SAYS GORDON BLACKWELL:

Closed Circuit TV Could Be Solution

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Closed circuit television may be one solution to the problem of large classes when college students "swamp the campuses" in the next 10 years. Woman's College Chancellor-elect Gordon Blackwell said here Friday.

Blackwell, who is director of the Institute for Research in Social

GORDON BLACKWELL

Sciences, was one of the concluding speakers at the Southern Regional Conference on Education Beyond High School.

New devices and new methods of teaching are going to be required in the future, he said. Exploration on how closed circuit educational television can be effectively used to instruct large classes must be continued, Blackwell said.

He said more scholarship aid for students is going to be necessary to assure that "top quality students attend college" whether or not they are financially able to do so.

TUITION
Blackwell also deplored the practice of raising tuition rates for out of state students.

"Here we may be drying up our supply of college teachers." Many of the non-resident students later join the faculties of universities where they get their graduate degrees, he said.

Blackwell was named Woman's College Chancellor last February. He will assume his new position this summer.

Playmakers To Present 'Peer Gynt'

This season's outdoor production by the Carolina Playmakers will be a new version of Ibsen's "Peer Gynt," directed by Dramatic Art Professor Kai Jurgensen at the Forest Theatre May 10, 11 and 12 at 8:30 p.m.

The play has been adapted by Jurgensen from his and Robert Schenkkan's translation. Special music for this production was written and directed by Joel Shadabe, music student from New York City.

LEAD ROLE

Playing Peer Gynt will be Ken Lowry of Troy, Ohio, a UNC senior majoring in English. Lowry has spent the past two summers working in summer stock, and has appeared in several Playmakers' productions.

Appearing as Aase, Peer's mother, is Miss Betty Jinnette of Goldsboro. A transfer student from Woman's College this year, she has acted in four of the five Playmaker productions so far this year.

Al Gordon of Greensboro will appear as the Button Moulder. Gordon is known locally for his characterizations in "Ondine", "A Midsummer-Night's Dream", "Seventeen", "Blood Wedding", "Desire Under the Elms", and other plays. He is a performer in the Cherokee symphonic drama, "Unto These Hills."

Solveig, Peer's faithful sweetheart, will be played by Mrs. Martha Fouse of Chapel Hill, who appeared in the Playmakers' "Showboat" and "Blood Wedding" and has presented several voice recitals.

The Greenclad (Anitra) will be Miss Amanda Meiggs of Moyock, a former Woman's College student, who toured this year in "Androcles and the Lion" and danced in "Brigadoon".

The Mountain King will be acted by David Small of Morehead City, baritone in "Showboat", "Seventeen", and "Brigadoon", and lion in "Androcles and the Lion".

OTHERS

Others in the cast are: James Sechrist of Thomasville; Miss Mary Vann Finley of Marion; Stan Shaw of Hamilton, Ohio; Gene Parsons of Chapel Hill; Miss Barbara Battle of Miami, Fla.; Russell Link of Jacksonville, N. Y.

Highlighting the 13th annual Sigma Chi Derby Tuesday is the Miss Modern Venus contest.

Five other entertaining events will precede the Miss Modern Venus contest, program officials have indicated.

The derby will be held in Kenan Stadium, with a parade at 2 p.m. and the derby at 2:30 p.m.

Judges of the derby will be Jim Tatum, head football coach; E. Carrington Smith, local theater operator; Joe Augustine and Mrs. Sutton, representatives of two other local business enterprises.

The Geek, voted on by all fraternity members, is Aubrey Rothrock, member of the golf team.

The Sigma Chi Derby, now a feature at over one hundred Sigma Chi chapters, began in the early 30's at the University of California. It came to UNC in 1944.

Events vary in different chapters from year to year.

Officials for this year's derby are Sonny Forbes, presiding steward, Brokie Lineweaver, Sonny Lacy and Bobby Cowell, also stewards.

SENIOR GIFT WILL NOT BE 1957 FORD

Seniors are in a state of perplexity. They apparently have cars, 1957 Fords and cream-colored MG's on the mind—all in connection with the forthcoming Senior Day Wednesday.

As a result of the presentation of a 1957 Ford in The Daily Tar Heel yesterday, a good many seniors have inferred this particular car will be offered as a prize Wednesday night at the Senior Barbecue, Publicity Chairman Lou Rosenstock said yesterday.

"On the contrary," Rosenstock said, "the car was presented only for approval. The selection committee has remained quiet about what car will actually be awarded, saying only that it will be a Ford."

Rosenstock also said the committee has urged all seniors to attend the gala senior barbecue Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. at the Patio to see the prize winning selection.

Tickets for the drawing may be obtained at the senior meeting Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. in Memorial Hall, he pointed out.

Receives Cartoonist Award

Herbert L. Block—"Herblock"—whose cartoons appear often in this paper, celebrates cartoon-wise his reception of the National Cartoonists Society's coveted Reuben Award as "the outstanding cartoonist of the year 1956." This is the first time the award, based on voting by fellow cartoonists, has gone to an editorial cartoonist. The trophy was presented to Herblock Tuesday at the annual dinner of the Society in New York City.

New GM Director To Be Named Next Week Says Magill

Chancellor House To Receive Names By First Of Week

McGuire Made Fund Chairman For NC Drive

6th Fleet

NORFOLK, Va.—(AP)—William B. Franké, Undersecretary of the Navy, said today one reason the 6th Fleet is going to the Eastern Mediterranean is to be ready to evacuate Americans from the trouble-torn Jordan area if that should prove necessary.

At a news conference, Franke said the fleet is being moved from the Western Mediterranean for two reasons: "Partly as a result of training exercises" and "partly because we may have to evacuate Americans."

He did not mention what officials in Washington have privately described as the main purpose of the move—to make a show of force in support of the threatened government of Jordan.

In a statement, McGuire said

"If there is a mental health association in your community, get in touch with it to find out what you can do."

Since Wallace's resignation last fall, Miss Linda Mann has been acting in the capacity of GM Director. She is expected to leave the position in June, however.

The Board of Directors is expected to submit four names to Magill by the first of the week. Board members will interview the final candidate under consideration this weekend.

After the Board's recommendations are submitted to Magill, he will forward the names and his comments to Dean Arnold Perry who will be acting in lieu of the Dean of Student Affairs.

Chancellor House will then receive the accumulated comments and considerations and formulate his decision sometime in the immediate future, Magill said.

When the new GM director assumes his position, his function will entail supervising the maintenance of Graham Memorial and acting as an advisor to the Activities Board.

He will, in effect, act as a consolidating figure in the GM program and a liaison between the Activities Board and the programming of outside events.
