deacon Spurt To Take 72-69 Win

By LARRY CHEEK

North Carolina's scrambling Tar Heels almost blew an 11 point lead in the last three minutes last night, but hung on to eke out a 72-69 win over Wake Forest before a screaming crowd of 5,600 in Woollen Gym.

The thrilling win was Carolina's 20th without a loss and their 10th in conference play. Wake Forest is now 6-4 in the conference.

The margin between the two teams was airtight all the way until UNC guard Bob Cunningham began hitting late in the game to open up a Tar Heel gap. The Carolinians led by two points, 58-56, with 7 minutes to go, but then Cunningham dumped in 6 straight points to stretch the lead to 64-57.

Bob Young and Tommy Kearns each sank a basket, and the Tar Heels led 68-57 with 3:36 to go. Then Wake Forest began applying the pressure, and the Carolina lead dwindled to 1 point, 68-67.

Then Kearns repeated his stunt of the Duke game by sinking two free throws to put the Tar Heels up by three, 70-67. This was the clincher as each squad hit for two more points.

Carolina fought off the Deacon's blazing stretch drove with two starters, Lennie Rosenbluth and Pete Brennan, riding the bench. Rosenbluth, the night's high scorer with 24 points, fouled out with 3:07 to go, while Brennan suffered a sprained ankle in the first half and played only sparingly in the second stanza.

Rosenbluth made 10 of 15 shots from the floor and 4 of 5 from the line to amass his total. Joe Quigg and Cunningham tied for ringerup honors, each with 14.

Quigg dragged down 11 rebounds. Jim Gilley and Jackie Murdock each had 16 points for the Deacons.

Carolina had a field goal percentage of only 36.4 for the first half, but upped it to 43.3 for the entire game with some hot second half marksmanship. Wake Forest hit 41.9.

The Tar Heels led at halftime, 31-29, gaining the margin on a last second basket by Rosenbluth.

McGuire: Team Not As Tight

By BILL KING

The Tar Heel coach looked a little more relaxed after that one last night than he did Saturday night against the Duke Blue Devils, and so did his ball club. "They were not as tight tonight as they were against Duke," said coach Frank McGuire after his team's 72-69 win over Wake Forest, the 20th straight for the Tar Heels.

The team had just filed into its dressing room in Woollen Gym following another spine-tingler against an Atlantic Coast Conference foe. Those spine-tinglers are getting to be a habit with the Tar Heels nowadays. Last night's thriller was the fourth straight of such heart stoppers that has probably given many

ON SELF-LIQUIDATING BASIS:

Student Leaders Favor Married Housing Move

Student government's executive branch supports the administration's proposal for construction of married students' housing units on a self-liquidating basis, President Bob Young said yesterday.

Young said he hoped the General Assembly might appropriate funds for such construction. As no such appropriation was made, Young said, the self-liquidating proposal is now the "quickest solution."

UP Floorleader Benny Thomas said he thought the plan was "feasible" if "rent could be kept low enough to be within reach of the average married couple." Thomas emphasized the "importance" of the married segment of the campus.

Spokesmen for the Student and University Parties concurred with President Young.

PARTY SPOKESMAN

SP floorleader—Chairman Sonny Hallford said he felt the move was a "positive step being undertaken to remedy a need and should receive full endorsement of all concerned." Hallford also urged legislative consideration of the new student union building in "the near future."

RESOLUTION

Legislature floorleaders Hallford and Thomas said they would propose a resolution at tonight's session endorsing the self-liquidating plan for married housing.

It is probable that special orders will be moved to enable the resolution's passage at the session.

STUDENT UNION

President Young said he would talk to Consolidated University President William Friday this morning to determine a method of expressing the student body's sentiment to the General Assembly on the proposal and the rejected proposal for a student union building.

Young said if no action could be taken on the new building this year, he plans "to get the request placed at the top of the budget list in 1959."

