Women Standards Group Proposed By Nancy Adams; Discussion Will Be Monday

Campus Code Strengthening Is Called For

Idea Has Merit, Says Carmichael

By PRINGLE PIPKIN
Miss Nancy Adams, chairman of the Women's Council, will meet with women's dorms presidents Monday afternoon to discuss the possibility of forming a social standards committee for the women students.

The committee, as Miss Adams envisions it, will probably be organized with representatives of all the dorms and sororities drawn from committees within these organizations.

According to Miss Adams the purpose of the committees would be to make the students aware of the Campus Code and to help prevent Campus Code violations.

However, the definition of the powers and functions will be in the hands of the coeds.

Other women's schools have such committees as well as some sororities on campus. Miss Adams studied some of the committees at other schools this summer.

Miss Katherine Carmichael, dean of women, thought the idea of committees has great merit. "This type of thing must spring from the wishes of the student body," she commented.

She did not envision the committees as laying down a "set of rules or regulations or strict code." She asserted, "It should be something entirely student inspired, student initiated and student implemented."

Social Rooms Open

Eight men's dorms will be open their social rooms to coeds before and after the ball game today. The hours will be from noon to 1:45 p.m. and after the ball game until 6 p.m.

Those dorms which will be open include: Avery, Parker, Teague, Cobb, Joyner, Mangum, Conner and Winston.

FOR CAROLINA COED

Life Not All Work, No Play

By JOAN BROCK

Life for the Carolina Coed is certainly not all work and no play. One glance at a list of recent social functions on campus reveals the fact that most coeds have managed to counteract their numerous 8 o'clock lectures and afternoon labs with a little UNC-spirited fun. Whether celebrating Titum's latest victories or just plain "living it up," various groups on campus have afforded numerous opportunities for gay living.

OPEN HOUSE

Most notable of these functions were the women's dorms and sorority open houses, held earlier in the term, and the "Victory" celebration parties held in the dorms and fraternity houses following UNC's triumphs over South Carolina and Maryland.

Earlier in the season, Graham Dorm honored the nursing students at an informal dance given in the recreation room of the Nurses' Dorm. On Nov. 14, Manly Dorm will sponsor a combo party for the nursing students and music will be furnished by Ed Crow's Combo.

PLEDGES ENTERTAINED

Like Your Music Loud? Be In Kenan At Half

Today is Band Day. Fifty-two state high school bands will converge in Kenan Stadium for UNC's Annual Band Day program during halftime in the football game.

From the mountain region, the piedmont plateau, and the coastal plain, 3,379 bandmen will converge for a mass concert.

GUEST CONDUCTOR
Joseph B. Fields, a UNC graduate and former president of the University Band, will be guest-conductor for the ensemble. Fields is presently director of the Asheboro High School Band.

Today's program, arranged by UNC Band Director Herbert W. Fred for massed bands, will include: "Ta-ra-ra-bom-dee-e," "Green-sleeves," excerpts from "Rienzi," "The Saints Go Marching In," "Dear Old Wake Forest," and "Hark! The Sound of Tar Heel Voices."

PARTICIPANTS

High school bands participating in today's program include: Fayetteville, Lumberton, Walnut Cove, King, Mooresville, Drexel, Hickory,

Whiteville, Hamlet, High Point, Spray, Walkerton, Rockingham; Louisburg, Mount Holly, Morganton, Albemarle, Salisbury, Denton, Smithfield, Robersonville, Reidsville, Aberdeen, Lowell, Statesville, Lincolnton, Cherryville, Asheboro, Burlington, Southern Pines;

Belmont, Edenton, Windsor, Scotts, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, Kings Mountain, Apex, Greensboro, Jamestown, Scotland Neck, Clinton, Concord, Beaufort, Tarboro and Roxboro.

The UNC Marching Tar Heels are hosts for the day.

No Final Decisions Yet

On Rhodes Scholarships
Dean George Harper said Thursday that no final decisions have been made by the UNC committee on Rhodes Scholarships.

Dr. Harper indicated that Carolina would send 3 or 4 applicants out of 9 applicants to the state committee in December.

It is expected that final decisions will be made by the end of the week.

Two Chemistry Grad Students Lose Grants

Dept. Says Cause Is Game Incident

Two first year graduate students in chemistry lost their assistant teaching fellowships as a result of Saturday's goal post incident.

Fred Siemer and Tom Loggice have lost their fellowships, according to the UNC Chemistry Department. Siemer is charged by the Chapel Hill police department with drunkenness and pushing an officer over a short fence. He is under a $150 bond and is due to appear in court Tuesday before Judge W. S. Stewart.

Siemer denies the charge that he pushed the arresting officer H. A. Gattis over the fence. He claims that the officer pushed him over the fence. The incident occurred near the goal post after the UNC-Maryland game. Siemer is charged with tearing down the goal post, then resisting arrest.

Both men intend to continue their course of study. The Chemistry Department did not say if any further action would be taken.

International Tea

The University Baptist Church will hold an annual International Tea Sunday at 4 p.m. in the church dining room. All foreign students, faculty and visitors have been invited.

Tar Heels, Deacons Battle Here Today

By RUSTY HAMMOND

Carolina fans get their last chance to see the Tar Heels in action for three weeks here today when the Wake Forest Demon Deacons invade the peaceful confines of Kenan Stadium to do battle with Carolina's torrid Tar Heels at 2 o'clock.

