Branch Clarifies Policy On Room Rent Refunds

By STAN FISHER
University Business Manager J. Arthur Branch yesterday clarified the administration's stand on the present policy of no refund to students moving out of dormitories.

Branch and Head Cashier M. E. Woodard outlined the policy with the following exceptions:

(1) A student desiring to move out of a three man rooming situation will be granted a refund. (This policy will continue through the ninth week after classes started, or Nov. 19. After this date, in keeping with past policy, no refunds are made.)

(2) If a student desires to move from the dormitory and has some English help given students from overseas.

A class in which foreign students may improve their English will soon be held by the Y, acting on a suggestion of Dr. A. S. Howell of the English Dept.

The first meeting of students planning the special English class will be held today at 4 p.m. in the Library at the Y Building. This group will discuss, among other things, a time and fee for the special class.

Foreign students may sign up for the class with Anne Queen at the Y Building.

Nan Robinson, in charge of arrangements for the class, said yesterday that most foreigners already have a basic knowledge of English grammar, so the class will deal with terms not ordinarily taught abroad, such as financial terminology.

Mrs. Robinson, a junior, will teach the first three classes. Foreigners needing further help outside the class will work with student volunteers, Ess Bruner, Nancy Grubb, Mary Cavlan, Parker Hodges and Dee Dunro.

The special English class will meet once a week for regular 50-minute class period through Christmas and probably later.

one who would like to take his room, both of them should, according to Branch, go by the housing office where the change will be recorded. The University would then make the refund to the student leaving, and the student moving in would pay. This arrangement was made so that the University will have a record of all monetary transactions.

(3) Refunds will be made to all students leaving because of illness or a death in the family or disciplinary reasons.

The reason given by Branch for the new policy was that a loan had been received from the federal government for construction of the new campus dormitories (Parker, Teague, and Avery). To obtain this loan, he said, a statement had to be signed that revenue from all UNC dormitories including increased room rent, above the maintenance and operating costs, had to go toward payment on the debt.

In the past an estimated 150-200 students have been moving from the dormitories and receiving refunds. Branch stated that under the present financial conditions the University couldn't afford "that type of thing."

Branch said, "We rent rooms on two main bases. One, we allow upper classmen to retain their old rooms in the spring if they wish. The remainder of the rooms are rented to incoming students on a first come, first serve basis."

He went on to point out after all rooms were filled few still came, finding housing off campus but some were discouraged from attending Carolina at all.

Then if those who rented dormitory rooms started leaving, it was too late to accept those students who had been discouraged from coming. The University consequently lost money because dormitories were not filled to capacity.

Fraternities were considered in making the decision, but Branch stated that first consideration had to go toward housing accommodations on campus and the debt obligation.

UNC Given Over $47,000 By Alumni Annual Council

More than $47,000 is being turned over to the University for "unrestricted" use at Chapel Hill, it was announced Sunday after a meeting of the Alumni Annual Giving Council.

The funds allocated by the alumni group will be used for nine different purposes.

The giving program is designed to raise money to be used for purposes needed by the faculty and for other activities in the University but not available from tax funds appropriated by the state of North Carolina. That is the reason for the designation "unrestricted."

The Alumni Annual Giving Council does, however, designate places the funds are to be used and the total of $47,548.50 made known today is divided into the following categories:

Faculty retirement	$ 2,564.75
Student Welfare	500.00
Classics Department project	500.00
Faculty Travel	10,000.00
Faculty Research and Publications	15,000.00
Band and Orchestra	1,983.00
Chancellor's Emergency Fund	2,000.00
Alumni Library Fund	5,000.00
Alumni Graduate Student Fellowships	10,000.00

The council, headed by E. J. Evans, mayor of Durham, also set aside an additional $10,000 to be allocated for future use some time this year, as determined by the council.

Alumni of the University this past year gave more than $70,000 in a campaign headed by James W. Foole of Greensboro.

Since the annual giving program began in 1952-53, the University has been allocated a total of $182,000 for unrestricted purposes.

Fraternity Party OK's Now From Magill

The office of the assistant dean of student affairs, 206 South Building, will receive requests this fall for the approval of social functions from fraternities.

Formerly the office of the Dean of Women received the applications.

Asst. Dean of Student Affairs Sam Magill said the office of the dean of women would continue to approve the parties jointly with his office. The applications will be received by his office and checked before they are sent to the dean of women.

The change is primarily an administrative one. "We are taking some of the work off the dean of women's office," Magill explained. The rules for getting a party approved "will be precisely the same as last year," Magill asserted.

To get a function approved it must be reported at least three days prior to the day of the function. Requests for approval will not be accepted after 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday prior to the weekend when the function is to occur.

The parties are approved for the convenience of the fraternities, Magill said. Carolina Coeds except for some students in Nursing School attend parties which are not approved, but other girls, schools require the parties be approved before their students go to them.

Phi Alpha Theta Awards To Grad Students

Richard Bienvenu, a graduate student and Woodrow Wilson fellow at UNC, was recently granted the annual paper award of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity.

The paper was written while Bienvenu was an undergraduate at Southwestern Louisiana Institute. It was entitled "America's First Play as an Historical Document" and dealt with "Androboros," a political play written by Governor Hunter of New York in 1714.

The paper shows that Governor Hunter realized that if the claims of the assembly, much like those current before the Revolution, were met the colony would be independent.