Doctrine Passes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A revamped Middle Eastern resolution, proclaiming the readiness of the United States to fight Communist aggression in the strategic area if President Eisenhower deems that necessary, was approved Wednesday by two powerful senate committees.

Israel Withholds

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Israel put off any momentous decision on the Agaba Gulf and Gaza strip issues Wednesday. Instead, she asked Washington for clarification of the United States position on those barriers to Middle East peace.

The Israeli foreign ministry sought further information on details it considered vague in a plan Secretary of State Dulles presented Monday to get Israeli troops out of the last of the Egyptian territory they seized last fall.

To promote the troop withdrawal demanded by UN resolutions, Dulles conditionally offered US support for free navigation in the Gulf of Aquaba long closed to the Israelis by Egyptian guns, and for a UN force of some kind to see Gaza is not used again for Arab raids on Israel.

South Gets Respite

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Southerners, battering at Civil Rights legislation as evil, dangerous and a "bunch of garbage," wrung from a House Judiciary subcommittee Wednesday a 12-day respite before hearings are halted.

The time element is important to chances of passing such legislation. Delaying tactics at every turn are a Southern stratagem.

The subcommittee is considering bills to give the federal government stronger powers to combat any violations of civil rights in the states.

Southerners contend this would trample on the rights of the states; that they already are handling the problem adequately. An array of them appeared before the subcommittee Wednesday.

England Ups Bombs

LONDON — (AP) — Prime Minister MacMillan's government won Parliamentary approval Wednesday for an economy defense program stressing nuclear weapons to discourage attacks by swift Soviet stratosphere atom rockets.

Sales Tax?

RALEIGH — (AP) — The General Assembly was told Wednesday, in effect, that if it is determined to raise salaries of teachers and state employees above the levels proposed by Gov. Hodges it should look into elimination of sales tax exemptions in order to find the money.

Dock Strike Again

NEW YORK — (AP) — The second dock strike in three months yesterday held tight grip on Atlantic ports from Maine to Virginia. Mile upon mile of busy waterfront subsided to almost ghostly silence.

The International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind) said its renewed contract strike was 100 per cent effective among its 45,000 dockers. No one disputed the estimate.

Six Seniors, One Grad Student Receive Coeds' Highest Honor

Valkyrie Initiation Held Before Dawn

Six senior coeds and one graduate student were tapped into Carolina's highest women's honorary this morning.

The organization is the Valkyries, founded here 16 years ago.

The coeds are Lee Ann Curtis, mathematics senior from Norfolk, Va.; Ginger L. Floyd, political science senior from Haines City, Fla.;

Margot Carrington Hammond, elementary education senior from Greensboro; Kathryn Jewel LeGrande, history senior from Daytona Beach, Fla.;

Barbara Gail Moore, medical technology senior from Canton; Martha Jeanne Sillay, English senior from Atlanta, and Barbara Wadsworth, School of Education graduate student from the University of Toronto and Hendersonville.

The purpose of the Valkyries is to "unite in a common bond those women who have shown by their lives such a devotion to the ideals of character, attitude, service, sound judgment, leadership and scholarship that they may inspire their devotion in others and that they may strive together to ward these ideals."

Citations read by the Valkyries to the new members were:

Miss Wadsworth: "In her short residence here she has given unselfishly of her time and energies in fostering good will and cooperation in the groups with which she has worked. Her devotion to the betterment of student life and the community is expressed by her concern and consideration for others and action. Eager to help when needed in 'little' things, and responsible, reliable capacity in 'bigger' duties, she demonstrates an unselfish spirit of giving."

Miss Moore: "One whose campus activities have evidenced efficient, unselfish service and whose energy is constantly revealed in her contributions and responsible work. Her friendly spontaneity, spirit of helpfulness and sincerity of purpose have been felt in student government, student church work and in the betterment of dormitory life."

