

WEATHER

Fair and cooler today with expected high of 78.

The Daily Tar Heel

POLITICS

A small preview of the November Elections. See page 2.

VOLUME LXVI NO. 26

Complete Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1958

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

JUDITH BUNN — A Homecoming Queen is crowned by student body president Don Furtado at halftime in yesterday's game. Miss Bunn won from a field of 34 candidates in judging Friday.

Soprano To Sing In Petite Musicale

The first Petite Musicale of the fall semester will feature Raleigh soprano Ethel Casey today at 8 p.m. in the lounge of Graham Memorial. The Petite Musicales are sponsored by the Music Committee of the Graham Memorial Activities Board. Open to the public, the program will be devoted to songs by the French composer Claude Debussy and will feature four song cycles from the latter part of the composer's creative life. The cycles, all in the impressionistic style, will be the two series of the "Fêtes Galantes" set to four poems by the composer; and the "Chansons de Bilitis" set to three poems by Pierre Louys. "Ballade des femmes de Paris" set to a poem by Francois Villon will conclude the recital. Mrs. Casey is well known to local music groups as soloist for the Raleigh Oratorio Society and at Duke University where she was soloist for a performance of "Elijah." She also appeared in two Petite Musicales last spring and in the initial Sunday afternoon Musicale at the N. C. State Museum of Art in Raleigh. Mrs. Casey will be assisted in the program by Walter Golde of Chapel Hill, a noted voice teacher, composer and accompanist.

Dulles, Chiang Kai-Shek To Have Understanding

TAIPEI — Nationalist quarters said Saturday Secretary of State Dulles and Chiang Kai-Shek would go into their talks this week with a full understanding of each others problems in the Formosa Strait crisis. They predicted the talks would be smooth and foredoom Red Chinese hopes to drive a wedge between the United States and Nationalist China. It was believed the meetings, starting after Dulles' expected arrival here Tuesday, will result in a strengthening of cooperation between the two allies. Dulles came here at the invitation of the Nationalists. He is expected to suggest rather than insist on a reduction of Chiang's force on the Nationalist offshore island of Quemoy. It was possible, however, that Dulles might not raise the troop question until Chiang asks him to clarify the U. S. position on troop cuts. The United States feels that a reduction of Quemoy forces would take the wind out of Communist charges that Chiang plans to use the outpost as a springboard for an invasion of the mainland. Washington apparently is working on the theory that troop cuts might placate the Chinese Reds and enhance the prospects for what Dulles would consider a dependable cease-fire. The idea is that if the Reds can be convinced that the island outpost will be used for defensive purposes only, they would be more likely to agree to an indefinite cease-fire.

Mozart Comic Opera To Be Shown Tonight

Members of the Boston University School of Fine Arts will be featured in two hours of comic opera when WUNC-TV, Channel 4, presents "La Finta Giardiniera" by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart today at 8-45 p.m.

Carolina Routs Maryland Terps 27-0 Before 25,000 Homecoming Fans; Defense And Offense Equally Tough

Four Tar Heels Score In One-Sided Game

By RUSTY HAMMOND

Carolina's last improving Tar Heels combined an already proven defense with a newly-found offensive punch to completely rout the Maryland Terps here yesterday before a homecoming crowd of 25,000 in Kenan Stadium.

Interviewing For Jury Duty To Be Tuesday

Interviews for those students interested in serving on the jury for Men's Honor Council or Women's Honor Council will be held Tuesday and Friday, according to an announcement by Ken Hall, chairman of the Jury Commission. The interviews will be held from 2-4 p.m. Appointments may be made on a sign-up sheet in the student government office at any time. Applications for potential members of the jury will also be available there. Jurors selected last week by the commission include: W. Graham Claytor, William C. Jacobus Jr., James O. Pfaff, Jerome W. Stokes, Sally Pullen, Dixie Jackson, Margaret Ray, Phyllis Blake; Betty Woodward, Anne Nichols, Fern Rhyne, Barbara Meitzler, Jean Whiting, Julia Brot, Nancy Faison and Betty Jean Baxter.