The Deacs and Heels bring identical 3-2 records into the game. Carolina has swept its last three, while

Friday, Heard Plan To Attend AAU Meeting

Two University administration officials will be the official representatives at the American Association of Universities meeting Tuesday and Wednesday in Chicago, Ill.

Consolidated University President William C. Friday and Alexander Heard, dean of the Graduate School, will attend sessions along with representatives from the leading universities and graduate schools throughout the country.

President Friday will attend the national meetings of the AAU. Dean Heard will participate in sessions held by the Association of Graduate Schools of America, a branch of the AAU.

This proposal would be submitted to the legislature for ratification at its Oct. 30 meeting. The proposal would in turn be submitted to the student body for ratification.

Norman Smith (SP) introduced another proposal concerning student elections. Smith's bill calls for the submitting "for ratification by the student body an amendment to the student constitution which would provide for a single annual spring campus election."

The bills cite discontinuity and confusion about legislative seats as primary reasons for its introduction. It also states that passage of the bill does not commit the legislature as approving the single election proposal, but only refers it to the electorate "who are the final authority of all student government..."

ELECTORATE VOTE

If this bill passes, a ballot would be submitted to the electorate in the fall election noting the change necessary to the student constitution to create a single annual spring election system.

Also, should the electorate ratify the amendment, appropriate legislation would be instituted to correctly modify all applicable bylaws and statutes.

A bill introduced by John Brooks and Roger Foushee (SP) would place the Carolina Forum and the State Student Legislature delegation under the authority of the Forensic Council. The budgets of these organizations would be combined with that of the Forensic Council, but earmarked for expenses.

Should the bill pass the solons the Forensic Council would submit its revised Constitution for ratification not later than the first legislature meeting of December.

Other bills from committees slated to have reached the body last night were tabled.

Town Men's II	5	3
Town Men's III	4	2
Town Men's IV	4	2
Town Women's I	3	1
Totals	50	25

Under article five of this bill a special legislative committee would be established to investigate the most desirable composition of a board to select the head cheerleader. This committee would be composed of the chairmen of the three standing committees, the present head cheerleader and a coed member of the present cheering squad as selected by the head cheerleader. The committee would report to the legislature its first session in December.

Also the legislature would consider a method of appointment of the NSA coordinator by the President of the Student Body with consideration given the recommendations of the NSA Committee and to outside student applicants.

The bill allows for future redistricting and apportionment by recommendations from the Rules Committee.

Furthermore, the rules committee would draw up a proposal removing the requirement that the head cheerleader be elected by the student body in the student constitution.

'Responsible' Conduct Is Urged

Four student leaders have joined President Don Furtado and the student legislature in calling for "responsible" conduct of students at today's football game.

Conduct at previous games was condemned in a statement yesterday by Jim Long, chairman of Student Council; Hugh Patterson, chairman of Men's Honor Council; Nancy Adams, chairman of Women's Honor Council; Phil Blazer, captain of the football team; and Furtado.

"At the past few home football games, it has been obvious that a number of students have forgotten that we, as Carolina students, live under a code which calls upon us to conduct ourselves as gentlemen and ladies at all times," the student leaders said.

They commented that as a result of the thoughtlessness of a few the entire student community has been subjected to a great deal of criticism and embarrassment.

Larceny Series Reported To Police; Bell Lot Hit

A series of larcenies has been reported to the Chapel Hill police department since Wednesday.

The Bell Tower parking lot was heavily hit in the recent thievery. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity also reported a number of articles missing.

H. M. Johnston reported yesterday the loss of two high fidelity sets from the SAE house. One was a Magnavox portable with a cream colored case. The second of the hi fi units missing was a table model Emerson in a mahogany case. The sets have been missing since Thursday.

The SAE house also reported a number of other items missing since the beginning of the fall semester. The stolen articles included a green sofa, a black leather chair a double decker bunk and a wall clock. The clock was described as a battery operated wall clock shaped like a pocket watch and valued at $75.

Reported stolen from the Bell Tower parking lot was a laundry bag filled with laundry. The loss was reported by John Aldredge Thursday. The laundry mark on the clothes is JA-2268. The items were stolen from the Aldredge car on Oct. 22.

Also stolen from a car in the Bell Tower parking lot was a tennis racket and a white wool blanket. The tennis racket is a Jack Kramer model with a press and a red cover made by Wilson. The racket was valued at $26 and the blanket at $5. The complaint was filed Wednesday by John F. Snyder. The articles were taken between 10 a.m. and noon Wednesday.

LEGISLATURE ROUNDUP

Gray Amendments On Polling Places Are Defeated After Lengthy Debate

By DEE DANIELS and STAN FISHER

Passage of the general election law revisions bill and the passage of a bill calling for better student conduct at football games comprised most of the action taken in Thursday night's Student Legislature meeting.

Amendments proposed by Charlie Gray (UP) which would have placed two polling places in Town Men's districts I, II and III were defeated after lengthy debate. Gray's arguments for his proposals centered mainly around the fact that the polling places as staffed in the election law revisions were inconvenient for voters. He pointed the placement of almost every dormitory as a contrast in the convenience of voting in the different districts.

ROLL CALL VOTE

Defeat came on a roll call vote to the amendments after John Brooks (SP), introducer of the revised election laws, pointed out that Gray's proposals would make it virtually impossible for the elections board to keep a close check on voting procedures.

Debate that centered around Gray's later proposal to re-include the freshman, sophomore, and junior class officers of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and social chairman resulted in the body approving Gray's amendments.
