

New Attorney General Is Richard Robinson

The appointment of Richard H. Robinson, Jr., a rising junior from Greensboro, to the office of Attorney General for next year was announced Thursday night by Don Furtado, student body president. Robinson is the present Assistant Attorney General and has been active in many phases of campus life, including the Symposium Committee, the Honor Council Commission, the Student Legislature, and the Orientation program. He is a Morehead Scholar, and a member of the Order of the Grail and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Women's Dean Cannot Speak On New Rules

Katherine K. Carmichael, Dean of Women, issued a statement Thursday to The Daily Tar Heel concerning the new freshman women's rules.

She said, "Since I received a copy of these rules very late Wednesday afternoon, I have been able to give them only a perfunctory reading, and have not yet had opportunity to go over them with thoroughness."

"By the middle of next week, after I have spoken with certain administrative officials and with representatives of academic departments in which these freshmen women will be matriculated, I shall be able to give an official statement to The Daily Tar Heel."

However, I commend the diligence and thoughtfulness of the Women's Residence Council. I am hopeful that the set rules, on which the council has spent much time and effort since mid-October, will be workable."

University String Quartet Opens Concert Series

The University String Quartet will present its first program of the 1957-58 season in Hill Music Hall Tuesday at 8 p.m., playing works of Beethoven, Barber, Schubert and Haydn.

The quartet members, violinists Edgar Alden and Jean Heard, violist Dorothy Alden, and cellist Mary Cray Clarke, have played together since 1950.

Dr. Alden is a member of the faculty in the Department of Music at the University where he teaches violin, harmony and graduate courses in musicology, and is also associate conductor of the University Symposium Orchestra.

Both he and Mrs. Alden have held first chair position in the North Carolina Symphony and have performed throughout North Carolina as soloists and in various chamber groups.

Mrs. Heard is a graduate of the Juillard School of Music and has studied with Mischa Mischakoff. Miss Clarke, first cellist with the University Symphony, is a graduate assistant in the Music Department and holds a master's degree from the Manhattan School of Music.

The concert is Number 18 of the current Tuesday Evening Series sponsored by the UNC Department of Music, and is open to the public at no admission charge.

FIRST GM DAY

Discussion Mixed With Recreation

The first Graham Memorial Day will be held Tuesday, May 6 at 5:30 p.m. at Camp New Hope under the sponsorship of Graham Memorial Activities Board.

The purpose of the day is for student leaders and students who are interested in working with the student union next year to get to know each other and discuss campus activities and problems constructively.

The theme of the day will be "The Student's Sense of Values", and it will be discussed with reference to the following topics: "College as Preparation for Vocation," "The Role of Fine Arts in Our Education," "The Role of the Campus Religious Organizations in Student Life," "Social Life; Ideas for Improvement," and "The Role of Extracurriculars in Education."

According to Eleanor Brawley, assistant director of Graham Memorial, there will be a picnic, swimming in the new pool at the camp, and entertainment presented by the cast of Sound and Fury, one of the organizations under GMAB.

Students from the student government, legislature, residence councils, Pan-Hellenic, IFC, religious groups, and many other organizations have been invited to the picnic and discussion.

Betty Carolyn Huffman of the planning committee has urged all other students, especially those

TWO MORE TO CALL 'COLONEL'—Chancellor Aycock and President Friday receive certificates appointing them honorary colonels in the AFROTC's honorary Tar Heel Air Force in ceremonies Thursday afternoon. They are being congratulated by Cadet Col. Thomas G. Farrell.

Last Petite Musicale To Feature Dr. Hopper

The last Petite Musicale program of the spring semester is scheduled for Sunday at 8 p.m. in Hill Hall. Featured performer will be Dr. Francis Hopper of the University of Louisville.

Les Petites Musicales are sponsored by Graham Memorial Activities Board. Dr. Hopper, who is professor of music and head of the organ department at the University of Louisville, presented a harpsichord recital sponsored by Petites Musicales last fall.

Dr. Hopper has studied at the Union Theological Seminary in New York, where he earned his master's and doctor's degrees in music, and at the School of English Church Music in Chislehurst, England.

While Dr. Hopper was studying in England he gave frequent Sunday afternoon recitals in both Oxford and Cambridge. While he was studying in New York he was organist for Sunday morning services at Carnegie Hall.

Admission is free and the public has been invited.

Interim Group Jobs Available For Symposium

A call for interested people to apply for the Interim Committee of the Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs has been issued by the new chairman of that group, Al Goldsmith.