The Tar Heels scored midway through the first quarter and were never headed, as the Terps could penetrate no further than the UNC 20 yard-line. It was sweet revenge for Tatum's Tar Heels on two counts. First, it avenged a humiliating 21-7 upset last year before the queen, and secondly it gave Coach Tatum another victory over the team which he coached to the national championship.

LIPSKI SCORES FIRST

After Ron Koes had picked off a stray Terp aerial in the first quarter and returned it to the Carolina 40, the Heels launched a sustained 60 yard drive which led to the first TD. The big play was a 33-yard pass play from Jack Cummings to Wade Smith which gave the Heels a first down at the Maryland 18. Four plays later, from 4 yards out, Ed Lipski broke off the weakside (left) of an unbalanced line and cracked into the goal for the first score. The two-point try failed and the Tar Heels led 6-0.

SCHODER GETS SECOND

Carolina got its second score early in the second quarter. The Tar Heels started another sustained drive, this time from their own 20, and marched the remaining 80 markers for another 6-pointer. Once again the big play was a Cummings to Smith aerial which advanced the ball to the Maryland 41. The TD came when Cummings hit soph end John Schroeder on a straight-up middle buttonhook pass, good for 19 yards and another touchdown. A three way combination clicked for the two extras, reading Cummings to Smith to DeCantis, to give the Heels a 14-0 advantage with 9:47 left in the half.

GOLDSTEIN SPECTACULAR

Al Goldstein, a guy who has had fans on their feet all season with his spectacular catches, provided the third UNC score on an interception which he created. With the ball on the Maryland 46 Goldstein shot through the line, knocked the qb Russevlyan's hands, and galloped 40 yards untouched for the touchdown. The extra point failed, but the Tar Heel went into the dressing room at halftime with a 20-0 lead. In the second half Carolina penetrated once to the Maryland 8.

(See TAR HEELS page 4)

DRIVE TO VICTORY — Wade Smith (31) drives through the Maryland defense for yardage, as the Tar Heel vanquished the Maryland team yesterday at Kenan Stadium 27-0. A good running offense and a strong defense highlighted the Carolina victory.

LEGISLATURE ROUNDUP:

Greer's Proposal Expected To Be Highly Controversial

By STAN FISHER

The oft discussed "discriminatory clauses" in various campus organizations' charters were brought before the Student Legislature again last Thursday night as the subject of a bill introduced by Gary Greer (SP). Greer's bill would delete an amendment to the National Student Association's declaration of basic policy passed by the legislature last session. This amendment reads, "However, while the student Legislature would possibly like the removal of discriminatory clauses, we do not recommend the denial of recognition to any organization whose national charter includes such restriction clauses as to membership."

SP's Third Meeting To Be Monday Night

The third meeting of Student Party will be held Monday night at 7:30 in the Roland Parker Lounges. At this time candidates will be nominated to run for election to the Student Legislature from both men's and women's dorm districts. Student Party Chairman Leon Holt has urged anyone interested in running for these positions to attend.

original wording. In its original form the NSA's declaration would deny campus recognition of any organization having discriminatory clauses except those organizations whose aim is to bring together those of a specific religion.

This proposal is expected to be the subject of much controversy among the student solons. Fraternities and sororities will probably move to defeat the bill since they would be organizations most affected by its passage.

In passing a bill to provide graduate students with representation on the library committee, the solons heard Bill Rennie, president of the graduate club, describe the recent protests against UNC Head Librarian Jerrold Orne as not being a mass protest. According to Rennie, only five to six students were active in the movement.

The Legislature passed unanimously a bill establishing a student dining hall committee. The five member committee will have the chairman and one member appointed by the Student Body President, one member elected from the legislature membership and one member each from the CWC and IDC.

This committee will have full investigative power, and authority to make recommendations to Lenoir Hall administration and to the Student Aid Office. It will make a full report on its investigations, actions and activities to the legislature at least two weeks before each end of the fall legislative term.

A bill to establish a filing clerk of the legislature hit an unexpected snag as it came before the body. The proposal was at first passed, then brought back before the legislators for reconsideration. The bill was then referred back into committee for revision and revision of the legislature bylaws to insure the permanence of the position.

