N. Y. SCHOOLS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP) — The problem of what to do with 644 or more trouble-making pupils ousted from public schools confronted city officials today.

No one had come up with a solution that would keep them from remaining idle at home or roaming the streets, but state and city officials were hoping for an answer next week.

The mass suspensions yesterday stirred a chorus of protests from parent and other organizations, accompanied by a demand for a legislative investigation of the city school system.

The pupils were suspended yesterday in a Board of Education crackdown on juvenile delinquency. The $44 total was incomplete, as some schools had not reported their figures. There was no breakdown of the figures by race or sex.

ATLAS

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP) — Did interference by a radio signal cause destruction of the two million dollar Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) in flight?

That was a remote possibility explored today by the Air Force and the manufacturer of the 70-foot-tall missile which exploded into what observers said was "nothing" less than four minutes after launching yesterday.

Instruments aboard the giant missile sent back data recorded on thousands of feet of tape and this might provide clues as to the cause of the explosion.

FOSSILS

MOSCOW, Feb. 8 (AP) — Soviet scientists in the antarctic reported today they had found fossilized plants and what appeared to be animal bones possibly 250 million years old.

Investigating the scientists from the supply ship landed by plane on Horn Bluff on the eastern coast of Antarctica.

Summer Work Opportunities Is Topic For Y Study Group

Opportunities for summer work will be discussed for the benefit of all interested students in sessions three days this week in the Council room of Y Building.

These discussion groups will be conducted as a service project by a special Y committee under the chairmanship of Mary Morgan.

On Tuesday between 2 and 5:30 p.m. the discussion will emphasize work camps here and abroad. Between the same hours Wednesday, the emphasis will be on work of students in industry, institutional service unit (work in mental hospitals and correctional institutions) and work in the urban life and settlement work of churches.

Kappa Expects 150 At First Rush Party

Over 150 coeds are expected to attend the first party of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority's rush program Monday night in the faculty lounge of the Morehead Building.

Kappa is the seventh and newest sorority to begin colonization of a chapter at Carolina. The actual installation of the chapter will be held in the fall.

Invitations to the first party were sent out to girls who participated in the fall, 1957, rush program and to new students here this semester.

Two Other Parties

After Monday night's party (from 7:30 to 9 o'clock), two other parties have been planned for rushees. Invitations to the second and third parties will be delivered to each girl's room by Stray Greeks. The bids will be sent out shortly after the third party.

The second party will be held in Smith parlour Wednesday night, and the third party has been scheduled for Sunday night, Feb. 16.

At a luncheon meeting yesterday of Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae in this area, details were decided for conducting the three parties. Alumnae and Kappa members from Duke and the four members here will be present at all the parties.

Colonizing Details

Mrs. Frank Alexander, national director of chapters, will discuss some of the details involved in colonizing a chapter here, at the first party tomorrow night.

Some of the problems which are being considered at the present time include purchase of a house for the sorority and the immediate problem of a place for social events for pledges after this week.

Any coed who did not receive an invitation to the first party and wishes to attend may do so by merely going to the party and giving her name at the door.

Appropriate dress for the occasion will have been designated as dressy women dresses and heels.

LOCAL DUO-HARPISTS
To Perform In Petite Musicale

Duo-Harpists Join Soprano For Petite Musicale Tonight

Ethel Casey, soprano from Raleigh, assisted by Emily Kellam and Suzanne Davids, local duo-harpists, are planning a group of Spanish numbers for tonight's Petites Musicales.

The program, first in the series for the second semester, will begin at 8 o'clock in Gerrard Hall.

Miss Casey is to present seven popular Spanish songs by Manuel DeFalla. The duo-harpists will perform Bach's Sixth French Suite, Rameau's "La Joyeuse," and Grandad's Spanish Dance No. Five, in addition to providing accompaniment for the soloist.

The three performers previously performed together Jan. 26 in a musicale at the Raleigh Museum of Art.

Tonight's recital, as the others in the series, is sponsored by GMAB and is open to the public without charge.

The next program of Petites Musicales will feature Paul Doktor, violinist, and Raphael Puyana, harpsichordist. It is planned for Wednesday, March 5, in Gerrard Hall at 8 p.m.

Blue Devils Down Carolina, 91-75 For Seventh Straight Cage Victory

Durham Club Pulls Away In 2nd Half

By BILL KING

Duke's racehorse Blue Devils showed a large regional television audience and 5,500 fans in Woollen Gym that their recent upsurge in the Atlantic Coast Conference was no fluke by handing Frank McGuire's Carolina Tar Heels a 91-75 defeat yesterday.

