

Duke Takes Regular Season Title With 59-46 Win Over UNC

By BILL KING
DURHAM—Duke's clever and speedy Blue Devils won top seeding in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tourney here last night by handing the Carolina Tar Heels a 59-46 defeat in Duke Indoor Stadium.

The victory enabled the Blue Devils to dethrone the Tar Heels as regular season ACC champs and take a 2-1 advantage in the series between the two clubs. It was the regular season finale for both.

11-3 Record
The Methodist finished the season with an 11-3 conference mark, the Tar Heels were 10-4. Both ended the season with 17-6 overall records.

Last night's fiasco, which erupted in a mild riot at the end, was a repetition of the Carolina-Duke game in Chapel Hill when the Blue Devils took over early in the second half and completely romped over the Chapel Hillians.

Such was the story last night. The Devils left the floor at half-time with a 26-23 edge after a see-saw battle that saw the lead change hands six times. After 3:25 of the second half the Dukes held a 32-27 lead but the Tar Heels came back to close the gap to 34-32 with 15:45 left. The Blue Devils, who went all the way with Bucky Allen, Bobby Vernon, Paul Schmidt, Bobby Joe Harris and Jim Newcome, then began to pull away.

Increase Lead
With 12:30 left, Schmidt hit one up under to give Duke a 39-32 lead. One minute later it was 42-32 and Carolina had seen its last chance. The Devils were able to maintain a comfortable lead the rest of the way.

With Duke leading 49-41 with 4:50 left the Tar Heels finally switched from their zone defense to a man to man and the Dukes went into a freeze. A few moments later Duke found it could penetrate the new defense and did so with remarkable efficiency.

Carolina was as cold as Duke was hot in the second stanza and the Blue Devils were able to keep control of the ball most of the way. Statistics at halftime had Duke shooting 42.3 and Carolina 31.4. Final stats showed Duke with a 55.8 percentage and Carolina 29.7. Carolina outrebounded, 35-34.

THE BOX

CAROLINA	FG	FT	F	TP
Shaffer, f	2	0-0	3	4
Searcy, f	0	0-0	0	0
Stanley, f	1	0-1	0	2
Lotz, f	1	0-0	0	2
Brennan, f	2	6-10	3	10
Poole, f	0	0-0	0	0

(See TAR HEEL Page 4)

WEATHER

Partly cloudy and moderately cool today and Sunday.

The Daily Tar Heel

VOL. LXV NO. 105 Offices in Graham Memorial CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1958 Complete Wire Service FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Honor Council Chairmen Launch Attack On Legislation Revising UNC Courts

Kit Whitehurst Hits Proposal

Kit Whitehurst, chairman of the Women's Honor Council, charged yesterday that the proposed combination of honor councils will neither strengthen the Honor System nor provide fairer trials.

In a statement issued yesterday, she said, "It is wildly unrealistic to assume that joining the councils will strengthen the Honor System in any way."

"It is also my firm conviction that instead of providing fairer trials, a combined council will prove seriously detrimental to the fair sentencing of the individuals brought before it," she added.

Miss Whitehurst joined George Ragsdale, chairman of the Men's Honor Council, in opposing the constitutional amendment. Students will vote on the change in an election March 11.

She observed that the issue of the combination was not being observed in its proper context. She defined the context as "the effect such a change would have on the teaching and carrying out of justice on this campus."

KIT WHITEHURST Women's Honor Council Head

GEORGE RAGSDALE Men's Honor Council Head

Ragsdale Says 'It Won't Work'

The Chairman of the Men's Honor Council charged Friday that Attorney General Sonny Hallford "urges caution" and has "serious reservations" about his own bill to revamp the judiciary here.

Council Chairman George Ragsdale said Hallford considered "within the past 48 hours asking the student legislature to veto the section concerning the mixed council."

If made constitutional by a campus-wide vote, the new judicial system would provide only one court for Honor Code violations. There now are separate courts for men and women students.

"Are we expected to follow this disconcerted leadership?" Ragsdale asked pointing to what he described as reservation about the proposal by the persons who have publicly supported the measure in the legislature.

"If those who wrote this bill do not wish to give it their unqualified support, then they should have withdrawn it before the student legislature placed faith in their insecure leadership," Ragsdale added.

