

Covering The University Campus

GRADUATE CLUB DANCE
Graduate Club members will open their fall social season tonight with a dance at Kenan Dormitory. Jim Crisp and his combo will present music for the event, which begins at 8:30 p. m.

PLACEMENT SERVICE MEET
Alfred B. Caine, recruiting specialist for General Electric, will speak Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. to senior and graduate men and women at a meeting sponsored by the Placement Service in Gerrard Hall.

His subject will be "Landing the Right Job." J. M. Galloway, Director of Placement, will explain how students can use the service most effectively. Officials urged all students seeking employment after graduation or military service to attend.

PRESS CLUB
The Press Club and Matrix Society, journalistic organizations, will meet jointly Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Dean Norval Neil Luxon on Mount Bolus Rd. People needing rides will meet at 7:15 p. m. at Bynum Hall.

NEWMAN CLUB
The Newman Club, Catholic organization, will have a supper meeting Sunday at 6 p. m. at the Catholic Church. Willfried Braje, German exchange student, will talk about "The Christian Democratic Youth and Its Role in Post-War Germany."

FREE FLICK
"Stairway to Heaven" is being shown in Carroll Hall tonight at 7:30 by the Free Film Committee of GMAB. Tonight's show is a technicolor fantasy and stars David Niven, Kim Hunter and Raymond Masey.

FUTURE TEACHERS
The Frank Porter Graham chapter of the Future Teachers of America will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Curriculum Lab in Peabody Hall. All old members, interested new members and visitors have been invited by Vernon Cuipepper, vice president.

ENGLISH GRAD STUDENTS
English graduate students and their wives or dates have been invited to the first social meeting of the English Club for the fall semester. The get-acquainted party is to be held in the Library Assembly room at 7:30 tonight. Refreshments will be served, and arrangements are being made for old students to meet and escort new students to the meeting.

GMAB Publicity Committee Important To All Branches

Next time you visit Graham Memorial look around and you may see an attractive young lady busily constructing posters for GMAB. This will be Douglas "Doggie" Sue Logan, a senior from Kanawha, who is majoring in art here at Carolina and using her artistic ability as chairman of the GMAB Publicity Committee. However, her committee is in charge of more than art work. It is in charge of brochures, and newspaper and other publication work. The recent freshman Activities Session found "Doggie" busy working on a booth for the Activities Board.

"Publicity is an important committee," she says, "for all the activities of GMAB depend on it to let the campus know about their program. Consequently, I hope that interested students will drop by GM immediately and sign up to have interviews for my committee."

Signup Will End Today For Course

UNC students interested in a "Reading Improvement Course" will have through today to sign up for the program, it was disclosed Thursday.

University Testing Service officials said the program is designed to improve reading and study efficiency, and is open to any student at UNC.

Applications for the three-hour, non-credit course can be filed in Room 8, Peabody Hall, where a time will be arranged to fit the schedule of individual students.

'Flicks' Slate Is Given Here

"Free Flicks" scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights through October have been released by Mike Strong, chairman of the G. M. A. B. Free Film Committee.

"Odd Man Out" will be shown tonight at 7:30 and 10 p. m. in Carroll Hall. The film, which stars James Mason, Robert Newton and Kathleen Ryan, pictures eight tense hours in one man's life climaxing in a memorable midnight conflict.

Saturday night, there will be one showing at 7:30 p. m. of "Stairway to Heaven" in Carroll Hall. This technicolor film classic stars David Niven, Kim Hunter and Raymond Massey in a magnificent fantasy that tells the story of an injured RAF pilot's flight for life, helped by a courageous American girl and a kindly, understanding doctor.

Other "Free Flicks" slated for October are Friday, Oct. 11, "Harvey"; Saturday, Oct. 12, "Great Expectations"; Friday, Oct. 18, "Tight Little Island"; Saturday, Oct. 19, "The Glenn Miller Story"; incolor; Friday, Oct. 25, "Lavender Hill Mob"; and Saturday, Oct. 26, "Woman in Hiding".

There will be two showings on Friday nights at 7:30 and 10 p. m., and one showing at 7:30 on Saturday nights.

World In Brief

A Public Health Service spokesman today said Asian Flu is regarded as having reached epidemic proportions in five states—New York, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and Utah.

The spokesman also said the disease probably has reached epidemic proportions in Alabama, Illinois, Michigan and Oregon and possibly has done so in California.

He made the assessments on the basis of reports from State Health authorities.

'We Expect To Stay'
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 3 — (AP) — Teamsters Union bosses made clear today they are going to fight and expect to beat an AFL-CIO ouster move when James R. Hoffa is elected teamsters president.

Hoffa, whose election in convention balloting tomorrow is considered sure, told reporters: "We expect to stay in the AFL-CIO."