A victory was even more deserved because the Devils did it the hard way, playing the last seven and a half minutes without their two big men Jim Newcome and Paul Schmidt who fouled out within a minute of each other, leaving the chores to their fine backcourt men Bucky Allen, Bobby Joe Harris and Bob Vernon plus three larger subs.

Nor did the Devils falter in those waning minutes. In fact, they continued to run over the Tar Heels as Bob Lakata, Hayes Clements and Jerry Robertson alternated with the little men to keep the Duke machine running along with maximum efficiency. It was the seventh straight win for Duke.

UNC STUDENTS

Horse Is Dead, Three Injured In Accidents

A horse (or mule) is dead and three Carolina students were injured as a result of two automobile accidents early Saturday morning.

Howard McAllister, sophomore from Maiden, who was injured in the car-horse (or mule) accident, said the animal just came out in front of the car and couldn't avoid getting hit.

McAllister said the horse is dead although this fact has not been confirmed by the proper authorities. Yesterday afternoon, the owner of the horse had not been located.

McAllister was treated at the Infirmary for an eye injury and released yesterday.

The driver of the car, Marshall Dutton, sophomore from Hickory, was still in the Infirmary yesterday, receiving treatment for an eye injury.

Two other occupants of the car, Paul White from Hickory and Willie Jones from Morganton, were not injured.

The accident occurred around 4 a.m. Saturday on Highway 70, five miles outside Burlington.

In a one-car accident around 3 a.m. Saturday, Stuart Butler, freshman from Charlotte, sustained a fractured jaw and lacerations. He was in Memorial hospital yesterday in what his doctor described as a "good" condition.

The Butler accident occurred on Highway 86, three miles from Chapel Hill, when the car went off the side of the road and overturned. It is believed that Butler apparently went to sleep before the accident occurred.

CAGE BRIEFS

Carolina coach Frank McGuire called the tremendous Duke spurt at the end of the first half and in the first few minutes of the second, "one of the mysteries of the game." Carolina was outscored 20-4 in just a matter of minutes during that period.

McGuire thinks Duke is a much better ball club now because "they have that veteran starting lineup and it makes them real solid."

The Tar Heel chieftain thought Duke did some spectacular shooting. He also remarked that "they were hard to press because they have three very fine dribblers" (Harris, Allen and Vernon).

Duke mentor Hal Bradley lauded his club for "their scrap and hustle. It was a nice feeling to win; it makes the game worth while again. We made many mistakes in the first half and had to change the offense."

"Today's game was just opposite from the classic," Bradley continued, "this time we had the lead and they had to come back. We caught up with a man to man defense but shifted to the zone when Kley (Dick) came back in."

the first half was thus pulmed as the Durham visitors never relinquished the advantage again.

Carolina Outscored

For the next few minutes Duke was as hot as Carolina was cold, and considering a late Duke rally in the first half, the Devils actually outscored the Tar Heels 20-4 in just a matter of a few minutes.

Newcome was the big man in the second half assault as he tallied 12 points before fouling out with 7:06 left. Schmidt had previously fouled out at the 8:11 mark after scoring six points in the second period.

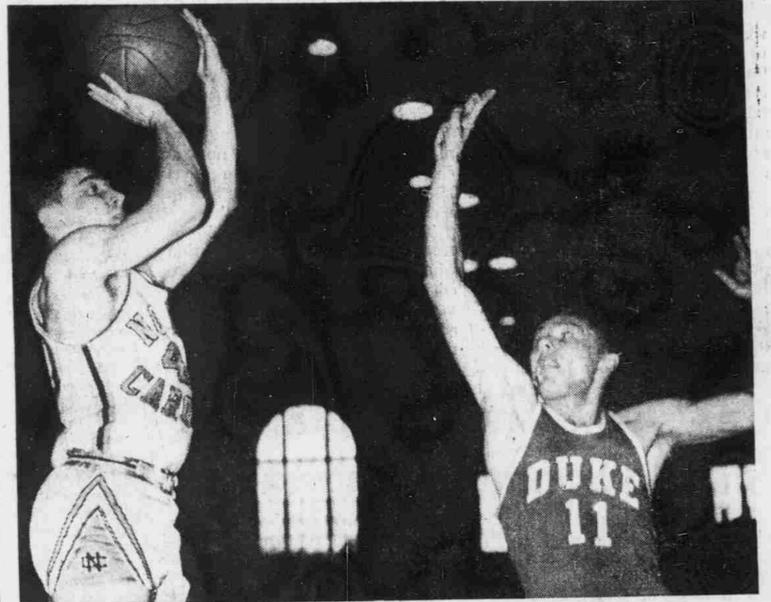

Duke managed to maintain a lead of at least five points the rest of the way, though the Tar Heels never stopped fighting. Everytime Carolina would rally to close the gap a little, the Blue Devils would race right back on one of their frequent hot streaks.

