Local Merchants Roll Carpet Out For 2-Day 'Spring Swing'

"You can go into any store in town today and tomorrow and have a big time." Those were the words of Milton of Milton's Clothing Cupboard yesterday afternoon on the eve of the second annual "Spring Swing."

"Spring Swing Specials" which are featuring great reductions in the retail price of their articles. Many of them will be below wholesale and students are expected to make a "real haul" over the two day period.

The "Spring Swing" was held in March of last year, but it was decided to put it off until April this year because of cold weather. Over $150 has been allotted by the Merchant's Association to cover the expense of the combo and other sidelihts.

Milton called last year's affair "well received" and said that the store owners are "going all the way this year" to show their appreciation to the students for their (See LOCAL, page 5)

Sponsored by the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchant's Association, the "Spring Swing" promises to be one of the leading days for both students and businessmen financially speaking.

Most stores will stay open until 9 o'clock tonight specifically for this occasion. At 8 p.m. there will be a concert to be held in Franklin Street. Then, from 8:30 until 10 p.m. there will be "dancing in the streets" to the sounds of the Sam Atwater combo from Durham.

Milton said, "this is the first time that we have ever had anything such as dancing in the street and we are all very enthusiastic about its prospect. Our only hope is that it won't rain."

Poll Shows Notable Skid In Honor System Prestige

By DAVIS YOUNG

The latest study just completed by the Polls Committee of GMAB indicates that only 44 per cent of the students questioned would report a violation of the Honor Code. Over 48 per cent stated they would not with the rest undecided.

Commenting on this phase of the poll, chairman Jan Cobbs of the Polls Committee stated yesterday, "last year over 80 per cent of the students indicated they would uphold the principles of the Honor Code.

"This poll shows that 48.4 per cent of the student body would not turn in someone for an Honor Code violation. This all shows a lack of understanding on the part of the students as to what are the Honor Code principles and the student duty toward the Honor Code."

49 per cent of the 300 people who (See POLL, page 5)

Mayo), Miss Patricia Chandler (with Cadet MSgt. Brogden Zlotnicki), Miss Marjorie Ellen Crane (with Midshipman Capt. Maurice Glatzer), Miss Alice Eller (with Cadet MSgt. David Ellis), Miss Margot Goetze (with Midshipman Lt. Edward Butchart) and Miss Ruth Hoffman (with Cadet Col. Tom Farrell). Not shown is Miss Carolyn Dennis whose date is Cadet Maj. Jerry B. Cole.

One of these lovelies will be chosen Queen of the 1958 Military Ball. The winner will be announced as a climax to elaborate presentation ceremonies during intermission at the Ball Saturday. (See story page three)

Drama Group Slates Performances Here

"Antigone" of Jean Anouilh will be presented Saturday and Sunday nights in Gerrard Hall at eight o'clock.

This play will be the third of the productions of the Petites Dramatiques, a dramatic series sponsored by Graham Memorial Activities Board.

Taken from the play of Sophocles the story of "Antigone" is viewed by Anouilh in its modern significance. The story tells of the clash between the state and the individual. King Creon has forbidden the burial of his nephew, Polynices, who led a revolt against the city.

Antigone disregards her uncle's orders and buries her brother. Caught by the guards she is brought before the king, who offers her clemency if she will be silent. Her decision starts a chain of events which results in deep tragedy for all involved.

The role of Antigone will be played by Amanda Meiggs. Creon will be played by William Dixon and the Chorus will be Taylor Williams. Others in the cast are Kenneth Callender, Carolyn Marsh, Harold Williamson, Lucy Ann Dunlap, John Whitty, John Steed, William Pfefferkorn, Bobbi Dixon and Michael Okun.

"Antigone" will be directed by Peter B. O'Sullivan, graduate major in English.

According to producer, Seamon Gottlieb, the general public will be invited and no admission will be charged.