Statement
His entire statement follows: "Certain advocates of the bill to provide for a mixed Honor Council are not acting in the manner of leaders who seriously believe in their own program. The Attorney General has called for support for his bill, but publicly 'urges caution' and states that he has 'serious reservations' about his own proposal.

"He has stated to Kit Whitehurst, Chairman of the Women's Honor Council, that he considered within the past 48 hours asking the Student Legislature to veto the section concerning the mixed council. I have heard several rumors that certain members of the Attorney General's staff will resign if the proposal goes through.

Rumors
"These are rumors. The Assistant Attorney General is not wholeheartedly behind the bill. And less than ten days ago, Student Body President Eli Evans made this statement to me: 'I hope we haven't created an ogre' . . . referring to the bill. Unfortunately, there were no witnesses present.

"The point is this: are we expected to follow this disconcerted leadership? If the Attorney General has 'serious reservations,' then he and I share a common fear. If those who wrote this bill do not wish to give it their unqualified support, then they should have withdrawn it before the Student Legislature placed faith in their insecure leadership.

Won't Work
"Ideally, they have a good plan, but it won't work. Maybe they are about to realize that fact. If so, they ought to explain themselves. The student body cannot be expected to follow them as the Legislature has done. I am appalled at the actions of my friends in this matter."

CAMPUS CHEST

Late last night the Campus Chest Committee reported that it had collected to date $1,000.

MISS MARCH—Standing with the wind blowing her tresses is pretty Nancy Davis of Mooresville, another Daily Tar Heel calendar girl—this time to represent the windy month, which came roaring to day. A senior Pi Phi, Nancy is a member of this year's Yack Beauty Court and was a member of the Sigma Chi Sweetheart Court last year. Her major is science education. (Buddy Spoon Photo)

news in brief

23 Children Die

PRESTONSBURG, Ky., Feb. 28 (AP)—A loaded school bus hit a wrecker and an auto on a lonely mountain road today and dropped into a rain-swollen river, apparently carrying 23 children and the driver to their deaths.

Sixteen others, some "pushing, showing and screaming," fled through an emergency door and windows before the bus sank into 30 feet of water.

The National Safety Council called it the worst highway accident involving children in the nation's history.

Russian Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Russia proposed to the United States today procedures for arranging a summit conference on East-West tensions.

The State Department disclosed this tonight but declined to give any details.

However, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov had told the Associated Press in an interview two days ago that in the Soviet view preliminary preparations should be concerned mainly with such matters as deciding the time, place and participants and possibly the question of what should be discussed.

IN THE INFIRMARY

Misses Jean McCauley, Carol Yeager, Marcia Wells, Robbie Martin, Amy Peck, Susan Tuggle, Dorothy Hopkins, Elizabeth McKinnon, Nancy McFadden, Eugenia Rawls, Elizabeth Waitt, and Lynett Benvegar and Bryan Grimes, James Whitley, Hewey Harrison, Charles Ross, Glenn Metzger, Perrin Henderson, David McFadyen, Clifton Pannell, Robert Shive and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

AFROTC Dedicates 'Tigers' Den' Lounge

Gen. Frederick C. Shepard officially opened the new Air Force ROTC cadet lounge Tuesday night by making the dedication address before the detachment officers and a large representation of the cadet corps.

The cadet commander, Cadet Colonel Thomas Farrell, first introduced Lt. Col. Franklin Swann, the professor of air science, who pointed out that the lounge was comparable to an officers club on an air base, and that he hoped that the cadets would make full use of it.

He went on to say that of the 25 colleges and universities that he had visited, this lounge was among the best that he had seen, and the cadets should take pride in it.

Colonel Swann then introduced General Shepard. General Shepard's speech was centered around the words duty, discipline, and loyalty.

Debaters Enter Boston Tourney

The UNC Debate Squad will enter the Boston University's twelfth annual National Invitational Debate Tournament Feb. 28 - March 1.

The team will consist of John Brooks and Tom Long with R. P. Douthitt of the English department as advisor. Alternating from the affirmative to the negative side, Brooks and Long will debate throughout the tournament on the query: Resolved: that the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal.