'59 Med School Entrants Urged To Apply Soon

Dr. E. M. Hedgpeth, chairman of the committee on admissions of the UNC School of Medicine, yesterday urged all those applying for admission in September, 1959, to file their applications promptly.

He also reminded applicants that the Medical College Admissions Test will be given on Tuesday, Oct. 28, 1958. This test must be taken by all applicants for admission in September, 1959.

The deadline for signing up for the test is Oct. 14. Information on the test may be obtained from the Testing Service in Peabody Hall.

BLACKBALLS, RUSH AND PLEDGE TRAINING

Fraternities Use Different Methods

By DAVID B. YOUNG and JAMIE HOLMES

(This is the second in a series on fraternities being written by David B. Young and Jamie Holmes, members of the Daily Tar Heel editorial staff.)

Bound up in the intricacies of being accepted by a fraternity is the risk of being "blackballed." Because each fraternity will be rushing many times as many boys this week as it can possibly take in its pledge class, it is only logical that hundreds of boys will be rejected in this way from at least one house by the end of Rush Week.

One fraternity leader commented, "Do not worry if you are balled from many houses. This is something that we have all been through. There isn't a man on campus who has ever been through rush who hasn't been blackballed somewhere along the way."

BLACKBALLS TAKE MANY FORMS

Blackballing can be achieved through many different forms.

One is to simply not invite a rushee back to the house again. Or, perhaps, an "ax man" has been chosen to politely inform an unwanted rushee he has not "passed inspection."

A third form is by vote of the actives: by a process of elimination a list of an average of twenty boys is compiled who have not been disapproved by any one active.

In most cases, "it is necessary to be accepted by every member of a fraternity house before you may pledge. This is to enable the fraternity as a unit to be satisfied with its selection of you."

RUSH CHAIRMAN IS BOSS-MAN

The fraternity member who is in charge of guiding his house through Rush Week is the rush chairman. Working many weeks before the final accelerated effort, he develops a tightly organized system of sifting each boy who visits the house through making certain each of these boys gets a fair-as-possible picture of the house.

Fall Election Date Not Yet Set; Board Working On Rule Revisions

No date has been set for the fall campus elections because the Elections Board is working to revise certain of its laws.

Meeting yesterday for the first time, the Elections Board, headed by Bob Furtado, made plans for going over the elections laws article by article.

Here are some things the Elections Board will be considering. The needs of new districts to take care of the three new men's dormi-ories, the problem of re-districting and re-apportionment in general, run-off elections and the judicial powers of the Elections Board.

Of special interest, the Board will consider the need for retaining the position of class officers.

Furtado said yesterday after the first meeting of the Board that recommendations for revising elections laws will be presented to Legislature after his Board has gone over each article.

All the loop-holes should be picked out and remedied, he said.

The fall elections date must wait until the Elections Board at least has made some provision for representatives from the new dorms, Avery, Parker and Teague.

Furtado and John Brooks are co-chairmen in charge of revising the election laws.

Fraternity Rushing Continues For 1,000 Is Undetermined

Fraternity rushing continues today after two days of activities on Sunday and Monday.

The number of men participating in rush is between 900 and 1,000. Ray Jefferies, assistant to the dean of student affairs, said yesterday the exact number of rushees can't be determined because 8,000 bids were distributed, with as many as 16 to the same person.

UNC Chess Club Plan Tourney For Everybody

The UNC Chess Club, winner of last year's North Carolina Team Championship, announced plans for a town-wide chess tournament at an organization meeting held recently.

Newly-elected officers of the Chess Club are Daniel Gallik and Henry Stockhold, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Preparations were made for a "Swiss-type" tournament to begin tomorrow. The purpose of the tournament is threefold: to provide an opportunity for any chess player to test his strength and determine his relative standing; to establish the eligibility of members to play on the Club's team (or teams); and to determine the initial ranking of players on a permanent challenge-ladder. Prizes of $10 and $5 will be awarded for first and second place.

Albert Margolis, who was appointed director of this tournament, emphasized that it's open to all Chapel Hill chess players, including beginners, for whom a separate section of the tournament will be set up if enough entries are forthcoming.

Anyone wishing to earn eligibility on the Club's team may enter the main section, according to Margolis. One dollar membership dues are the only condition for entry. A sign-up sheet on the Graham Memorial Bulletin Board for entries will remain posted until 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Permanent possession of the North Carolina Chess Team Championship Trophy has been awarded to the Chapel Hill club, which besides winning last year's annual competition has been the most frequent winner of the trophy in past years.

Tuesday Evening Series Opens With Piano Duo

A two-piano recital tonight by faculty pianists William S. Newman and Wilton Mason will open this year's Tuesday Evening Series of UNC's Music Department.

The program, open to the public at no charge, will be in Hill Hall at 8 p.m.

Deadline Extended For Yack Pictures

The deadline for pictures of seniors, senior nurses and law students has been extended until Wednesday, according to Yack Editor Cameron Cooke.

Juniors will be able to have their pictures taken through Friday. Sophomores, October 6 through October 10; freshmen, October 13 through 17; medical and dental, October 20 through October 24; and nursing, pharmacy and dental hygiene, October 27 through October 31.

Senior girls must wear black sweaters and one-strand pearls. Senior nurses must wear uniforms. All other girls wear black sweaters, the Yack office said.

Men must wear dark ties and dark coats with a white shirt, according to the Yack office.