Beaux Arts Ball Set To Blast Off Tonight

Carolina's first trip to outer space will come off tonight when Carolina students take off for the Carolina Inn and the first Beaux Arts Ball, a costume ball, co-sponsored by Graham Memorial Activities Board and the University Art League.

"The Embers," well-known local band, will provide the music for the dance which will last from 9 to 12 p.m. in the ballroom of the Inn.

Although the theme of the dance is "A Visit to Outer Space," the costumes do not have to be on this theme. Students can also come in formals if they are not able to make or get costumes. However, a prize will be given to the boy and to the girl who have the most original costume.

The ball, which is to be patterned after the Artist's and Model's ball in New York City, will have unusual decorations featuring a large rocket and helium filled balloons.

The ball is part of a Fine Arts Festival which the student union is hoping will be successful and become an annual event.

SCENE FROM THE MOOT COURT MARTIAL NOW BEING CONDUCTED BY THE NAVAL ROTC SENIOR CLASS AS PART OF THEIR CURRICULUM IN MILITARY JUSTICE—Henry Joseph Sommer, the accused in the case being heard by special court martial, is charged with violation of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, article 121 (theft). Defense counsel is John R. Alexander and assistant defense counsel is John R. Alexander and assistant defense counsel are Thomas H. Upton, trial counsel and Ervin E. Lampert, assistant trial counsel. Members of the court are Don H. Miller, president, Dale W. Doss, Canie B. Smith, Harold D. Sheperd and Francis C. Porcher. The court reporter is Richard H. Bell. Instruction in court martial procedures and military law is an essential part of every officer's training as most junior officers can expect to take an active part in some phase of a special court martial proceeding soon after he is commissioned. The Daily Tar Heel presently has many positions open for writers and reporters in the News and Feature departments.

Interested persons may stop by the offices of The Daily Tar Heel in Graham Memorial any afternoon during the next few days.

Street Dance Leads 'Spring Swing' Affair

Carolina students will be treated to the second annual "Spring Swing" today and tomorrow.

Ty Boyd of the WCHL staff says that this year's affair will be a "real swinging session." All of the events are being sponsored by the merchants of Chapel Hill.

Permission has been received from the State to rope off Franklin Street on Friday night until 10 o'clock in order to provide for dancing in the street. Music will be supplied for this dance by Sam Atwater's combo from North Carolina College.

Boyd called Atwater's group the "hottest rock n' roll band in the South" and predicted they would provide the crowd with "great sounds."

All local stores will feature "Spring Swing Specials" expressly for the students. Many will be staying open until 9 p.m.

There is also some possibility that either or both of the local movie houses will have free flicks on Friday night at the late show.

Today Marks First Day Of Art Show

Part of East Franklin Street may look like the left bank of Paris or Greenwich Village today, Saturday and Sunday when the Recreation Committee of GMAB and the University Art League co-sponsor the first annual sidewalk art show in connection with the Fine Arts Festival.

The work exhibited will be the work of both students and townspeople, and it will be exhibited in the vacant lot next to the Methodist church. Some of the paintings will be for sale.

In case of rain the show will be moved to the Rendezvous Room of Graham Memorial.

Over thirty people had already submitted examples of their work by Thursday morning.

Officials Urge Use Of New Parking Lot

A joint statement was issued yesterday afternoon by Ralph Cummings, chairman of the Traffic Advisory Committee and Jack Spain, chairman of the Bell Tower Parking Lot Committee, which pertained to the opening of the new Bell Tower Parking Lot.

The statement said, "With Chancellor Aycock's announcement of the opening of the Bell Tower Parking Lot, the problem of making best use of it has been placed squarely in the hands of the students.

"This lot which was originated in the summer of 1957, has spaces for about 577 cars. The entrance to the area is just past the Morehead-Patterson Bell Tower as one drives from Woollen Gym. The lot is graveled and well lighted at night.

"The traffic problem on our campus is grave and is becoming more serious as enrollment spirals. With approximately 7,000 students on this campus, there are over 3,000 cars registered.