The job confronting this organization during the "off year" will be that of evaluating and setting straight the records of the past Symposium.

In addition it will be their job to lay the plans for the next Symposium, to be held in March of 1960.

Goldsmith stated yesterday, "I want to urge those interested in the work of the Carolina Symposium to apply for the Interim Committee."

"The students and faculty members selected for the committee will work closely with me in the months that lie ahead. Membership on this committee will provide students with a chance to help plan for the 1960 Carolina Symposium and to work closely with faculty members and important people throughout the United States."

"Let me urge all those interested to apply to me at the Symposium office in Graham Memorial by calling 9460 or at the Chi Phi House at 8-9073."

Senior women have been granted two o'clock permission Tuesday and twelve o'clock permission Wednesday, in a joint decision by Women's Residence Council and the Dean of Women.

On Wednesday, the senior class will meet at 10 a. m. in Memorial Hall. George Ragsdale, president of the class, will preside over the meeting where Mr. Alumnus and Miss Alumna will be elected.

From 3:30-12 p.m. seniors will celebrate the occasion with a party at the Patio. The activities of the afternoon and evening will include games and entertainment, followed by a barbecue dinner and dancing to the music of Nick Keadns Combo.

Other members of the planning committee are Bob Boden, Janet Hobbs, Pete Austin, Tom Rand and advisor Eleanor Brawley.

UNC Geologists Attending Meet

Professors Roy L. Ingram, William A. White and Virgil I. Mann, of the UNC Department of Geology and Geography, will attend the annual meeting of the Southeastern Section of the Geological Society of America in Tuscaloosa on May 1-3.

Ingram, chairman-elect of the Section for 1958-59, will give a paper on "X-Ray Properties of the Clay Minerals in Some Carolina Bay Sediments."

White will give a paper on "Cape Canaveral and the Cross-Peninsular Divide."

UNC Officials Made Colonels By Air ROTC

The Tar Heel Air Force awards were presented to Consolidated University president William C. Friday and University Chancellor William B. Aycock here Thursday. The Tar Heel Air Force is the honorary organization of the UNC Air Force ROTC unit at the university.

The certificates awarded them read: "The recipient having demonstrated noteworthy understanding of and appreciation for the United States Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program by his continued support of their activities is hereby appointed Honorary Colonel in the Tar Heel Air Force."

The presentations were made at a full dress combination parade and review conducted by the AF-ROTC Cadet Corps in the officials' honor. President Friday and Chancellor Aycock are the fifth and sixth to receive TAF certificates. The others were Gen. F. C. Shepard, Coach Jim Tatum, General College Dean Cecil Johnson, and Capt. Mike Pennella, USOF (RET.).

Senior Women Get Late Grant On Senior Day

Wednesday, May 7, will be Senior Day, with excused cuts from classes and a party for all seniors.

Senior Day activities will begin Tuesday, when the seniors will be given free admission to the Carolina Theatre upon presentation of their identification cards.

Senior women have been granted two o'clock permission Tuesday and twelve o'clock permission Wednesday, in a joint decision by Women's Residence Council and the Dean of Women.

On Wednesday, the senior class will meet at 10 a. m. in Memorial Hall. George Ragsdale, president of the class, will preside over the meeting where Mr. Alumnus and Miss Alumna will be elected.

From 3:30-12 p.m. seniors will celebrate the occasion with a party at the Patio. The activities of the afternoon and evening will include games and entertainment, followed by a barbecue dinner and dancing to the music of Nick Keadns Combo.

Israeli Folk Dancers Perform Wednesday

UNC students and Chapel Hill residents will have the opportunity to see an evening's performance by Israeli folk dancers, singers and musicians for the third successive year Wednesday, May 7.

Appearing at Hillel House at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at UNC, the Ron Troupe will present a program which illustrates Israel's finest artistry.

Before coming to the United States to complete their education, the artists had extensive training and experience in Israel.

The two dancers are, at present, studying with Martha Graham, noted American exponent of the dance.

Dancer Oshra Elkayam, native-born Israeli, studied interpretive and folk dancing with eminent Israeli teachers. She has made numerous stage appearances.

Dancer Daniel Dassa has participated in folk dancing since early youth. He studied dancing in Israel where he became a dance instructor.

In the United States he has been studying with Martha Graham. In addition to various personal appearances, he organized a dance troupe in the U. S. which performed at Hunter's College Dance Festival.

