

WEATHER

Generally fair and cooler today.
Wednesday, mostly cloudy and mild.

The Daily Tar Heel

MONSTER

Maybe he's in Durham, and not in Chapel Hill, editor says on page 2.

VOL. LXV NO. 107

Offices in Graham Memorial

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 1958

Complete Wire Service

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

'TO THE VICTOR GOES THE SPOILS'—For several weeks now Tri Delt has been carefully saving empty Philip Morris and Marlboro cigarette packs for a contest sponsored by Philip Morris, Inc. For their efforts they are now enjoying this new Hi-Fi record player which they won. Gathered around listening to records are l to r, Emily Wagner, Pace Barnes—who was their contest chairman—and Lucy Forsyth. (Buddy Spoon Photo)

Hallford Answers Charges By Ragsdale; Public Debate Slated Wednesday Night

Courts Amendment Is Topic For Forum

By ED ROWLAND

Sonny Evans and George Ragsdale will speak on the proposed amendment to the student constitution combining the men's and women's honor councils at an open forum Wednesday night in Carroll Hall.

Evans is expected to urge the passage of the amendment and Ragsdale is to oppose it. The meeting, sponsored by the Forum Committee of GMAB, will open at 8 p.m.

Sonny Hallford, attorney general, and Kit Whitehurst, chairman of the Women's Honor Council, will be on the stage to answer specific questions from the floor. Benny Thomas will be the forum moderator.

The honor councils are presently set up to handle cases according to sex, trying only violations of the Honor Code, which puts a student on his honor not to lie, cheat or steal. The student body will vote on the amendment in a special election Tuesday, March 11.

The bill itself has evoked bitter controversy, both in the Student Legislature and among student body officials. Judiciary members have issued statements opposing the change, while executive officials have favored it.

Thomas, chairman of GMAB, said yesterday, "We realize this time is in direct conflict with fraternity and sorority meetings on Wednesday night; however, this is the only feasible time between now and election day to hold the forum."

Thomas went on to encourage groups who have conflicts that night to bear the significance of the changes in mind and make every effort to attend. He said, "Every interested student should be there to answer questions or to make any short pertinent comments."

Under the proposed system, the Honor Council will try both men and women, but a Women's Honor Council will be retained to try violations of the Campus Code by women.

Code violations by men will still be tried by the Student Council. The amendment will not effect this portion of the court structure.

SONNY HALLFORD

Statement Asserts Real Issue Avoided

Sonny Hallford charged yesterday that George Ragsdale "concentrated his remarks on casting dispersions on an individual's integrity." Hallford referred to Ragsdale's statement last week which accused Hallford of not being consistently in favor of the Honor Council amendment.

Hallford, Student attorney general, said he felt Ragsdale, chairman of the Men's Honor Council, did not focus his remarks on the real issue involved. He added that his reservations about the bill did not pertain to the fundamental principle of a combined council, but to mechanics of it.

Hallford said some of the reservations he has about the amendment could be corrected in the special session of the Legislature tonight.

Hallford's statement in full:

"In regards to the statements made by the Chairman of the Men's Honor Council, George Ragsdale, I have only the following comment to make. I am stunned by the statements George Ragsdale has made concerning this entire matter. I feel that the Chairman did not focus his remarks on the real issue involved, but rather he concentrated his remarks on casting dispersions on an individual's integrity.

Real Issue

"I feel that the real issue involved is whether we should have one Council to try honor violations for both men and women. I am of the opinion that men and women can determine whether a man or woman is guilty or not guilty of an honor violation, and that it does not require separate courts to do this.

"My reservations do not pertain to the fundamental principle involved, that is, the belief that there should be one council, but to other more mechanical measures in the bill. These are measures which the campus is not being asked to vote upon, but are measures which were left to the discretion of the Legislature, and which may be altered by that body when a need presents itself.

"We have been concerned for a long time with the matter of an honor violation resulting out of a social rule violation, and we have advocated all along that when such a case arises that it should remain in the Council or original jurisdiction.

"In this particular instance, an Honor Violation that arises from a social rule violation in the Women's Honor Council would remain in the Women's Council. Thus a woman would be tried by women in a case where extremely personal and sensitive subjects will probably arise. We advocate this not to beg the question, but to make provisions for what we feel is a necessary arrangement.

