Pioneer II Fails After Takeoff

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—Weary Air Force missilemen, their dream of moon conquest shattered for now, today attempted to solve the mystery of why moon rocket Pioneer II fizzled in flight after a brilliant launching.

The 52-ton rocket, carrying a top-shaped moon satellite, roared off to a beautiful start at 2:30 a.m. (EST), but the flight ended less than 45 minutes later when the third main stage rocket failed to ignite.

Opera, Carmen Planned For January 13

One of the most ambitious productions ever undertaken by the UNC Department of Music—a musical production of Bizet's opera, "Carmen"—has been announced by its director, Dr. Wilton Mason.

The concert program will be presented Jan. 13 in the newly-renovated Memorial Hall. Rehearsals are well underway for the individual performers and the University Chorus.

"We are performing with one of the finest Carmens ever to sing the role in America," Dr. Mason added.

He was referring to Claramae Turner, contralto of the Metropolitan and San Francisco Opera Companies, who will sing the part of the famous gypsy in the UNC production.

Other members of the cast for the first Chapel Hill production of the popular opera include Gene Strassler, a graduate assistant in music from Apollo, Pa., as Don Jose; Joel Carter, member of the Music Department faculty, as Escamillo; and Murtha Fouse, soprano of Chapel Hill, as Micaela.

These performers have been noted for their roles in recent University music dramas and operettas.

Supporting roles will be handled by Brian Klitz, UNC graduate assistant in music, singing the parts of Zungui, Morales and El Dancairo; James Pruett of Chapel Hill as El Remendado; Marilyn Zschau of Raleigh, a UNC senior, as Mercedes; and Rebecca Carnes, a graduate student from Shiloh, as Frasquita.

The University Chorus, regularly conducted by Dr. Mason, will be responsible for all the choral scenes of the full-length presentation. Robert F. Steelman of Kinston, junior music major, is the rehearsal accompanist.

Miss Turner, who sings the lead of Carmen, appears each season in concert with major symphony orchestras such as the New York Philharmonic, the Boston, San Francisco, Minneapolis and Los Angeles symphonies.

She was chosen by Maestro Arturo Toscanini to sing Ulrica in "Ballo in Maschera" in a performance unanimously heralded as "without precedent in any recent decade." This performance recorded by RCA Victor was the last opera conducted by Toscanini.

G. M. SLATE

Today's activities in Graham Memorial include: Friends meeting, 11 a.m., Main Lounge; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Roland Parker I; Community Church, 11:30-12:30 p.m., Roland Parker II; Special Committee, 10-12 noon, Woodhouse Conference Room; Wesley Foundation, 9:45 a.m., Rendezvous Room; and Cosmopolitan Club, 4-6 p.m., Rendezvous Room.

Monday's activities in Graham Memorial include: Polls Committee, 4-5 p.m., Grail; SEC, 2-3 p.m., Grail; 10 Grail; Carolina Symposium, 3-5 p.m., Roland Parker I; Student Party, 7-9 p.m., Roland Parker I and II; SKE, 7:30-9 p.m., Woodhouse; Audit Board, 2-4 p.m., Woodhouse; Honor System Commission, 5-6 p.m., Woodhouse; Rules Committee, 4-5 p.m., Woodhouse; and Bridge, 7-11 p.m., Rendezvous Room.

It was one of the most spectacular launchings ever witnessed at the Cape. The area was illuminated for miles as a light cloud cover reflected the bright flash of fire at launching.

Th third — and as of now final — Air Force bid to place a satellite around the moon failed at an altitude of 1,000 miles, far short of its 220,000-mile distant target.

The mighty rocket tumbled and disintegrated in the earth's atmosphere somewhere over Central Africa, about 7,500 miles from the launching site.

Even as scientists studied flight performance data to pinpoint the trouble, Army moon probes were waiting in the wings.

It is expected that the Army will get the first of its two chances to "shoot the moon" about Dec. 5.

