Co-Op House Offers Successful Experiment In Human Relations

In a large frame house on W. Franklin St. 15 Carolina students are taking part in a highly successful experiment in human relations.

Bringing together students from various countries and walks of life, the group calls itself the International Cooperative Society.

Formed here two years ago, the society has as one of its basic principles non-discrimination as to race, religion or political beliefs.

Since the group is rather cosmopolitan, the meals that the members prepare vary from international delicacies to American dishes.

New members are always skeptical about their own abilities to cook, but soon find themselves pitching in with the older members in the spirit of cooperation.

Having the membership open to all who are in agreement with the idea of cooperative living, the society, in its two years of existence, has brought together both graduates and undergraduates, American-born students and several foreign-born persons.

The list of members has included persons of Chinese, German, Hawaiian, Indian, Italian, Negro, Jewish and American heritage.

The arrangement has provided good food, a pleasant home atmosphere and low expenses for members.

Duke Appeal To Carolina Fans: 'No Weekend Vandalism Please'

An appeal for the prevention of vandalism in the upcoming game between North Carolina and Duke was made today by Duke Student Body President, Thomas R. Ferrall, and Duke Football Captain, Hal McElhaneay.

The Duke spokesmen said that "the tradition which has arisen as a result of the rivalry is one which few inter-collegiate competitors can boast. The rivalry is also unique," they said, "not only because of its intensity, but also because of the proximity of the two schools."

They urged that, in keeping with the tradition, students of both schools should leave the basic competition to the men of these two fine football teams.

They said that though vandalism has not been common in recent years "we feel that the present closeness of this year's game merits our consideration of the matter. Vandalism of any sort, either before or after the game, is completely repugnant to the fine tradition of which we have spoken. It is our hope and belief that such actions will upset what should be a fine afternoon of football."

They also extended an invitation to the students of North Carolina to be their guests on behalf of the Duke student body. "The students," they said, "are looking forward to another afternoon of good sportsmanship and excellent football."

New Faculty Appointments Announced By Chancellor

A number of new faculty appointments to the faculty of the UNC School of Medicine have been announced by Chancellor William B. Aycock.

The announcement was made with William C. Friday and the Board of Trustees.

HOW TO STUDY

The makers of Marlboro Cigarettes have bought this space so I can bring a message of importance to American undergraduates each week. There is no more important message I can bring you than this: College can be beautiful. Don't lose it up with studying.

That was my mistake. At first, cowed by college, I studied so much that I turned into a dreary, blinking creature, subject to dry mouth and night sweats. This dismal condition prevailed until I learned the real meaning of college. And what is that? I'll tell you what: to prepare you to face the realities of the world. And what do you need to face the realities of the world? I'll tell you what: poise. And how do you get poise? I'll tell you how: not by sticking your nose in a book, you may be sure!

Relax! Live! Enjoy!... That's how you get poise. Of course you have to study, but be poised about it. Don't be like some drones who spend every single night buried in a book. They are not learning poise; what's more, they are playing hob with their posture.

The truly poised student knows better than to make the whole semester hideous with studying. He knows that the night before an exam is plenty of time to study.

Yes, I've heard people condemn cramming. But who are these people? They are the electric light and power interests, that's who! They want you to sit up late and study every night so you will use more electricity and enrich their bulging coffers.

Don't be taken in by their insidious propaganda! Cramming is clearly the only sensible way to study. But beware! Even cramming can be overdone. When you cram, be sure you are good and relaxed. Before you start, eat a hearty dinner. Then get a date and go out and eat another hearty dinner. Then go park some place and light up a Marlboro. Enjoy the peaceful pleasure it affords. Don't go home till you're properly relaxed.

Once at home, stay relaxed. Do not, however, fall asleep. This is too relaxed. To insure wakefulness, choose a chair that is not too comfortable. For example, take a chair with nails pointing up through the seat.

Place several packs of Marlboros within easy reach. Good, mild tobacco helps you relax, and that's what Marlboro is—good, mild tobacco. But Marlboro is more than just good, mild tobacco; it is also cigarette paper to keep the good, mild tobacco from spilling all over the place. And a filter. And a flip-top box. And a red tape to lift the cigarettes easily... It is, in short, a lot to like.

Now you've got the uncomfortable chair and the Marlboros. Now you need light. Use the lit end of your Marlboro. Do not enrich the light and power interests. Read your textbook in a slow, relaxed manner. Do not underline; it reduces the resale value of the book. Always keep your books in prime resale condition. You never know when you'll need getaway money.

As you read you will no doubt come across many things you don't understand. But don't panic. Relax. Play some Fats Domino. Remove a callus. Go out and catch some night crawlers.

Relax! Live! Enjoy! Remember—any number of people have bachelor's degrees, but precious few have poise!

It doesn't take any cramming to learn that the finest filter cigarette on the market today is Marlboro, whose makers take pleasure in bringing you this column regularly.

in the form of a rumor was aired, originating in Cobb Dormitory. The complaint was concerning the Friday night functions taking place in the basement of Cobb, specifically referring to what was called "excessive noise." The IDC postponed action until that time when a formal written protest is lodged.

In other action Bob Carter reminded those present that a member of the University Dance Committee must be present at all dances sponsored by a dormitory. He stated that all such dances must be cleared through Ray Jeffries, who will then take the responsibility of getting a representative from the University Dance Committee.

Men in the know know true from false

College grads employed in science earn more than the grads in Government service.
 TRUE  FALSE
False. Surveys show that 38% of the grads in Government work were in the $5,000 and above range; only 26% of those in science shared this income status. At $7,500 and above, Government employed grads scored 2 to 1 over scientists.

Over 75% of U.S. college grads enter professions or reach top management in business.
 TRUE  FALSE
True. In fact the percentage is closer to 84%. Census reports indicate that employment with the greatest prestige and income is overwhelmingly held by college grads. Some men without a college education make the grade, almost all college grads do.
