

WEATHER

Fair and warmer. High near 82.

The Daily Tar Heel

POLICY

The foreign policy of the government is criticized. See page 2.

VOLUME LXVI NO. 5

Complete Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1958

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Ackland Art Center Formally Opened

Art educators joined state officials Saturday to dedicate formally a million dollar art center at UNC.

Meany Scores Right-To-Work Legislation

WASHINGTON — AFL-CIO President George Meany said today right-to-work laws create strife and bitterness and destroy sound labor management relations.

"The shoddy proposition mislabeled 'the right to work' conveys neither rights nor work," Meany said. "It will not create one new job."

"It will not restore one worker now unemployed to a payroll. It will not save the job of a single person who now faces an impending layoff."

On the contrary, Meany said, the right-to-work law holds only the promise of weaker unions, and, he added:

"Weaker unions can only mean lower wages and living standards, lower purchasing power, shrunken markets, depressed communities, and fewer job and profit opportunities, to the mutual detriment of all."

Meany made his attack on the right-to-work laws in the foreword of a 133-page book issued by the AFL-CIO. The book details arguments against such propositions to be voted on this fall in referenda in six states—California, Ohio, Colorado, Kansas, Washington and Idaho.

classroom and office space for the University Art Dept.

Dr. S. Lane Faison Jr., former Tar Heel and present head of the art department of Williams College in Massachusetts, gave the principal dedicatory address.

He compared the study of art in the United States with that of Europe.

"Paradoxical as it may seem, the relative lack of great monuments from our own past is a major cause of the development and widespread popularity of the study of art-history in the United States," he said.

Faison continued, "Europeans grow up with the great past around them and the formal study of it is generally reserved for specialists in the universities. In the United States, a less specialized foundation for such study has gradually become accepted as part of the general program in liberal education.

"While Americans take pride in their own cultural heritage, its very brevity leads naturally to an interest in the cultures of other parts of the world.

"European students in American universities are often impressed, therefore, by the breadth and impartiality of our study of culture other than American."

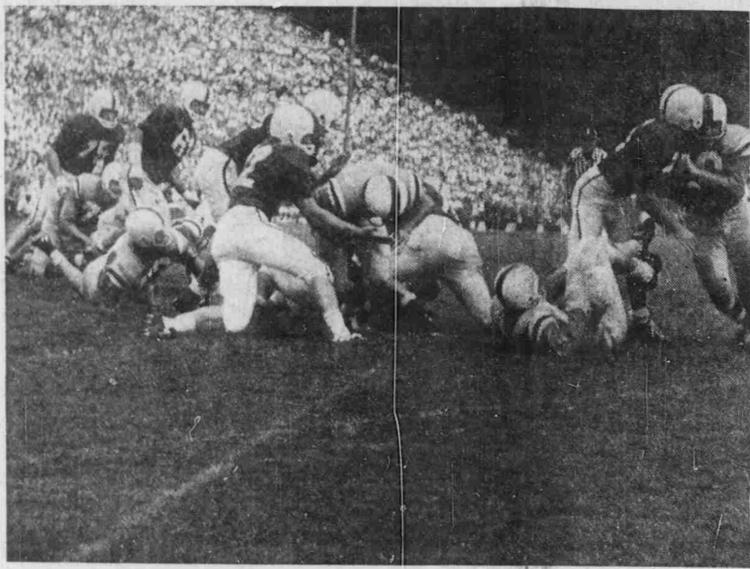

INTRODUCTION

Faison was introduced by Dr. Joseph C. Sloan who will take over as head of both the University's art department and the art center on Feb. 1. He currently is with Bryn Mawr College.

William D. Carmichael Jr., vice president of the Consolidated University, accepted the building from Edsna B. Olds of Washington, a friend of Ackland.

College galleries loaned the University paintings and other art objects which will be on display until Oct. 20.

State Defeats Carolina 21-14 On Fumbles

TAR HEELS SCORE—Nelson Lowe goes over the line for Carolina's first tally in the fourth period. However N. C. State won 21-14. Photo By Buddy Spoon

Early Lead Holds After Late Rally Falls Short

By RUSTY HAMMOND

State College's Wolfpack, playing tough, aggressive football, took advantage of the breaks and made them pay off in a 21-14 win over arch-rival Carolina yesterday in Kenan Stadium. The win marked State's 3rd straight upset win over the Heels.

The Tar Heels had a bad case of fumblyitis all afternoon. All of the Pack's three TDs came after recovered fumbles.

The statistics were almost equally divided, except in the fumble and intercepted pass department. State recovered 5 Heel fumbles and picked off 2 passes.

The first half it was all State. The Wolves ran up a 14-0 lead by intermission, the only real Carolina threat being halted at the State 8-yard line.