High hopes rode with the rocket as it blasted majestically skyward. The odds for success still were one in 10, but they were the same when Pioneer I streaked 90,000 miles out of this world just a month ago.

Ironically, Ted Gordon, the 28-year-old Douglas test conductor whose word was law during the critical moments that led up to launching, said "It was the best missile countdown I've ever been through."

Except for a few minor hitches, everything functioned perfectly during the final phase of the 12-hour preliminary countdown that preceded zero hour.

'Pogo' Here Wednesday

Walt Kelly, creator of the comic strip character, Pogo, will speak at Hill Hall, Wednesday at 8 p.m. for the second presentation by the Carolina Forum.

Kelly, besides writing the famed comic strip, has published "Sings of the Pogo," a book of 30 original songs and music.

Pogo has aided the U.S. Treasury Department in Saving Bands campaigns, Life magazine in its Asiatic flu article and the Labor Department in its manpower campaign.

A collection of original FoGo strips initiated the Library of Congress' project to set up a permanent collection of outstanding American comic strip art.

A former two-team president of the National Cartoonists Society, Walt Kelly is a winner of the "Cartoonist of the year" award and the Heywood Brown Memorial Award for the best editorial cartoon program.

The author makes about 50 speeches each year, talking and sketching the famous Pogo with his friends from the swamp.

His address Wednesday night will be open to the public.

Students have been urged to visit social rooms on the weekends. Rooms will be open Friday night, Saturday afternoons and nights, and Sunday night. They will be closed on football afternoons.

Scott said, "Dorms will have to get their social rooms in good shape—homely, livable, chairs in good condition, pictures hung, trophy cases perhaps." Several dorms have already started painting their social rooms.

Machinery will grind into crushing the final obstruction to the agreement when the construction crews go into the dorms, Scott indicated. "The big thing in our way now is the partitioning."

Scott pointed out that 911 students have voted for and only 14 against the agreement in reports from all men's dorms except Avery.

Rules require that each men's dorm vote at the end of the trial period if they wish to continue the visiting policy.

A revision of the rules requires that a dorm officer be present in the dormitory and available at all times.

Women will be allowed in social rooms and entry halls only during Friday 7 to 12 p.m., Saturday 2 to 12 p.m. and Sunday from 2 to 11 p.m. The rooms will be closed until 4:30 on football Saturdays.

A visiting board consisting of the chairman or president of the Inter-dormitory Council, the Women's Residence Council, Carolina Women's Council, Panhellenic Council, president of the student body, and two faculty members and their wives must approve each dorm before it is opened to coeds.

Old East, Old West and Battle-Vance-Pettigrew dorms will not be included in the agreement because of their physical make-up.

Candidates not attending Monday night's meeting and not having excuses may be reinstated by contacting Furtado within 48 hours of the meeting and paying a $5 fine.

The rules of conduct and control of elections in the Elections Laws will be gone over at the meeting. In addition, copies of both the Elections Laws and expense accounts will be given out.

Party chairmen are also required to attend the meeting Monday night.

Candidates must meet Monday At 7

The Elections Board has announced a compulsory meeting of all candidates for office in the Nov. 18 fall elections Monday night at 7 o'clock in Gerrard Hall.

A role of names will be checked at the meeting. Candidates not present will be ineligible to run in the election unless excused for illness or any other reason approved by Elections Board Chairman Bob Furtado.

PROBABLY BY DUKE WEEKEND

Visit Agreement Nears Completion

By NEIL MURPHY
Jim Scott, key man in the IDC's coed visiting agreement, said Wednesday that "coeds will probably be able to visit social rooms in probably 17 men's dormitories the weekend of the Duke game."

Scott indicated that construction necessary in men's dorms to make it possible for them to be opened will be started within a week. Dormitories will have partitions and doors installed and improvements will be made in the social rooms themselves.