A proposal calling for the appropriation of $525 to buy four typewriters for the Yackety Yack was passed by the legislature. Previously the bill had called for $620, but investigation into the cost of the typewriters and the subtraction of funds currently used for typewriter rental by the Yack from the $620 resulted in the final $525 total.

Charlie Gray (UP) introduced a proposal seeking the establishment of a committee to study the fraternity parking problem. This committee would investigate the feasibility of buying the property now occupied by the old Chapel Hill high school Gym and converting it into a parking lot.

If the committee investigation indicates the practicality of such action, the parking area would have rules drawn up by the committee and endorsed by the IFC. The parking lot would be financed through cooperation between the fraternities, the university and the town of Chapel Hill.

Under a bill introduced by Norman B. Smith (SP), a committee would be established to investigate the possibility of providing for additional study areas. The committee would consist of a chairman and two members appointed by the Student Body President.

Other bills introduced Thursday night were:

- (1) A bill to establish a committee to investigate the need of bicycle racks on campus;
- (2) A proposal requesting the appropriation of $140 to include the Ram and Ewe and the Carolina Handbook in the Yackety Yack; and
- (3) A bill calling for the appropriation of $200 to be used in buying a TV set for Whitehead Dormitory.

Other action by the Legislature Thursday night was the swearing in of six new legislators and the approval of four presidential appointees to various campus positions.

Nuclear War Man's Threat, Says Dr. Wells

"The real threat facing man today does not come from radioactive materials, but from nuclear warfare that could eliminate the human race."

This and other observations were made Saturday by Dr. Warner Wells of the UNC School of Medicine. Dr. Wells was delivering the second part of his lecture on "The Atomic Era—Survival or Extinction."

These two lectures by the UNC professor of surgery are part of a four-month Medical Science Lecture Series sponsored by the School of Medicine. The lectures are given each Saturday at 11 a.m. in the Clinic Auditorium and the public is invited.

"The use of diagnostic and therapeutic x-ray has been criticized as being dangerous to the patient. Such criticism is unjustified as x-ray is the most important tool in medicine," Dr. Wells explained.

Dr. Wells pointed out that the development of the atomic bomb did not bring man to realize the dangers of radiation, such dangers were long ago recognized by such scientists as the Curies and Einstein, before the development of the bomb.

The speaker said that much has been heard about the atmospheric contamination with radioactive materials, and then pointed out that there was more fancy than fact in such discussions.

Dr. Wells is eminently qualified to speak in the field of radiation.

YACK PICTURES

THRU WEDNESDAY: Freshmen

Basement
GM 1-6 p.m.

MEN:

ties, dark coats, white shirts

WOMEN:

black sweaters

NEXT WEEK: Medical and Dental Students

Street Named Representative For Students

Gordon Street, UNC junior, has been appointed by Student Body President Don Furtado as student representative to the Board of Directors of the Chapel Hill Merchants Assn. Street is a member of Student Legislature and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Last year he interviewed the local merchants in connection with the parking problem.

As an ex-officio member of the board he will provide any information which the directors might need in reference to students. He is also responsible for disseminating information to the students themselves.

This student position on the board is designed to try to get better communication and understanding between the two groups.

Homecoming Display

Prize-winning homecoming displays this year were prepared by: Pi Beta Phi Sorority (women's division), Phi Delta Theta (fraternities) and Old East (dorm men's). Displays were judged yesterday by representatives of the Interfraternity Council, Interdormitory Council and Carolina Women's Council.

Honorable mentions awards were also made. In the women's division, honorable mention went to Spencer Dormitory; in the fraternities' division, to Sigma Nu; and in the men's dorm division, to Lewis and Mangum.

LEADING CHEER — Head Cheerleader Carter Jones leads a cheer for Carolina's victorious Tar Heels. There was plenty to cheer about as Carolina emerged the winner 27-0.

AROUND END — John Stitt (21) circling around end behind the blocking of Dick Scarbath (14), while Paul Russell (62) and Phil Blazer (70) close in for the tackle.

MARYLAND TERP — The Maryland human mascot climbing a goalpost, the Maryland team did not come. This was part of the half-time festivities at Yesterday's Homecoming game.