State's first score came when center Bill Hill fell on a Tar Heel fumble on the enemy 27. Four plays later halfback Bob Trowbridge circled right end for 15 yards and paydirt. Larry Dixon converted to put State ahead 7-0.

Then, with only 6:33 remaining in the half, Kelly Minary rucked up Jack Cummings and Hill again recovered the fumble when Cummings dropped it.

From the 20, Trowbridge again set out around right end, outran four players, and crossed the double stripes for State's second marker. Dixon again split the up-rights and State led 14-0. Carolina fell short within the Wolfpack 10, and left the field behind 14-0.

It took the boys from Raleigh only 4 minutes after intermission to post their third score of the day. The Pack kicked off, then recovered another Tar Heel fumble at the Carolina 30. After grinding to the 1 for a first and goal, Frank Cakovic sent Ron Podwika off left tackle into the end zone. Dixon was accurate once again and it was 21-0, State.

Carolina took the kick and drove to the State three, where they were stopped short. But after a Trowbridge kick went only to the State 31, Nelson Lowe sneaked into the end zone for Carolina's first tally. Jim Schuler ran over with the point after try for two points and a 21-8 margin. The score came just after the beginning of the final quarter.

After the Tar Heels kicked, Ron Koes plunged into the backfield causing the first State fumble which Don Redding covered. But the Heels lost a chance when they fumbled still again and State regained possession on their own 41.

With only 4:39 left in the ballgame, Carolina launched a sustained drive from their twenty, (after a missed field goal attempt by State), for their second and last touchdown. The whole 80 yards took only 1 minute, 15 seconds, and four plays. Jack Cummings completed four straight passes for the distance. Al Goldstein caught the first two, running to the State 48. John Schroeder grabbed the next and advanced to the Pack 38. Then Cummings hit Jim Schuler on a down-and-out pass to the left, and Schuler crossed the goal line. Car-

(See STATE, Page 4)

Rev. King Stabbed In Harlem

NEW YORK — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the successful Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, was stabbed and critically wounded in a Harlem store Saturday.

Police said King was stabbed by a Negro woman, apparently mentally deranged, and that the attack did not appear to have anything to do with racial issues.

The noted Negro minister was stabbed in the left chest while he was autographing copies of his new book, "Stride Toward Freedom," for a crowd in the Blumstein Department store in Harlem.

He was rushed to Harlem Hospital with the knife still in his chest, and later was reported in critical condition.

Gov. Averell Harriman, learning of the attack, hurried to King's hospital bedside.

A patrolman at the scene of the stabbing arrested Mrs. Izola Ware Curry, 42, immediately after the attack.

Detectives later described her as an apparent mental case. They said she also had a fully-loaded pistol concealed in her dress.

The book King had been autographing tells the story of the year-long boycott by which Montgomery Negroes, refusing to de-segregate buses, finally brought about integration on the buses through court action.

Although homes and churches were bombed and other violence occurred during the boycott, King came unscathed through that period.

He was arrested for disorderly conduct early this month because he allegedly refused to obey a policeman's order to move away from the city hall steps in Montgomery, but was released when the police commissioner paid his fine.

The 29-year-old King had come to New York for the start of a lecture tour in connection with publication of his book last Wednesday.

The principle theme of the book is that Negroes must use non-violent resistance in their fight against segregation.

G. M. SLATE

Activities scheduled for Graham Memorial today include:

Presbyterians, Williams-Wolfe, 9-10:30 a.m.; Friends, Williams-Wolfe, 11-12:30 p.m.; Community Church, Roland Parker II, 11:30-12:30 p.m.; Presbyterians, Rendezvous Room, 5:45-8 p.m.

Activities scheduled for Graham Memorial Monday include:

Panhellenic Council, Roland Parker I, 8:45 a.m.-2 p.m.; IFC, Woodhouse, 2-4 p.m.; bridge, Rendezvous Room, 7-11 p.m.

October 10 Is Deadline For Student Insurance

October 10 has been set as the deadline for student insurance.

The cost of the policy is $9.00 a year. According to Ray Jefferies, assistant to the dean of student affairs, the premium's cost has dropped since last year.

Insured students will be covered for up to $1000 for loss of life and for up to $200 for surgical benefits.

Jefferies said, "I think this insurance plan paid off for us last year." He pointed out that the insurance will only cost 75 cents a month.

The insurance coverage is for a 12-month period, Sept. 1, 1958 Sept. 1, 1959, including the periods when students are traveling to and from Chapel Hill, during vacations, and the summer breaks. Jefferies said last year there were not many claims during the school year but the company paid off many times during the summer.

The policy is made available through the Pilot Life Insurance Company, Raleigh.