To Introduce Bill

"This measure will be introduced in a special session of Legislature Tuesday night to be incorporated into the bill. We do this because we are concerned with feelings, attitudes, and sentiments of the women on this campus.

"I call upon the support of all (See HALLFORD, page 3)

Special Legislative Session Considers Council Revisions

A change in jurisdiction of the proposed joint honor council will be proposed at a special session of Student Legislature called for tonight at 7 o'clock in Roland Parker I and II by Don Furtado, speaker of Legislature.

Furtado said yesterday he had called this special session after hearing a request from proponents of the joint honor council bill, which passed Legislature last Tuesday.

The proponents of the bill, he said, want to clarify the jurisdiction of the judiciary such that any case involving an honor council offense, which is brought to light in a campus code offense, should remain in the original court. The reason given for this desired clarification, Furtado said, is that personal situations are most likely to arise in cases of this nature.

Concerned

In a statement contained elsewhere in The Daily Tar Heel, Sonny Hallford, representing proponents of the bill, said they were advocating the change because "we are concerned with the feelings, attitudes and sentiments of the women on this campus."

The bill, passed last week, contains amendments which will be presented to the student body for a vote on March 11. The wording of the amendments does not specifically state what would happen to cases as described above.

Amendments

In order to change these amendments to include the proposed clarifications, Legislature must approve reconsideration of the bill which contains the amendments.

One person who voted for the bill may move for reconsideration. This motion must be seconded and passed by a majority for reconsideration to be brought about.

Furtado said that regular attendance regulations will apply to tonight's special session. He urged all members to be on time what he said would not be an exceptionally long meeting of Legislature.

Phi To Debate Abolition Of Greek Houses

The Phi's debate tonight on abolition of fraternities and sororities is aimed at bringing out advantages and disadvantages of the system. President Jess Stribling said yesterday.

Stribling said in a statement that if disadvantages of the system are found to outweigh the advantages, logically they should be abolished. He said in the wave of adverse publicity about the Greek-letter societies lately the debate will afford proponents an opportunity to publically defend their system.

The Phi will meet at 8 p. m. on the fourth floor of New East. Guests will be welcomed at the debate, Stribling added.

Stribling commented, "The bill will afford an excellent opportunity to openly debate the question."

Personal invitations to attend the meeting have been extended to Herbert O'Keefe, editor of the Raleigh Times, and Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, in addition to Tar Heel staffers.

Class Rings

Juniors and seniors will have another day to place their order for class rings.

A representative will take orders for rings in the Y Court Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., the Order of the Grail announced yesterday.

SP Completes Ticket For Legislature Race

The Student Party completed its slate of candidates for the Student Legislature and discussed its stand on current campus issues last night. Student Body President Sonny Evans addressed the group on the party's responsibility.

In addressing the newly nominated candidates, Evans said that they each must make up their minds on current campus issues on the basis of what they know to be right.

The question of endorsement of a candidate for editor of The Daily Tar Heel was brought up. Since no one has formally announced his candidacy, the party decided to wait until the candidates can make their intentions known.

The Student party also chose a new treasurer to handle its finances during the campaign, he is Erwin Fuller.

The candidates nominated last night were: Dorm men's IV; Ronald Rowe, Otto Funderbuck, Leon Holt, Jack Raper Dorm Men's V; Ken Harris, Bill Porter.

Dorm Women's; Connie Bernstein, Betty K. Johnson, Betty Zeh, Town Women's; Nancy Davis.

Town Men's III; Jim Pittman, Bill Lamm Harold Dunnaodn Town Men's IV; Gerald Bass.

There legislature seats not filled currently or those nominations which are refused or invalidated will be taken up as the first order of business next week.

In addition to those nominations, a discussion of the Student Party platform will be held, and certain important campus issues will be acted upon as to endorsement or not.

Next Monday's meeting will be the nominating session for the major campus offices of Student Body President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. Head cheerleader and National Student's Association Coordinator candidates will be endorsed and Senior Class officer candidates will be chosen. Student Party Chairman Pat Adams urges all party members to participate in nominations next week, and to bring the best qualified candidates available at Carolina before the party.

