VOLUME 6, NO. 1

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA

JUNE 5, 1958

REGISTRATION SET TODAY

IN LIEU OF THE RUSSIANS . . . When our Russian friends decided that they would arrive at midnight instead of noon yesterday, we turned to our files and pulled out this picture of a typical registration line from past years. You just can't win 'em all.

3,300 Expected To Be At Carolina

The University of North Carolina tomorrow opens its doors for the 1958 Summer School, in which will be enrolled a total of slightly over 3300 students.

Today is Registration Day for all enrollees, regardless of whether or not they have previously attended UNC. Tomorrow morning regular classes will start at 7:30 a.m. Students are reminded that classes will also be held this Saturday in all courses.

Summer School will again run for twelve consecutive weeks terminating on the 23rd of August. The first session will run from tomorrow until the previously mentioned date in August.

The male population of the school will be happy to learn that of the 3300 students who will be enrolled in the Summer School, many will be women. The usual seven to one ratio of men to women will be lowered to a little over 2-1 according to the latest word from Summer School officials.

Class attendance will be on the same basis as the regular year, as rules pertaining to this will be left to the discretion of the instructor. However, class attendance will be taken from the first day that the courses are held—tomorrow. Instructors will be expected to notify any student who has an unreasonable number of cuts before he is dropped from the course.

Auditing privileges will not be granted to any student during the Summer Session. Only those students regularly registered for a course may attend.

Students will want to take advantage of the facilities of Woolen Gym throughout their stay this summer. Of particular interest will be Kessing Pool located behind the gym. Also of interest are handball courts, boxing and wrestling rooms and other outlets for the more athletically inclined.

Lenoir Hall will be open during the summer months as will the other University dining halls—the Carolina Inn and Spencer Dormitory. Also available to students will be the food of the town's many restaurants.

For entertainment, the Carolina and Varsity Theaters (see ads on page 4) will be open during the summer months. Also available for summer fun will be the facilities of Graham Memorial Student Union and the three Y-nites now being planned.

In addition, many seminars and conferences will be held on this campus during the next two and a half months for a variety of organizations ranging from Sociology teachers to high school drama groups.

Crammed into the few weeks ahead will be plenty of opportunity to increase one's academic standing as well as to have a good time.

Honor Councils

The Honor Councils will function this summer as in the past, with both the Men's and the Women's groups being composed of seven members.

Students are reminded that the Campus Code will also be enforced throughout the summer months. Instructors or students desiring to release information of interest to the Councils are urged to contact either the chairman of the Men's or the Women's Councils. If this cannot be done, contact may be made with the Office of Student Affairs.

New students have been urged to acquaint themselves with the working of the Honor Code and the Campus Code.

The Welcome Party - June 6 At 7 P.M.

Come one and come all to the fifth annual Summer School Welcome Party being held tomorrow night from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Y-Court.

Featured entertainment for the evening will be the combo of Jim Crisp. Tomorrow night's event is being sponsored by the combined efforts of the YMCA and the YWCA, and both organizations are strongly urging that all students here for the first session come by and join in the fun.

Working with the Y's in the planning of this year's Welcome Party was the Summer School Activities Council under the chairman ship of Nelson Lavergne.

As part of the festivities refreshments will be served throughout the evening. This event provides an excellent opportunity for all students, particularly the new students, to meet and party with other Carolinians.

Nola Hatten, one of the chairmen of the party, said, "I certainly hope that a good many of our students will be able to come over on Friday night. I would like to stress that everyone is invited and will be made welcome."

"In the past summers, the Welcome Party has always proved to be one of the highlights and I am sure that everybody will have an enjoyable evening. See you tomorrow night."

Summer Activities Board

It was also learned that the Summer School Activities Board is in need of people to work with it this summer in planning the activities for the summer students here. Anyone interested is urged to come by the Student Government Office on the second floor of Graham Memorial.

COPY

Anyone interested in submitting copy for The Summer School Weekly should turn it in to room 209, Graham Memorial, as early as possible, but no later than 6 p.m. on Tuesday of each week. The phone number for the paper is 9-3361.

Six Editors From Russia Are Visiting At Carolina

GONE WITH THE WIND—Tar Heel runners Wayne Bishop and Dave Scurlock pictured here shortly before their departure to sunny California. Both boys, ACC champions in their events, are expected to face stiff opposition on the West Coast.

California Bound This Week

Its off to California again for Carolina's good will ambassadors Wayne Bishop and Dave Scurlock, where the two stars will compete in a series of meets on the West Coast.

Scurlock will be running in several meets including the California Relays held a few days ago on May 31 and the Compton Invitational on June 6, the NCAA on June 13-14 and the AAU at Battersfield on June 20-21.

Bishop will be running in both the NCAA and the National AAU. For Scurlock, it will be the return to scenes of past triumphs and glories.

He recently won in the well-publicized, star-studded Coliseum

Relays in Los Angeles where he turned in a very fine 1:50.5 time for his top event, the 880-yard run.

Last year, running in the NCAA championships in Texas, Scurlock ran one of the ten fastest half miles in history when he clocked an incredible 1:48.2 time to place third in the 880 won by world's record holder Don Bowden of the University of California. He will again be facing Bowden this month in both the NCAA and AAU meets.

This year Scurlock came on fast in the spring after a painful ankle injury sidelined him for over a month. Gradually working (See SCURLOCK Page 4)

Six Russian student editors will be on campus today and tomorrow, as part of a student exchange arranged by the United States National Students Association.

The six editors arrived yesterday and will observe the University, State College, and certain phases of Durham and Raleigh life as part of their 30-day tour of the United States.

Averaging in age from 28 to 38, the Russian guests edit student and youth publications in various parts of the Soviet Union.

The editors will today have breakfast with several members of the faculty, and then will tour the campus, including the gymnasium, hospital, library, chemistry building, physics building, a women's dormitory, and the offices of The Daily Tar Heel and student government.

The group will participate in a student government discussion, which will be followed by a church group luncheon.

The editors will then go to Durham to meet Mayor E. J. Evans and tour Liggett and Myers cigarette factory.

They will appear at a press conference in Chapel Hill at 4 p.m. in Graham Memorial, and will appear on television over WUNC-TV at 6:15 with Don Furtado, student body president, and Allard K. Lowenstein, former president of the United States Students Association.

At 8:30, the editors will view the show at the Morehead Planetarium.

Their itinerary for Friday includes a class (Dr. Guy Johnson's class on the Negro), a tour of Duke University, a tour of North Carolina College, a swim in Kessing Pool, a tour of the offices of Governor Luther Hodges, and a visit to Jonathan Daniels, editor of The Raleigh News and Observer.

Two of the editors speak English, and interpreters are touring with the other four.
