

WEATHER

Clearing, windy and much colder today. Sunday, fair and quite cold.

The Daily Tar Heel

COURTS

The proposed revision of our honor council courts and the system of selecting their members is reviewed on pg. 2.

VOL. LXV NO. 87

Offices in Graham Memorial

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1958

Complete Wire Service

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

FACULTY COUNCIL ABOLISHES CUT SYSTEM

UNC Battles Duke In Home Contest

By BILL KING

The regional television cameras will invade Woollen Gym once again this afternoon and the objects in focus will be the defending Atlantic Coast Conference and national championship and currently the hottest team in the ACC.

It's the Carolina Tar Heels versus the Duke Blue Devils and a capacity crowd of over 5,500 is expected to pack every nook and cranny in the Carolina gym for the 2 o'clock tipoff between these ACC and Big Four rivals, meeting for the second time this season.

This is a must game for both clubs. They're currently tied for second place in the conference with identical 6-2 records, trailing N. C. State (7-2) by just one half game.

The question on everybody's lips is can the Tar Heels put an end to a flaming win streak of six by the Durham contingent. The rampaging Blue Devils shook an early season dilemma by putting the whammy on West Virginia right after exams and since then Hal Bradley's veteran group has been the hottest club in the conference and probably in the South.

Duke Seeks Revenge
This game has all the flavor of a typical Carolina-Duke battle. Possibly the regular season conference title could be hanging in the balance. The Blue Devils should be especially "up" for this one since Frank McGuire's boys ran over them in the semi-finals in the Dixie Classic.

Carolina gets the favorite nod in this one but the bookies can get all the money they want on such a prediction. The Tar Heels have the home court advantage, the Dukers have the advantage of having played six games since exam layoff while the Tar Heels have played but one.

That once was a convincing 115-88 record-tying triumph over South Carolina last Saturday. Carolina had previously beaten Clemson 90-81 right before exams. Duke's last two conquests have also been over South Carolina and Clemson.

Duke's New Look
The difference in this Duke team today and the one which Carolina shellacked in the Classic is the "new look." Bradley has found his starting lineup now, the one which has carried the Blue Devils through six straight. In the Classic, the Blue Devils had no set lineup.

That new look consists of five veterans capable of going the full 40 minutes if necessary. It includes Jim Newcome, Paul Schmidt, Buckley Allen, Bobby Joe Harris and Bob Vernon and each is a stout scoring threat.

Lost To NCS
But Frank McGuire has the talent to counterpunch, although three-fifths of it is first year material. McGuire will send ACC scoring leader Pete Brennan (20.3) and sharpshooting soph Lee Shaffer to the forward posts, lanky Dick Kepley to center and senior Tommy Kearns and sophomore Harvey Salz will man the guard positions.

Sixth man Bobby Cunningham rounds out the nucleus of the big men for the Tar Heels, although there's plenty of talent waiting on the Carolina bench.

The Tar Heels have won all of their televised games in Woollen this season and have lost there but once since 1955. N. C. State beat them in their last game here, 58-57 in an overtime.

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary yesterday included:
Misses Marcia Wells and Bernice Leigh, and Alphonso Early, Bernice Batts, David Rivenbark, James Furr, Edmund Lively, Robert Horne, Robert Stewart, William Evans, Ronnie Smith, David Morris, McDaniel Proctor, Robert Robinson, David Brooks, David Wendt, John Barto, and Myron Smotherly.

HEART DRIVE—Members of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority are taking part in the Chapel Hill Heart Fund campaign which is currently underway. Here, three ADPI's, left to right, Mary Moore Mason, Ruth Hoffman and Betty Carolyn Huffman, go over their work during the drive. The sorority is working with the Chapel Hill Community Club which distributed red heart-shaped boxes heralding Heart Month. The ADPI work is under the direction of Miss Huffman, activities chairman. (Charlie Sloan Photo)

Herman Godwin Named Chairman Of '58-'59 Orientation Committee

Herman Godwin, a junior from Dunn, was chosen yesterday to head the Campus Orientation Committee for next year.

