Over 70 Coeds Named Counselors For 1957

The Women's Orientation Committee yesterday announced the selection of 73 counselors for the fall 1957 school year.

The selections committee, which is composed of student leaders assisted by several administration members, considered over 160 applicants this year.

According to Miss Sue Mayhue, chairman of the committee, the 73 selected were chosen on the basis of their applications and recommendations.

New counselors will begin an extensive training program today, Miss Mayhue said, which will continue until exam time. They will return to the campus early next September to prepare for the arrival of new students.

In a statement yesterday, Miss Mayhue said:

"Choosing from the high caliber of applicants was very difficult. Those not selected can still aid the orientation program, however, by personally helping the new students to become acquainted with the Carolina way of life.

"On behalf of the Women's Orientation Committee, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many applicants who demonstrated their interest in this most important phase of the program," she said.

"I'm very proud of our new Orientation counselors. On the basis of their recommendations, both written and spoken, they have been truly selected in the highest sense of the word.

"They will find a demanding job ahead of them in living up to the performances of which we believe they are capable," she said.

The 1957 Women's Orientation Counselors are as follows:

Elizabeth Lloyd Dougherty, Alice Seely Eller, Susie Fagen, Nancy Faison, Daryl Farrington, Mary Pearl Felts, Arnold Garvin, Nancy Watts Graham, Roberta Hastings, Nola Jean Hatten, Betty Hobson, Lucinda Holderness.

Highest Honorary For Women Taps Seven For Membership; Secret Ceremonies Observed

Service, Leadership Among Valkyrie Ideals

In secret pre-dawn ceremonies this morning, the Valkyries tapped seven coeds who will for the first time wear the golden key of the top women's honorary.

Tapped were Misses Sara Faith Price, junior nursing student from Buckingham, West Virginia; Margaret Eunice Funk, junior Medical Technology major from Wilmington, Delaware; Susan Leah Walker, senior education major from Wilmington; Shirley Weaver Bumgardner, senior Pharmacy major from West Jefferson; Jean Jacquelyn Aldridge, senior education major from Winston-Salem; Joanna Hill Scroggs, senior English major from Chapel Hill; and Mrs. Sally Melvin Horner, senior chemistry major from Chapel Hill.

The purpose of the Valkyries is to unite in a common bond those women who have shown by their lives such a devotion to the ideals of character, attitude, service, sound judgment, leadership, and scholarship that they may inspire this devotion in others and that they may strive together toward these ideals.

Following are the citations for each initiate:

Susie Walker: "One who has demonstrated her ability to work well with others and who, through her vivacious personality, has combined enthusiasm with creativity in adding to the honor and campus life. Through her work on student-faculty committees and on student reviewing boards, she has shown an active and sincere interest in student welfare and the betterment of student-faculty relations."

Joanna Hill Scroggs: "Miss Scroggs is recognized for her strength of character, her interest in people, and the exercise of her superior abilities. She has excelled in scholarship and has exhibited creative ability in the field of English. Through her support of musical productions of the campus, she has shown her unselfishness of her musical talent."

Sara Faith Price: "One whose spontaneous friendliness, concern for others, and unselfish spirit of cooperation have benefited every activity in which she has taken part. Her sincerity of purpose and humble devotion to the highest ideals of character, scholarship, and leadership have been a constant inspiration to those about her. She has devoted her efforts not only in the field of nursing, but also to the betterment of life of the women students on the campus."

Mrs. Sally Melvin Horner: "Recognized for her dedicated work in the Department of Chemistry, both in regular classwork and in research. An outstanding student, as evidenced by her straight-A record, Mrs. Horner is the modest recipient of a National Science Foundation Fellowship and the Alpha Phi award for the outstanding major in Chemistry. She has contributed much of her time to research and has successfully carried out the study in 'Steric Factors in Complex Formation' which she undertook in the past year."

Margaret Eunice Funk: "Miss Funk has given of herself to her campus obligations, both academic and extracurricular."

Shirley Weaver Bumgardner: "A student of high caliber, Miss Bumgardner has shown a keen interest in her studies and a devotion to the ideals of the Valkyries."

Jean Jacquelyn Aldridge: "Miss Aldridge has shown a high degree of leadership and service to the campus through her work on the Student Legislative Council."

Handbook Staff, Plans Announced By Herring

Don Herring, editor of the Carolina Handbook, Wednesday announced the staff and plans for the 1957-58 edition.