Short Rally

After Newcome and Schmidt left, the Tar Heels moved the count to 64-59 on a field goal and free throw by Pete Brennan but Duke quickly pulled away again, building a 71-61 lead in the minute and a half.

McGuire played the final 1:15 with

New Cut Rule 'Probably' Strikes Out 75 Per Cent Attendance Regulation

By ANN FRUÉ

The new class attendance ruling abolishing the cut system here probably supersedes the 75 per cent attendance regulation as stated in the University catalogue.

Dr. James Godfrey, dean of the faculty, said yesterday that although there may be differences of opinion concerning the 75 per cent rule, it seems that this ruling no longer applies to attendance regulations.

The Faculty Council in a meeting Friday afternoon passed a new attendance ruling abolishing the cut system, but the ruling did not include any mention of the 75 per cent regulation.

Accreditation Standards

A general belief on campus was that the University had been required to incorporate the 75 per cent attendance rule in its class attendance regulations so as to meet accreditation standards of a university and college association.

Members of the special committee, that submitted the report on class attendance to the Faculty Council, said that so far as they could find, the 75 per cent attendance had nothing to do with the accreditation of the University.

Concerning the former policy of double cuts taken in classes before and after holidays, Dean Godfrey said there is no such thing as a double cut under the newly-adopted system, since cuts have been abolished.

This new ruling voted by the Faculty Council places attendance primarily on a student-instructor basis. The report says in part: "If a student misses three consecutive class meetings, or misses more classes than the instructor deems advisable, the instructor will report the facts to the student's academic dean for appropriate action."

Enrollment Drops 316 This Term

Enrollment for the spring semester at the University of North Carolina is 6,722 students, according to a report released yesterday by the University Records Office. The enrollment for the fall semester was 7,038.

In addition to this figure there are 110 graduate students in Public Health, 45 in Library Science and 51 in Social Work.

The report also showed that of the total enrollment 5,275 students (78.4 per cent) are from North Carolina.

The number of coeds now enrolled is 1,261; while the number of males enrolled is 5,461. The ratio of male to female students is slightly larger than five to one.

Foreign students enrolled number 84 from 40 foreign countries and U. S. possessions. Canada has the largest representation with seven students. There are six students from India and Egypt and five from Thailand.

Enrollments in the schools and colleges here are:
General College, 2,172;
College of Arts and Sciences, 1,307;

School of Business Administration, 504;
School of Education, 365;
School of Journalism, 53;
Graduate School, 963;
Law School, 215;
School of Library Science, 45;
Social Work, 52;
School of Dentistry, 221;
School of Medicine, 260;
School of Nursing, 181;
School of Pharmacy, 236; and
School of Public Health, 148.

SP To Discuss Honor Council At Meeting

Student leaders will discuss the proposed revisions in the Honor Councils at the Student Party meeting Monday, 7:30 p.m., in Graham Memorial at Roland Parker Lounge 1 and 2.

Sonny Hallford, attorney general of the student body, George Ragsdale, chairman of the Men's Honor Council, and Paddy Wall a member of the Women's Honor Council, will be at the meeting.

"I would like to present a point of view and to explain the new proposal to the best of my ability and to allow questions which are pertinent to the understanding of the bill," commented Sonny Hallford.

There is one Student Legislature seat vacant in Dorm Men's II which will be filled at this meeting. The party will also elect a new sergeant-at-arms.

Around 200 notices have been sent to students asking them to attend SP Chairman Pat Adams said.

Paris Review Story Contest Deadline Near

March 1 has been announced as the closing date for the second short story contest sponsored by the literary quarterly, The Paris Review.

The prize-winning story will appear in the summer 1958 issue of the magazine. All manuscripts submitted will be considered for publication at the magazine's regular rates.

Manuscripts from this area may be submitted to Max Steele, creative writing teacher, who for the past five years has acted as an advisory editor for the magazine.

The competition was created in 1955 through the aid of the late Aga Khan III, whose son, Sadruddin Aga Khan, is the magazine's publisher.

The contest winner will be awarded $500.

Further information may be gotten from 309 Bingham.