The committee is in charge of orientation of all new students entering UNC. Other members will be announced later following interviews with a bipartisan selection board.

Organization work is to begin immediately, with the new chairman meeting with administration and student body officials. When the new committee is formed it will supervise orientation for both fall and spring semesters of next year. Freshman, transfer and new graduate men and women are to be included in the complete program.

Godwin was named to the post following interviews by Sonny Evans with several interested candidates.

Evans Comments
In announcing the appointment Evans said, "Herman Godwin is a person whose sincerity, depth of character, honesty and ability cannot be questioned. He possesses the necessary qualifications, experience and leadership to make a fine chairman and understands the importance of orientation in the University community."

"I am certain that he will do an outstanding job in every aspect of providing all new students an experience which they will cherish throughout their college careers."

'A Great Honor'
Commenting on his appointment Godwin said, "I accept the position of campus orientation chairman as a great honor, realizing at the same time the many responsibilities involved."

"It is my sincere desire and greatest objective to present the campus with a well-coordinated, practical orientation program."

The appointee is a former governor of Boys' State in North Carolina and a member of the Order of the Grail and Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. A Morehead Scholar, he was a member of the Campus Orientation Committee for 1957-58. In addition to other activities, he is executive secretary of the Carolina Symposium.

HERMAN GODWIN
New Orientation Chairman

In Morehead Building

Panhel Council And Stray Greeks To Serve At First Kappa Rush Party

Members of Panhellenic Council and Stray Greeks will help serve at the first party in the rush program of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority Monday night from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the faculty lounge of the Morehead Building.

Final arrangements for this party and two other parties will be made this afternoon at a luncheon meeting of the Piedmont Carolina Alumnae Club of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Invitations to the first party were mailed out the middle of the week. However, any coed wishing to go through the rush program may do so by merely attending the first party. Dressy woolen dresses and heels have been designated as appropriate dress for the first party.

The invitations sent out said, in effect, that Kappa was launching its newest satellite... the chapter here. In carrying out this theme, name tags to be given to russees at the first party will be in the form of satellites and rockets. The center table in the faculty lounge (for the first party) will contain a center piece of fleur-de-lis, the symbolic flower of the sorority.

In addition to the four Kappas here and alumnae in Chapel Hill Durham and Raleigh, around ten Kappas from Duke University will assist in conducting rush.

The second party will be held Wednesday, Feb. 12, in Smith parlour. The third party will be held Thursday, Feb. 13, in an upstairs room of Lenoir Hall. According to Ransom Taylor, as-

Establishes Class Attendance On Student-Instructor Basis

By ANN FRYE

The University Faculty Council yesterday abolished the cut system here, effective today, and placed the matter of class attendance primarily on a student-instructor basis.

The Council at a meeting yesterday passed a report that does away with the excuse system for absences.

Under the Council's ruling, class attendance will be a matter between the student and the instructor, with two exceptions and then attendance becomes a matter between the student and his dean. These exceptions are: when a student misses more classes than the instructor deems advisable.

The student's dean, after word from the instructor, may take "appropriate action." The elasticity of this ruling provides for instructors' using different attendance policies toward the "A" student and "C" student. This also allows for the deans to take into consideration illness of students when sickness might cause them to miss three consecutive classes.

Dr. James Godfrey, dean of the faculty, said yesterday that the Infirmary will supply a list of all sick students as a matter of information to deans of all the schools and colleges.

This new class attendance ruling by the Faculty Council came with little debate and was passed without change or amendment to the report given by a specially appointed committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. James S. Ingram.

Council Report

The report states: "Regular class attendance is a student obligation, and the student is responsible for all the work, including tests and written work, of all class meetings. No right or privilege exists which permits a student to be absent from any given number of class meetings."

"Instructors will keep attendance records in all classes. If a student misses three consecutive class meetings, or misses more classes than the instructor deems advisable, the instructor will report the facts to the student's academic dean for appropriate action."