John Minter will be business manager; Mike Smith will handle photography, Herring said.

Editors of the various divisions include Misses Carolyn Hoffer, Beverly Culbreth and Marge McMahan and Tony Dees, Fred Roper, George Rowland, Claude Vess and Melvin Hipps.

Herring said next year's handbook will be almost completely revised from cover to cover in order to give new students a more complete picture of the advantages, opportunities and functions of the University.

In order to give more variety and create more interest, Herring said, two-color plates will be used in the book. In revising old page layouts and creating new ones, simplicity of design and effectiveness of photographic arrangement will play a major part, he said.

The editor also said increased coverage will be given to all campus organizations.

Next year's Handbook will be approximately the size of the student directory, Herring said, and will be 160 pages in length—an increase of 30 pages over last year's publication.

A staff meeting will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the YMCA.

Scholastic Averages Announced

Zeta Beta Tau fraternity and Delta Delta Delta sorority were announced as leading the relative rank of fraternities and sororities in scholastic averages for the fall semester.

On a letter grade value basis from A - 1.00 to F - 5.00, Delta Delta Delta topped both fraternities and sororities with an average of 2.3462. The average of Zeta Beta Tau was 2.5506.

The all-sorority average was 2.456, again better than the all-fraternity average which was 2.8969. Through a sampling method, the all-men's average was 2.8656.

The list of sororities with their average is as follows: Delta Delta Delta, 2.3462; Alpha Delta Phi, 2.3748; Alpha Gamma Delta, 2.4190; Chi Omega, 2.4562; Pi Beta Phi, 2.4601; Kappa Delta, 2.4942.

The fraternities and their averages are as follows: Zeta Beta Tau, 2.5506; Sigma

Poor Response Causes Retreat Postponement

The student government spring leadership training retreat, planned for this weekend at Camp Monroe, was cancelled yesterday due to lack of response, program spokesmen said.

According to the Planning Committee which handled program preparations, only 65 replies of 155 invitations had been received to date. Of this number, only 23 were acceptances.

"Following announcement of cancellation of the retreat yesterday, the Committee issued the following statement:

"We feel that a program of this sort is needed to help new officers become aware of the problems confronting all phases of student activity. We hope that more interest will be shown when such a program is held in the future."

A date for the next retreat has not been decided upon as yet, according to the announcement.

INFIRMARY LIST

Students in the infirmary yesterday included:

Misses Gwendolyn Lemly, Nancy Fuller Llewellyn, Marion Dudley and Shelle Boone Cronan; and Jean Pierre Boissavit, Charles Shelton, Robert Becknell, John Monroe, Baxter Culter, Gus Louis Davis, John Alry Carroll, Eugene Spake and Fred Tedder, Grover Brown, Lert Thomas Hall.

RICHARD MALTBY
to offer talent, imagination

Meet Maltby Musicians In Memorial Hall At 8

Tonight at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall, Richard Maltby and his orchestra will be presented in a concert which many observers feel will be one of the most successful of the year.

Maltby's ensemble, featuring Miss Franky Crockett as vocalist, has received excellent reviews from numerous colleges where his orchestra has performed this season.

The arranger-conductor has been lauded by the big names in show business and has recorded many hit tunes. Among his records are "Man With A Golden Arm," "Deep Blue Sea," "The Birth of the Blues" and "The Theme From War And Peace."

Last year a similar concert featured Earl Garner and was highly successful. The Panhellenic and the Inter-Fraternity Councils are co-sponsors of the event with the proceeds going to the Chapel Hill Recreation Center and the Victory Village Day Nursery.

Benny Goodman says Maltby is responsible for his big hit "The Man I Love." Paul Whitman, dean of American music, states Maltby is one of the best and most versatile arrangers in the business today.

Tickets for the concert are still on sale in the Y-Court and will remain on sale throughout the day. Duets will also be sold at the door. Many stores in the Chapel Hill business district have tickets.

Maltby is considered by many to be not only one of the most talented musicians of the day but also one of the most imaginative. His creative mind has led him to explore the classical and symphonic realm as well as the popular dance medium.

The bandleader has worked with Goodman, Whiteman, Artie Shaw, Russ Brown, Gordon MacRae, Lisa Kirk, Peggy Lee, Sarah Vaughn, Vaughn Monroe, Vic Damone, Giselle MacKenzie and Robert Merrill.
