

The Daily Tar Heel

MOMISM

The editor detests the University's new brand on page two.

WEATHER

Partly cloudy and cooler with an expected high of 72.

VOL. LVII NO. 178

Complete UP Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1957

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS WEEK

Library Receives $80,000 Increase

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

The UNC Library Wednesday was voted an increase of $80,000 by a Joint Appropriations subcommittee for the 1957-59 biennium.

The Advisory Budget Commission had originally recommended that the library be granted $125,000 per year for the book acquisition fund during the coming biennium.

During the 1955-57 biennium the library was granted $100,000 per year for books. During the 1953-1955 biennium the library received $125,000 for this purpose.

The increase will provide $165,000 per year during the next two years, the amount originally recommended by the State Board of Higher Education.

FRIDAY 'GRATEFUL'

Consolidated University President Friday commented on the increase. "The administration is very grateful that the subcommittee on appropriations has recommended an increase of $40,000 (per year) over and above the recommendation of the budget committee for the purchase of books for the University Library."

He went on to say, "This action will enable our library to acquire the essential volumes and manuscripts we so badly need."

Dr. Andrew Horn, Head Librarian, said the new budget would put "us much closer to the amount being spent in other comparable libraries."

He said he was grateful to the press and the administration for calling the attention of the legislature to this problem and to the people in the legislature who had been willing to restudy the problem.

He commented he appreciated the interest in this problem of the students, the faculty, the friends of the library and the people of the state.

"I am quite sure that the recognition of inadequacy was pretty well demonstrated when President Friday presented his argument to the appropriations committee."

RISE IN PRICES

Dr. Horn explained while the sum seems like a lot, the money had to be distributed over a wide field. Also recently the book prices have risen and the volume of publishing has increased, especially in "important books."

As the departments require more specialized books, the prices of these books increase. As the size of the library increases, the expense of cataloging the books grows.

He said any prospective head librarian would ask what the budget was. Dr. Horn did not think UNC would have been able to keep a good librarian long without more money to buy new books.

When President Friday came before the Joint Appropriations Committee on March 20, he spent one half of the time allotted him for talking on the budget of the Consolidated University giving the reasons for an increase in the library appropriation.

He pointed out what the other universities were spending for their libraries. President Friday stated "adequate libraries are second only to salaries in maintaining faculty members."

ESSENTIAL

He explained a good library was essential to graduate study and many people not enrolled in the University but who live in North Carolina use the library facilities.

"He believed in it (the increase in funds); and he was the one who accomplished it," commented Dr. Horn about President Friday.

Legislature Postpones Action On Long 'Censure' Resolution; Measure Sent To Ways And Means

'Peer Gynt' Production Shaping Up

Things appear to be shaping up nicely for Ken Lowry who plays Peer Gynt in the production of the same name. Here he reclines amidst the luxurious company of a group of Arabian dancing girls. The production, the annual outdoor presentation of the Carolina Playmakers, will be given in the Forest Theater Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night. The play will be a new version adapted by Assistant Director Kai Jurgensen and Robert Schenkan.

Second Concert By UNC Band Will Be Sunday

The UNC Concert Band, directed by Herbert W. Fred, will present its second lawn concert of the spring Sunday afternoon as part of the annual Parents' Day program on campus.

The concert will begin at 4:30 p.m. around Davie Poplar. Earl Slocum, conductor of the University Symphony Orchestra, will be the guest conductor, directing the band in his own recently published transcription of the "Toccata" by Frescobaldi.

Soloist for the concert will be Eddie Bass of Farmville, president of the band, who will play "Ode for Trumpet" by Alfred Reed.

Other works will be the "Military Symphony" by Gossec, "Lady of Spain" by Evans, "Ballet Parisian" by Offenbach, "Water Music" by Handel, "American Symphonette" by Gould, "State Fair" by Richard Rogers, "On the Esplanade" by Akers, "Entrance of The Emperor and His Court" from the "Hary Janos" suite by Kodaly, and selected marches.

The concert will be held at 4:30 p.m. on the lawn in front of the Forest Theater. Admission is free.

(See AIN'T IT, page 3)

'Ain't Worth' Trouble, Spearman's Class Told

By EDITH MacKINNON

"Get in another racket. It ain't worth the pain."