Great Step Forward

In a statement from Student Body President Sonny Evans yesterday on the Council's ruling, he said, "I feel that this is a great step forward in the University's history."

Evans, Don Furtado, student body vice president, and George Ragsdale, chairman of Men's Honor Council, had appeared before the Council in January urging the group to consider applying the honor system to the excuse system.

However, the honor system will not be involved in the new class attendance regulations, since the excuse system has been abolished.

In his statement, Evans further said, "If you assume in the first instance that students attend the University to get an education, then you must of necessity assume that forcing him to attend a certain number of classes will not affect his ability or desire to learn in any way."

Not Children

"Students ought to be treated as mature individuals, and not as

(See CUT SYSTEM page 3)

Press Club Will Hear Observer Official Talk

David E. Henes, promotion manager of The Charlotte Observer, will speak at the February meeting of the UNC Press Club.

The meeting will be at the home of Journalism School Dean Norval Neil Luxon, Monday night at 7:30.

Promotion Work

Henes, whose promotional work since the Knight group bought The Observer has boosted its circulation and coverage area throughout the South, will speak on "Newspaper Promotion as a Career."

Press Club President Buzz Merritt added Henes will be willing to talk about anything connected with the circulation and advertising building business.

Press Club members will be able to find out how newspapers justify some of their promotional practices and gimmicks and how to get started in that field.

March Speaker

It was also announced that the speaker for the March meeting will be Thomas Lassiter of the Smithfield Herald who will speak on "Community Journalism." This meeting will be at the home of Kenneth R. Byerly, 418 Whitehead Circle.

All members and visitors who wish transportation to the Luxon home should meet at Bynum Hall at 7:15.

Famous Sayings...

... Of The Elite

"Class, your exam will be completely objective" — "Trace the economic and foreign policy of the United States from 1492 to 1960."

"I don't always grade my classes by the standard University scale" — "Someone who averages 79.9 might get a C for the semester."

"You will not be responsible for details on your exam. Try to get a general picture of the subject" — "Where was Napoleon's smallest birthmark located?"

"Congratulations, John, you made the highest average in all of the classes combined. You made 99 on your exam" — "You made a B for the semester."

"Well class, I have decided to grade these quizzes on the curve. The majority of you made below 70. However, Mr. Jones made a 99 on the quiz."

"You will not be responsible for chapter eight and nine in the parallel reading assignment" — "Discussed in detail Mr. Kownhsbogi's theory of atomic fission as expressed in chapter eight of your reading assignment and contrast it with Mr. Chezhovoy's theory as presented in chapter nine." (one-half of the exam).

German Table Continues

The German Luncheon Table, which has become an institution on campus during the fall semester, will be continued in the spring. The group meets Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1 p.m. in an upstairs room of Lenoir Hall.

... Of The Proletariat

"Dr. Stone, I left my term paper back in the room. May I bring it over to your office this afternoon?" — (three weeks later) — "Dr. Stone, I finally found my term paper. It had fallen behind my desk and I had no idea where it was!"

"Professor McNutt, I really can't understand why I made an 'F' on the course. I studied my head off for that exam." — (Johnnie Student was absent three weeks with the flu, he cut two quizzes, he turned in one out of three required themes, and he overcut the class four times).

"I just hate Dr. Pepper's class. He is undoubtedly the most boring professor and lecturer I have seen. His class is pure torture. Ulp, Good Morning, Dr. Pepper!"

"That old windbag, he doesn't know what he's talking about. All he does is stand up in front of the room and shoot the bull." — (The old "windbag" is a distinguished Phi Beta and holds a A.B. from Harvard, a M.A. from Yale, a Ph.D. from Cambridge, a LL.D. from Oxford, and a D.D. from the University of North Carolina).

"Dr. Crabtree, I'm so sorry. I forgot and turned in the wrong exam book, but I came right over when I discovered I had the right one with me." — "What? An 'F'?" — "But... But..."