The 44-year-old Detroit labor boss—with his lieutenants in full command of teamsters convention machinery—said the Wayne County (Detroit) Federation of Labor, an AFL-CIO affiliate, has unanimously asked the AFL-CIO to rescind its condemnation of Hoffa as a corrupt labor leader.

Can't Federalize
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 3 — (AP)—Maj. Gen. Mark Lance, adjutant general of Florida, said today that the President cannot federalize the Florida National Guard when it is on active state duty on call of the governor.

"What would happen if the Guard was under the state and the President thought the governor had called it for an improper purpose and sent in federal troops?" asked Rep. James N. Beck of Putnam.

"Well, we could have another Fort Moultrie as in 1861 when the South Carolina militia fired on federal forces," Lance answered.

The Florida Guard commander said he agreed that President Eisenhower had gone too far in federalizing the Arkansas National Guard.

UNC Will Get Service Award
REAR ADMIRAL GEORGE C. CRAWFORD will award a certificate and pennant for "distinguished national service" to the University of North Carolina here today at the Carolina Inn at 12:45 p. m.

Secretary of Defense Wilson has authorized the symbol of appreciation to the University for the role the institution has played in the national defense, particularly in relation to the maintenance at Chapel Hill of the Naval ROTC unit and the Air Force ROTC unit.

Admiral Crawford, a native of Old Fort, is Commandant of the 6th Naval District, at Charleston, S. C.

The award will be made to Chancellor William B. Aycock and past-Chancellor Robert B. House.

Others to be present for the ceremony will include President William C. Friday, Vice President W. D. Carmichael Jr., Captain A. M. Patterson, commander of the Naval ROTC at Chapel Hill, Colonel Frank Swann, commander of the Air Force ROTC, General Carlyle Shepard, Captain H. D. Crockford and Commander James E. Wadsworth of the Naval Reserve.

Who is it that makes the Graham Memorial Activities Board meeting hilarious? Seamon Gottlieb, of course, with his entertaining descriptions of the next foreign movie that his committee will sponsor.

Seamon, a junior history major from Hampton, Va., is chairman of the Foreign Films and Drama Committee. He is also distinguished as the student who brought Petite Dramatiques, a chamber drama group, to the UNC campus.

Seamon, noted for his unique sense of humor, already has a whole slate of foreign films lined up for this fall. The first film, an Italian one called "Paisan", was presented last night in Carroll Hall Auditorium.

Eight more pictures from such countries as Japan, Britain, France, and South Africa will be shown throughout the fall. Then at the end of winter, an evening of weird, experimental films will be presented.

Seamon will be working with Petite Dramatiques later on, and still has room on his committee for interested students. Students may apply for the committee by coming to Graham Memorial and filling out an application blank.

Yes, we want engineers,

BUT

... we don't want just any engineer. We want engineers with ideas, engineers with drive, engineers who can stick with a job and work with other people to get it done. Scientists, business and liberal arts graduates, too.

Union Carbide has a marvelous potential. It's a top producer of many things, from petrochemicals to titanium, from molecular sieves to flashlight batteries. Its sales have soared from a half a billion in '47 to one and a third billion in '56.

And we plan to keep on growing. That's where you come in. We need creative people. We spend a good portion of sales profit on research, but it takes creative people to make research effective.

We need people with initiative. They are the key to opening up new markets and to get production rolling. We introduce new products at the rate of two a month, and the rate is accelerating.

Representatives of Divisions of Union Carbide Corporation, listed below, will be interviewing on many campuses. Check your placement director, or write to the Division representative. For general information, write to V. O. Davis, 30 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York.

Recruiter

Mr. Joe Galloway, Director of Placement, will explain how his office helps students and alumni find jobs and how students can use the service effectively.

Mr. Caine, a native of Ames, Iowa, has been recruiting for General Electric on the UNC campus since 1952. Only two years earlier, diploma in hand from Iowa State and three years Air Force service behind him, he began his career in the General Electric Business Training Program.

As soon as he completed this training program, he took over the responsibility for the course in the Louisville area.

Educational TV Pipes Courses To N.C. Youth

Educational television designed to help alleviate enrollment problems on the high school and junior high school levels is currently underway in North Carolina schools two hours a day.

Initiated this fall semester, the program includes two courses for high school students (American and World History) and two courses for junior high students (general science and mathematics).

While the enrollment problem is acute on the secondary school level, the situation in colleges and universities is likewise a growing concern to educators and citizens at large.

With an eye on the ever-increasing college enrollments, members of the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) earlier this month focused attention on the utilization of educational television instruction in the college and university classroom.

The SREB completed the planning and took the first few steps toward organizing three Southern states into an experimental compact.

These states, Georgia, Florida and Alabama, are charting a two-year study of network operations which may