These were the words of advice given to potential writers and reviewers yesterday by author-columist Robert Ruark.

In the local area for a special showing in Raleigh of the movie made from his latest book, "Something of Value," Ruark spoke to Walter Spearman's journalism reviewing class on the writing of his new novel and his life as an author.

Asked why he had written "Something of Value," a novel dealing with the Mau Mau uprising in South Africa, the well-traveled columnist candidly replied, "I needed the money. I went to Kenya to buy a ranch and got involved in the war. It all ended up with about three Manhattan telephone books of copy and a new book."

Ruark said the book had been called "the monster," but he attributes its success to the fact that it is a "peculiar product of timing."

"If the timing is good, the book will be good, and this one deals with the unrest of a part of the world today," Ruark observed.

His timing has proved his point, according to sales records. 200,000 copies have been sold in hard-bound copies with 14 foreign editions being printed. The author also added that 3 million copies of the paper-backed editions had been sold in 3 weeks.

The UNC graduate was asked how he had gotten into journalism "First of all you have to fall

Hollywood Talent Scout Observes Play Tryouts

By WOODY SEARS

What happens when a real, live Hollywood talent scout comes to town? It's fairly obvious that all the thesbian hopefuls on campus would be at their shining best.

And that's just the very situation that was to be found at the Forest Theater Wednesday night.

Tom Conroy, a scout for Hecht-Lancaster Studios was in town Wednesday night and dropped by the Forest Theater to look over the talent situation on campus. Although he talked to many of the people who were there, there were only four who were actually introduced to him.

The introductions were arranged by Samuel Selden, chairman of the Dramatic Arts Dept. and Director of the Carolina Playmakers.

The four who received introductions to Conroy were John Whitty, a sophomore from New Bern; Miss Louise Fletcher, a January graduate of the D. A. Dept.; Miss Nancetta Hudson, a senior D. A. major from Goldsboro; and James Sechrest, a senior from Thomasville.

Conroy, a bush-beating talent scout, works the east coast for Hecht-Lancaster Studios looking for promising material. Earlier this week he was in Raleigh to watch a rehearsal at the Raleigh Little Theater. This weekend he will be in Columbia, S.C. to look over the prospects at the University of South Carolina.

"So far as I know," he said, "Carolina has one of three best drama schools in the country." The other two mentioned were Yale and Carnegie Tech.

Talent Scout Looks Around

Tom Conroy, a talent scout for Hecht-Lancaster Studios of Hollywood, dropped by the Forest Theater last night to watch the Peer Gynt rehearsal. He is shown here talking with two local hopefuls, Miss Nancetta Hudson and James Sechrest. Photos by Woody Sears

Beauty Contest Is Entered By Three Coeds

Three Carolina coeds today became the first entrants for the annual Chapel Hill Beauty and Personality Pageant, to be staged in the High School Auditorium May 16.

Pageant Co-Chairman Ty Boyd and J. D. Wright of the sponsoring Jaycees announced them as Jane Brock, entered by Chi Phi fraternity; Carolyn Wise, entered by Phi Gamma Delta fraternity; and Nancetta Hudson, entered by Phi Delta Theta. Winner of the local event will represent Chapel Hill in the state finals of the Miss America at Burlington in July and will also receive a college scholarship check and a wardrobe.

Senate Committee On Trustees Gives Up In Selection Efforts

RALEIGH — (AP) — The Senate Committee on University Trustees Thursday gave up its effort to persuade its House counterpart committee to agree to a change in the method by which the two groups nominate members of the Consolidated University Board of Trustees.

The Senate group previously had balked at following past practice of meeting in joint session to vote on the trustee nominations. The reason was that the House committee outnumbered the Senate committee 2 to 1.

After the House committee refused to give ground in the dispute, the Senate committee voted yesterday to follow the previous practice of meeting in joint session.

The committee turned down a proposal by a subcommittee that it recommend that University trustees in the future not be allowed to succeed themselves.

After the two committee get together and nominate the trustees, the House and Senate will meet in joint session to elect them. About 29 vacancies are to be filled this year.