"For these cars there are slightly over 1,000 parking spaces for students. Thus, a large number have to park off campus and about 50 persons per day park in illegal spaces. (See OFFICIALS, page 5)

Softball And Dance Top Pharmacy Affair

This afternoon the School of Pharmacy will begin a weekend of festivities with a softball game followed by a picnic at the American Legion Hut. Kappa Psi and Phi Delta Chi, professional pharmacy fraternities, will be opponents in the sports event.

Later in the evening the group will enjoy informal dancing, at a Cabin Party in the Hut, to music provided by Sam Atwater's combo from Chapel Hill.

Saturday afternoon the Kappa Psi fraternity will hold a banquet at the Castle Club in Durham, and Saturday evening the School of Pharmacy will hold a formal dance in Woollen Gym. The "Duke Ambassadors" will play for the affair and during the evening the orchestra's entertainment group, composed of Duke coeds and several singing groups, will provide special attractions.

At intermission the officers of the School of Pharmacy and their dates will be presented in a figure.

Both fraternity houses will hold open house all day Friday and Saturday.

Old South Ball, Sweetheart & Alumni

By JOAN BROCK

Old South Ball Approximately 103 Kappa Alphas and their dates will leave Chapel Hill this afternoon about 3 o'clock to attend the annual Old South Ball to be held in Charlotte this year.

This group will arrive in Charlotte about 6 o'clock and will attend a dance tonight at the Red Fez Club. "The Gladiolas," a Negro instrumental-vocalist group, will be the featured entertainers for the evening.

Saturday noon will find the KAs distributing their Southern hospitality up and down the main streets of Charlotte, in their annual parade. The procession will end at the Mecklenberg County Courthouse where a secession ceremony will be held.

Following the parade, a reception and barbecue supper will be held for brothers, alumni, and guests at Radio Center. Tom Belk of Charlotte, province commander and ruler of North Carolina chapters, will be special guests for the events.

Saturday night Radio Center will be invaded by a Confederate atmosphere when the KAs and their dates assume roles of Southern Belles and Beaux. Billy Knauff's orchestra

Orientation Group Applications Due

Men applying for orientation counselorship have been urged to get in their applications as soon as possible. Application blanks and study manuals are now available at the YMCA, Lenoir Hall, Graham Memorial and the library. The deadline is Monday.

A general test on the study manual will be given to all applicants on April 15 at 7 p.m. in Room 268 Venable. Individual interviews will be held April 16-23. Applicants will be notified by campus mail as to the time of their interviews.

from Charlotte will provide music for the occasion.

Each of the five KA chapters in North Carolina has selected a KA Rose to compete for the title of Province Rose. During the evening, the sponsors and their dates will be presented in a figure and a new state queen will be crowned.

Sigma Chis

The 1958 Sweetheart of Sigma Chi at UNC will be crowned tonight at a banquet at the Cavalier Hotel in Virginia Beach, Va.

The queen to be named from 11 UNC coeds will be announced at the Saturday night banquet, highlight of the weekend's activities, and then honored at a party following the dinner.

Competing for the honor are Frances De Armon of Charlotte; Kay Wrenn and Joan Brooks of Greensboro; Norma Basnight, Greenville; Elizabeth Coleman Jenkins, Kingston; Sylvia Crumpler, Mebane; Alleene Keith and Mary Ann Keith, twin sisters from Wilmington. Other candidates include Mary Ann Allsbrook of Bristol, Tenn.; Frances Newman, Birmingham, Ala. and Mary Kay Carothers of Houston, Tex.

The queen will be selected by members of the Sigma Chi fraternity. The 1957 Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Nancy Jo Rush of Longmeadow, Mass., will also be on hand for the festivities.

Alumni

Alpha Delta Pi alumni from Chapel Hill and Duke will entertain both sororities at a party at the local ADPI house Tuesday night. The party will take the form of an informal get-together, the main purpose being to cement relations between the two sororities and enable the girls to become better acquainted. During the evening the girls will participate in group singing and the local chapter will present its Valkyrie skit for the Duke girls and the alumni.