Miss Sillay: "One whose genuine qualities, understanding tolerance and warmth of personality have been evidenced in many woman's activities. Her ability to fulfill responsibility and at the same time inspire cooperation has been an asset to her dormitory leadership."

Miss LeGrande: "Who is the epitome of unselfish service on our campus. In her humble and quiet manner she is active in numerous phases of student life at Carolina—expecting no praise for her endless hours and efforts. She has been a consistent source of inspiration to those with whom she has worked."

Miss Hammond: "... is recognized for her quiet manner and genuineness in working with others. While she is always willing to lend a helping hand, she accepts only what she can efficiently fulfill, and has been most contributive in this unrecognized service."

Miss Floyd: "Through dedicated nurse she has shown strength of character and depth of conviction as a leader. We feel she has completely given of herself to her campus obligations and through her contributions has rendered untold service."

Miss Curtis: "A vivacious leader with a sincere and sympathetic interest in others. Her reliability and conscientiousness have been noted in her contributions to student government, YWCA work and the betterment of sorority life."

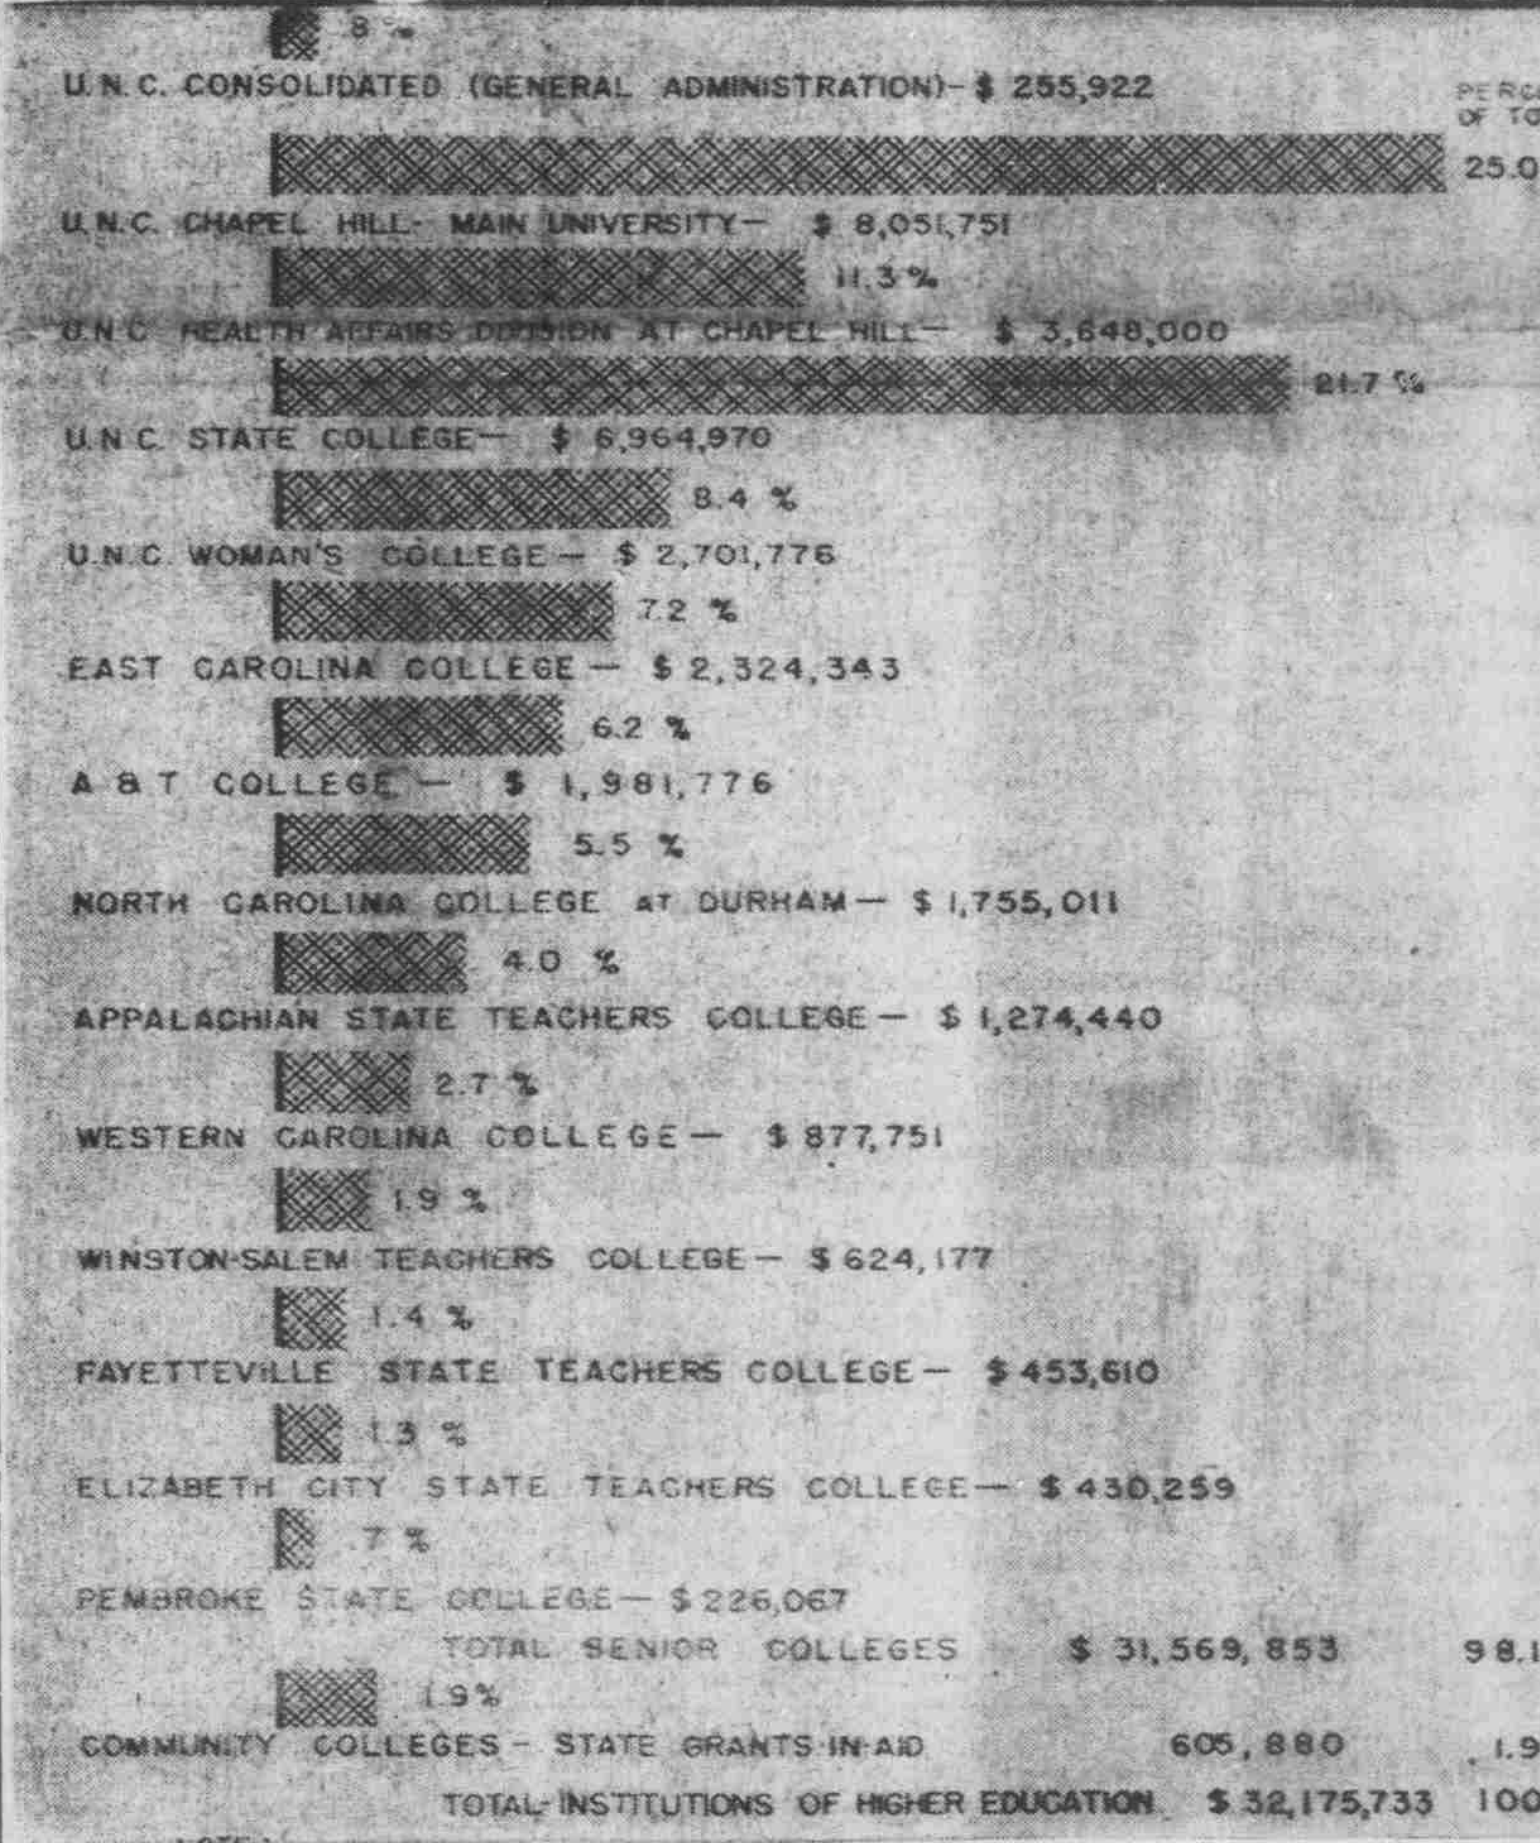

UP Sets Up Method To Nominate

A new and more stringent nomination procedure has been set up for the University Party, it was announced by Chairman Mike Weinman at Tuesday night's meeting.

March 5 is the date set for nomination of senior class officers and men and women's dorm posts, and March 12, the date for selection of town men and women representatives and student government candidates.

By the Feb. 26 meeting all petitions and dues must be in, and all organizations must be on the roles, according to Weinman. On that date, membership cards will be given out to those whose membership is in order. Those persons who have not turned in completed petitions or dues will not be issued cards.

Weinman stated that no one will be allowed to attend the April 5 nominating meeting without membership cards. The cards will be good for UP membership until spring elections of 1958.

UNC Budget Appropriation Goes To 13 University Areas

By CLARKE JONES

The $8 million budget recommended Monday for UNC by the Advisory Budget Committee will be apportioned to 13 separate areas within the University.

The appropriations, if approved by the General Assembly now in session in Raleigh, will be divided among the following:

Administration and general expense; instruction and departmental research; summer school; extension and public services; publications, publicity, public information and public occasions; student welfare;

Maintenance and operation of plant, custodial care; airport; additions and betterments; debt service; reserve and merit salary increments and salary increases.

The total recommendations to UNC by the Budget Commission actually came to almost $14 million. The $8 million figure was arrived at after subtracting the estimated receipts—about $6 million—from the different divisions.

The Consolidated University appropriation recommendations total $255,922, to be divided among the administration and general expense; instruction and departmental research; maintenance and operation of plant;