Hallford To Be Atty. General For Next Year

Student body President Sonny Evans Thursday announced Sonny Hallford, rising senior from Rocky Mount, as Attorney General for next year.

Hallford will succeed Sam Wells, senior from Reidsville, in the position.

Evans said he was "very happy" to announce the appointment. "Because of possible expanded duties of the Attorney General, I feel that we are fortunate to have an individual of (his) caliber in this position."

"He is a person for whom I have a great deal of respect and admiration and whose ability has been proved before. Evans said, adding "student government will profit greatly by his appointment."

As Attorney General, Hallford will serve as the number one advisor to Evans.

QUALIFICATIONS

Evans said Hallford was qualified for the position in that he "did an outstanding job as president of the Interdormitory Council last year and as floorleader in the legislature."

"As chairman of the Student Party," Evans said, "he gained the proper perspective so essential for effective leadership."

Hallford, an English major, is a member of the Order of the Golden Fleece—the highest men's honorary—and the Order of the Grail.

Hallford Approved As Attorney General

By NEIL BASS

Student legislators last night postponed action on the controversial Long Resolution.

Rep. Tom Long's resolution "censures" application of state park policy which denied the University Cosmopolitan Club use of the Umstead State Park last Sunday.

A park attendant refused the club admittance to the park's picnic grounds because a member of its delegation—Leroy Frasier—is a Negro.

SONNY HALLFORD
... number one assistant

Rep. Long, Student Party, attempted to pass special orders to enable the resolution's passage on the same night as its introduction. Customary legislative procedure is to introduce measures at one session and vote upon them, after they have been processed in committee, at the session immediately following.

But Rep. Pete Kelly, University Party, began the movement to block immediate action on the resolution. Rep. Kelly said the "implications" of the resolution were such that "a committee should have time to consider it."

Kelly said he hadn't had time to "feel out" his constituents as to their sentiments on the resolution. When asked by Rep. Bessy Huffman (SP) if he didn't know of the resolution prior to the night's session, Kelly retorted that he did, but that he hadn't had adequate time to talk with his constituents on the measure.

Rep. Bill Baum reiterated Kelly's statements on the resolution. Baum (UP) said he favored the "intent" of the measure, but thought committee work should be devoted to it to make it applicable to "a wider area."

Special orders failed with only seven favorable votes. Thus the bill was sent to Ways and Means Committee and should reappear on the legislative agenda next week.

In other action, student lawmakers:

(1) Unanimously approved the appointment of Sonny Hallford to succeed Sam Wells as student government attorney general.

(2) Approved a bill establishing an "organizational scheme" for a campus humor magazine.

According to the bill's provisions, a committee composed of the editors of the three major campus publications, two legislators and two presidential appointees will conduct interviews to select the magazine's editor and business manager.

Interviews For GMAB Posts To Start Thursday

Applications are now available for work on the Graham Memorial Activities Board, according to GMAB President Benny Thomas.

Thomas said interviews will begin Thursday. All applications must be filled out by Tuesday, he said.

"I strongly urge anyone interested in participating in one of the most satisfying and rewarding areas of extra-curricular activities at UNC to apply for work on GMAB," Thomas said.

Anyone interested in serving on the board has been urged to come by the information desk in Graham Memorial and fill out an application.

Positions now open include the chairmanship and membership on all the committees, he said.

The committees are recreation, film series and drama, forum dance, publicity, office, receptions and decorations, polls, calendar, tournament, Mardi Gras, Sound and Fury, music and free films.

Freshman Camp Counselors

Twenty six counselors for Freshman Camp next fall were recently announced. On the front row from left to right they include Leon Holt, Mike Givens, Bob Matthews, Larry Wilson, Don Gray, Wilson Cooper, Gene McDaniel, Jack Raper, Tom Allred and Forrest Patterson. On the back row, left to right, are Bill Rand, Hamp Lefler, Bob Carter, Joe Ferrell, Coleman Barks, Charles Pittman, Steve Woody, Ralph Cummings, Dave Davis, Jack Lufkin, Lin Church, Graham Clayton, YMCA General Secretary Claude Shotts, Stewart Colson, Jenky Jenkins, Tommy Isely and Hobart Steele.