Public Lecture Set By Ice Age Expert

Richard F. Flint, Yale University scientist, will deliver a major address in the National Science Foundation Teacher's Institute at the University Thursday at 8 p.m. in 207 Venable Hall. The public is invited.

One of the main visiting lecturers in the $266,000 science teacher's special program in which the Institute of Natural Sciences at UNC is cooperating, Prof. Flint will speak on "Earth, Time and the Uniformitarian Principle."

Goettingen Scholarship Deadline for application of a 1958-59 Goettingen Scholarship has been set for noon Wednesday.

Application blanks for this scholarship to study in Germany are available at the Student Government Office, the YMCA Information Office and the office of the Director of Student Activities in South Building.

Katie Stewart Is Coed Head Of Orientation

Katie Stewart, junior coed from Norfolk, Va., has been named chairman of women's orientation, Herman Godwin, Orientation chairman, announced yesterday.

Miss Stewart was selected from four candidates by a bi-partisan selections committee. The original field of nine applicants had been screened by the Women's Residence Council.

The post is the first of its kind. Previously women's orientation had been separate from the men's, but this year the programs will be merged under the direction of Godwin.

Godwin said, "We congratulate Katie upon her appointment. Her capabilities and sincerity make her outstanding: I feel confident she will do an excellent job."

KATIE STEWART
Coed Orientation Head

Miss Stewart, a member of Tri-Delt Sorority, is majoring in political science. She transferred to Carolina from Georgetown, Visitation College in Washington, D. C.

Here she is active in the UP and the AFROTC Angel Flight, is a member of the Women's Residence Council. Her previous experience in orientation stems from similar work at Georgetown. She was president of the student body there.

UP Convention Picks 19 Student Legislators

With 15 delegating totalling 132 students the University Party initiated its "nominating convention" when it selected 19 student Legislators during a one and half hour meeting last night.

The convention had to vote by delegations twice: the other nominations were made by acclamation.

A political duel developed when Charlotte Pope and Sylvia Crumpler were nominated for the same six months seat in the Dorm Women's district.

After the delegations had been polled, the tally showed Crumpler to be the party's standard-bearer for this Student Legislature seat.

George Ragsdale, then warned their best candidates to run for Senior Class offices. He explained that Student Legislature seats were much more important than the class offices.

He asked the delegations to put their best candidates "in a place where they can do something."

The second vote was taken to determine which one of three candidates would have to run for a six months seat rather than a year seat in Town Women's District.

Doug Kellan and Mary Hartzog were chosen to run on the UP ticket for one year seats in that district. Margaret Boaz will run for the six month seat in the same district.

In Dorm Men's I Charlie Gray was nominated for a year seat, and one year seat was left open. Christopher Jones in Dorm Men's II got endorsement for a one year seat, and one year and one six months seat was left open.

At this time the party made no nominations for two one year seats in Dorm Men's III. In Dorm Men's IV Sam B. Smith was nominated for one of four one year seats.

Angus Duff and Bill King were selected for one year seats in Dorm Men's V. From the Women's Dorm District Holly Deifell, Joyce Strickland and Carol Tieslau were nominated for one year seats.

(See UP, page 3)

Valkyries Tap Seven Senior Coeds In Pre-Dawn Ceremonies

Seven senior women were tapped early this morning into the Order of the Valkyries, Women's honorary organization. In the secret pre-dawn ceremony the following were recognized as exemplifying the Valkyrie ideals of character, scholarship, leadership and service:

Miss Julia Ann Crater of Raleigh, Daryl Farrington of Short Hills, N. J. Mary Jane Fisher of Bristol, Va.; Jacqueline Voye Haithcock of Kannapolis, Betty Carolyn Huffman of Catawba, Barbara Ward Madison of Washington, D. C. and Martha Cone Parshley of South Glastonbury, Conn.

The purpose of this Order as stated in the Valkyrie creed is "As a Valkyrie I will strive to achieve" (See VALKYRIES, page 3)

JULIA ANN CRATER

DARYL FARRINGTON

MARY JANE FISHER

JACQUELINE HAITHCOCK

BETTY CAROLYN HUFFMAN

BARBARA MADISON

MARTHA PARSHLEY