As is customary the tournament will include six rounds of debate followed by semi-final and final rounds. Additionally, a qualifying and final round will be held in extemporaneous speaking, original oratory and oral interpretation.

Phi Leases 10 Portraits To Officials

The Philanthropic Literary Society voted in executive session Tuesday to lease 10 portraits from its art gallery to Dean Alexander Heard and Chancellor William Aycock.

The portraits will be displayed in the new offices of the University officials. Dean Heard, head of the graduate school, has offices in South Building and Chancellor Aycock is in the old Institute of Government Building.

Phi President Jess Stribling said these pictures are taken from the valuable collection owned by the debating society which physical limitations make impossible to display in the hall.

He added, however, that portraits of other famous Phi alumni who have become famous through service to nation, state and university still hang in the hall.

Dean Heard will receive paintings of Robert Bridges, Joseph Caldwell, James Killebrew, William Saunders and Patrick Henry Winston.

Chancellor Aycock will receive portraits including those of Richard S. Donnell, Francis Hawkes, John Mason and John Branch.

Playmaker Tryouts Planned This Monday

Tryouts for The Carolina Playmakers' production of Paul Green's "Hymn to the Rasing Sun" will be held Monday in the Playmakers Theatre at 4 and 7:30 p.m.

The play will be directed by Samuel Selden, chairman of the Department of Dramatic Art and director of The Carolina Playmakers. There are nine speaking roles for men in the play.

Campus-Wide Vote Set March 11 On Proposed Honor Council Bill

The Honor Council Revision bill, which the Student Legislature had spent a total of eight hours considering at previous meetings, passed with a voice vote Thursday evening.

The Student Council came to a final vote after hearing Kit Whitehurst, chairman of the Women's Honor Council, speak against the bill and Sonny Hallford, Student Body Attorney-General, speak for it.

The campus will vote March 11 on amendments to the Student Constitution which will institute a single council for both men and women, if passed.

The Student Council revision bill was sent back to the ways and means committee because the wording of the bill is closely connected with the outcome of the Honor Council revision.

Discriminatory Clauses

Roger Foushee (SP) introduced resolutions to ratify the U. S. National Students Association's "policy on academic freedom" and declaration of the student's responsibilities and rights.

The "Basic Policy Declaration Student Bill of Responsibilities and Rights" contains a section which Foushee termed, "probably one of the more controversial points."

In part this section says, "the constitution (of any student organization) or purposes shall not include discriminatory clauses as to race or as to religion except where the avowed purpose of the organization is to bring together members of one specific religious purpose."

Foushee said his resolution ratified what the U. S. National Students Association had done at a convention.

Financial Bills

The passage of the two money bills, $250 for the African Medical Scholarship Trust Fund and $500 for the Senior Class trophy case, left the unappropriated surplus with $365.63 to last the rest of the semester.

Any other money which the Legislature spends will have to come from the General Surplus, which has been accumulated through the years and totals around $15,000.

Pat Adams (SP) introduced a bill to enable The Daily Tar Heel to keep any profits it makes rather than returning them to the General Surplus.

Harold O'Tuel (SP), chairman of the publications board, introduced a bill to appropriate $650 to the Carolina Quarterly.

Chest Drive Extended Through Wednesday

The Campus Chest Drive has been extended until Wednesday because it has not yet reached its quota of $2,000. As of Friday it had only reached $850.

"If every student on the campus would just give 29 cents we would be able to make our quota," said Libby McCord, co-chairman of the Campus Chest committee.

So far the majority of the amount has come from such sources as the faculty, the graduate students, one men's dorm, three sororities and two fraternities.

Old East, which houses 100 men, gave $50; a group of three sororities gave $250; one fraternity gave one dollar per member; and another fraternity sold its television set and gave the money collected from the sale to the drive.

The Campus Chest issued the following statement: "This is a united appeal to each student to help students within similar university communities throughout the world.

"It is the only fund drive on the campus, and we began with the presupposition that every student would want to give. Last year $1,500 was raised. We can certainly raise $500 more this year. A contribution which would amount to the cost of a milkshake or half the price of admission to a movie is all the Campus Chest asks of each student."