For the married student, there is a Blue Cross and Blue Shield program at a special group rate. This program offers an excellent opportunity to the married student to provide coverage for himself, his wife and all unmarried dependent children under 19 years of age.

The cost of the program will be 17.50 per quarter.

An information booth will be set up during registration. Applications for either insurance policy will be available at the information booth, the Y and at Graham Memorial.

Jefferies reminded students who already hold policies and are eligible to receive payments for claims must file claims with the company. Blanks are available at his office and the Infirmary, he said.

Evans Receives Alumni Position

Durham Mayor E. J. Evans was elected chairman of alumni giving at UNC Saturday.

Evans was named by the council which controls annual gifts by alumni for unrestricted purposes. He succeeds James W. Poole of Greensboro who headed a $70,000 campaign last year.

Aity. Fred W. Morrison of Washington, D. C., and Prof. J. Charles Morrow of the University's Chemistry Dept. were also elected to the council.

INFIRMARY

Students in the Infirmary yesterday included:

William John Schmidt, Steven Carlton Lowder, Harvey Lake Harris, John Leonard Henderson Jr., and Misses Julia Ayres and Mary Blackmon Roberts.

CUSC Plans Many Topics For Next Meet

The Consolidated University Student Council met yesterday to implement the first Consolidated University Day and to plan several resolutions to be brought up at their October meeting.

Revision of the constitution of the organization is planned for the executive committee when it meets either at the end of this month or the beginning of October. Suggestions for revision of the constitution will be put before the body as a whole in the October meeting.

Also to be discussed during the executive committee meeting will be the finances of the organization in order to decide whether the individual CU Days will be paid for by the host school or whether a proportional arrangement can be made.

The Council plans to discuss in its October meeting resolution to aid the State Legislature in providing adequately for higher education in North Carolina. Specific emphasis will be placed on the needs of the three member schools.

Proposals were also made for improving town and campus relationships, bringing cultural events to the three schools, coordinating and publicizing the activities of the schools, and for fraternity expansion.

The "Noel Houston Foundation for Writers" has been established at Chapel Hill to encourage and finance development of talent in student writers.

The foundation, a memorial to Noel Houston, author, playwright and teacher, who died early this month, will be directed by Earl Wynn, head of the UNC communications center.

Robert Pollard Named As Library Assistant

Robert Pollard has been named as the principal library assistant in the Catalog Department of Wilson Library. This position was formerly held by Maurice Feldman. Pollard assumed duties September 10.

Mrs. Martha Goff has joined the staff to replace Pollard as library assistant in the department. Mrs. Goff was graduated from Saint Mary's Junior College and the University of North Carolina with a major in English education.

Mrs. Elizabeth Degree is the new senior library assistant in the Acquisitions Department.

UNC PIANISTS TO PLAY

WUNC-TV To Televis Art Museum Programs

RALEIGH — The fall program at the North Carolina museum of art will begin Wednesday with the opening of a series of television programs over WUNC-TV.

Charles W. Stanford, museum curator of education, will open the TV series with a discussion of "the school of American painting."

The series, entitled "History of Art," will be aimed primarily at high school students. The presentations will be at 2:30 p.m. every Wednesday for 16 weeks.

Beginning Saturday, Oct. 4, at 3 p.m. and each Saturday thereafter, there will be a gallery tour for museum visitors.

On Sunday, Sept. 28, a duo-pianist concert will inaugurate the museum's Sunday series.

The duo-pianists are Dr. William Newman and Dr. Wilton Mason, both of the University of North Carolina faculty.

Other scheduled Sunday events: Oct. 5 — Lecture by Robert Lee

Humber of Greenville, president of the North Carolina State Art Society, on "The North Carolina Museum of Art." Oct. 12—Excerpts from "Don Giovanni," by the Grassroots Opera Co.

Oct. 19 — A lecture by Stanford on "John Singleton Copley, 18th century American painter." Oct. 26 — A Belgian film "Peter Paul Rubens and his school."

Nov. 9 — Concert by William Klentz, cellist, Nov. 16—Lecture by Stanford on "the early English school," featuring Marcus Gheeraerts. Nov. 30—A film on "the English school of portraiture."

Dec. 14—Concert by Ethel Casey, soprano, and Walter Golde, pianist. Dec. 21 — Lecture by Stanford on Paganini's "Flight into Egypt."

Jan. 18 — Concert by the Alden string quartet, Jan. 25—Lecture by Stanford on "The French school," and a film, "French Tapestries Visit America."

SATURDAY AT UNC

1958 FOOTBALL ENTRANCE ... through the annual hoop

EARLY JOY IN MUDVILLE ... but Tar Heels struck out

ACKLAND MUSEUM DEDICATION ... a gleeful W. D. Carmichael

CU QUEEN MARGARET HELMS ... a crown for WC girl

Photos By Buddy Spoon