Singer Dvorah Ekhajzer has sung over the Israel Broadcasting System and has made several appearances in the U. S. including the Aspen Music Festival in Aspen, Colorado.

Gil Alma, accordionist, studied with Paul Ben-Haim and at the Jerusalem Conservatory. He has written several cantatas and folk songs which are popular in Israel.

His works include personal appearances and recordings as accompanist.

PanHel Council Hears Fashion Show Reports

The Panhellenic Council, at its meeting Wednesday afternoon, heard a report from the Carolina delegates to the Panhellenic Fashion Show held last week in Raleigh. Women from Carolina, Duke, and other North Carolina schools with sororities attended the show. Sororities in general were discussed in the report. It was decided that the local Council would send delegates to next year's Fashion Show.

Various aspects of the formal rush compact for next fall were discussed in the meeting.

The Council voted to establish a committee to make up a form letter to be sent to the parents of entering freshmen women next fall explaining sororities on the UNC campus.

Furtado Threatens Boycott If Meters Are Installed

By DAVIS YOUNG
"If the town Aldermen do not reconsider this parking meter proposal, and, at the same time consider the problems which fraternity and sorority residents have parking, we the students, will initiate and carry out the most complete boycott of the merchants, theaters and restaurants of Chapel Hill that this community has ever witnessed."

These were the words of Student Body President Don Furtado, when confronted yesterday with the possibility that the city of Chapel Hill may install parking meters on Franklin St. and on Columbia St.

Magill Gets New Title; Now 'Assistant Dean'

It was announced yesterday by Fred H. Weaver, Dean of Students, that Samuel H. Magill has been made Assistant Dean of Student Affairs. Magill was originally Director of Student Activities.

In connection with this announcement Dean Weaver said Mrs. Martha Decker DeBerry has been made Assistant to the Dean of Women. Mrs. DeBerry has been Assistant Director of Student Activities since 1955.

These appointments have been approved by Chancellor William C. Aycock and Consolidated University President William B. Friday.

Dean Weaver said, "Mr. Magill will continue to be the University's administrative officer immediately concerned with Student Government and the student activity program as a whole."

In a statement from Dean Weaver he gave several reasons for the change in Magill's title. "In the first place," he said, "the title, 'Director of Student Activities' is inappropriate to this University because of the long tradition of student self-government and our idea of student-administration relations, with student activities largely in the hands of and under the direction of the students themselves."

"In the second place," Dean Weaver stated, "the recent action in front of Big Fraternity Court. Furtado added, "I believe such a measure will definitely stamp on their minds that the students are, despite what anyone says, the lifeblood of Chapel Hill."

Aside from the problem that parking meters would pose for fraternity, sorority and in general all students of the University, questions have been raised as to whether this wouldn't deface some of Chapel Hill's beauty.

Currently the town features angular parking in the areas which would be affected if the proposal goes through. Under the new plan, this would be changed to parallel parking.

The Town Council and some local citizens are under the opinion that meters might benefit the town by allowing police to patrol rather than chalk marks on tires.

The addition of parking meters would result in the loss of nearly a hundred parking spaces in the downtown area. However, the Aldermen contend that this shortage might be compensated by the fact that over $600 per day will come in as revenue from the new meters.

Furtado continued with his statement and went on to say, "In 1956, the Town Council reached a decision to initiate two (2) hour parking along Columbia St. in front of Big Fraternity Court. This was done despite the fact that a great many fraternities were almost

Legislative Roundup; Suspend Election Law

By DAVE JONES
The current Election Law was suspended, and a committee to write a new one was established, Thursday night by the Student Legislature.

In speaking for passage of the election law bill, Rep. John Brooks (SP) Co-sponsor, along with Dave Biren (UP), cited the history of the existing law, dating back to the early days of Student Government. There have been only two minor changes since that time.

He also cited administrative tangles caused by this law's failure to cover certain cases. The most recent of these was when there were 51 members of the 50 member legislature.

There will be seven persons on the rewriting committee. Those provided for by the bill now include Rep. Rudy Edwards, SP Floor Leader; Rep. Dave Biren, UP Floor Leader; Rep. John Brooks, Parliamentarian and Bob Furtado, ex-chairman of the Elections board.

In addition, the new Chairman of the elections board, as yet unappointed, will serve on this committee, as well as two legislators to be appointed by the Speaker.

Representative Roger Foushee's SP bill to appropriate $3700 to buy Amateur radio equipment, was reported out of committee. In com-
