UNC Has Never Had Enough Union Space

By AL RESCH

(The following is the first of a series of articles pointing out the need for a new student union on the UNC campus.)

Some of the questions to be considered are why Carolina needs a new union, in what ways would the building of the new student union help the individual student and how the new union would help or improve the general atmosphere on the Carolina campus.

Honor Council Needs People For Summer

"We need to have seven men and seven women serve on the two Honor Councils for the summer session," commented Student Body President Don Furtado yesterday.

"We are urging anyone planning to be here over the summer to come by the Student Government Office and apply immediately for these important jobs. It is not necessary to have had previous Honor Council experience. A sincere desire to assist in the operation of this all important phase of our student life is the primary requirement."

Application blanks may be picked up any afternoon and filled out on the spot. It is hoped that a large group of people will come by the Student Government office and apply, so that a wide degree of selection can be used.

At the same time applicants apply for this, they may also fill out a blank for a position in next year's student government to serve on some vital committees. These include many openings, and Furtado has called for a large turnout to fill these vacancies.

'No Squares Allowed' Features Leading Campus Personalities

By MARY MOORE MASON

The slender dark haired boy sat on the edge of the stage in Memorial Hall, strumming a guitar and singing softly a ballad called "In My Quiet Way."

Suddenly an intimate ball of vivaciousness and energy burst onto the stage in the form of a dimpled, brown haired girl.

"Hi, Hoke!" she yelled, waving to the boy and then to the gang of mobsters who sat in the audience. "Well hello, Hannah," he said, nodding to the Siamese girl and the ape that followed her out on the stage.

Hoke Simpson and Hannah Kirby are the leads in this year's Sound and Fury production, "No Squares Allowed."

Hoke, a sophomore from Larchmont, N.Y., has already gained fame not only on the campus but around the country through his recording of "Number One," a calypso song about the unbeaten basketball team and "Gigi," a romantic ballad.

Since coming to Carolina, Hannah has been the originator and the director of the Circle Nine, a singing group of coeds who appeared in the Cavalcade of Talent. She was also director of the Valkyries Skit which her sorority presented.

The lively musical, which will weave itself around the exploits of big city musicians, politicians, and gangsters will be given this Friday and Saturday nights in Memorial Hall.

It will also feature such attractions as a talking ape, a dancer from Siam, and a 5'9" blond female bodyguard with a bra holster.

Since he has been at UNC he has been in the Cavalcade of Talent and has entertained at numerous parties and functions.

In "No Squares Allowed" Hoke portrays an earnest, quiet young progressive jazz musician who turns out to be a surprise to Hannah who portrays a charming young dilettante who gets mixed up with the underworld.