Machinery will grind into crushing the final obstruction to the agreement when the construction crews go into the dorms, Scott indicated. "The big thing in our way now is the partitioning."

THE BISHOP'S COMPANY IN REHEARSAL ... coming to Methodist Church Nov. 17

Methodists To Have Church Acting Group

An annual "theatrical" touring company, the Bishop's Company, will appear here Monday, Nov. 17, at the University Methodist Church at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Campus Council, the Bishop's Company will present C. S. Lewis' "The Great Divorce."

Founded in 1952 by Phillis Benbow Beardsley, the Company has toured over 300,000 miles, playing in 42 states and Canada. The Company is an independent organization named in honor of Methodist Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy.

The casts of the touring units are inter-racial and inter-faith. The Company has a full schedule as part of the concert series of colleges and Universities as well as churches.

The play to be presented here, "The Great Divorce," takes man as an observer on an excursion to the borders of heaven. He and his fellow bus passengers residents of hell, are met by their counterparts who are willing to help them earn eternal happiness.

The divorce of the play is between heaven and hell.

A special service will be held immediately before the play.

The boys from Chapel Hill started the second half exactly the way they did the first, scoring the first time they got the pigskin. Cummings again elected to pass, and Al Goldstein grabbed his aerial at the Virginia 40 then romped the remaining yardage for the score.

The play covered 63 yards in all. Don Klochak bulled over for two more points to put the Tar Heels on the big end of a 30-0 count.

A mixture of the second and third units launched a sustained drive from the Carolina 34, climaxed by Sonny Folkemer's 1-yard dive into paydirt. Ed Lipski was stopped short of the goal, but Carolina was ahead 36-0.

Danny Droze put on a real running exhibition for the last touchdown, gaining 31 and 9 yards, and finally smacking over from the 1. This TD pulled the Heels to their final margin, 42-0.

So many players looked great for Carolina, it would be impossible to single out individuals. The defense had Virginia's vaunted air attack well at hand, allowing only 6 completions. Virginia did gain 141 yards on the ground, but mostly against the third unit.

Sophomore quarterback, Skip Clement was perhaps the biggest surprise of the day with his pinpoint long range passing. The entire Carolina travelling team got into the fray, as Coach Jim Tatum emptied his bench.

Three Squads See Action In Big Win

By RUSTY HAMMOND
Special To The Daily Tar Heel
CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va.—Carolina's first three units all moved with equal ease against helpless Virginia here yesterday as the Tar Heels won their 6th straight by completely routing the Cavaliers 42-0.

All three units also showed an equal adeptness at defense as the Cavaliers never got a serious threat going all afternoon.

KLOCHAK SCORES FIRST
The first time they got their hands on the ball Carolina marched straight down the field 59 yards for a touchdown. On the first play from scrimmage big Don Klochak smashed the entire distance into the end zone but a clipping penalty nullified the play. Klochak did it again a few moments later, for the 8, and this time it stuck, Jack Cummings passed to Moe DeCantis for the extra 2 to give the Tar Heels an 8-0 lead with 10:50 still left in the first quarter.

Just before the end of the quarter the Hills struck again with Skip Clements hitting Don Kemper in the end zone with a 27-yard pass play Clements threw the ball just as he was hit but it was still a perfect strike. The try for 2 failed, but Carolina owned a 14-0 lead with the first quarter not yet over.

UNC LEADS 22-0 AT HALF
After driving from their own 46 to the Virginia 10, Jack Cummings took to the air and found Emil DeCantis waiting in the cross-strips for the Tar Heels' third touchdown. Cummings passed to DeCantis again for the extra points to give his mates a 22-0 lead. The half ended with that count on the scoreboard.

APO National President Honored At Chapter Dinner

Carolina's Rho chapter of Alpha Phi Omega honored Bill Roth, national president, at a dinner at Brady's restaurant Friday night. Roth refounded Rho chapter in 1948.

Testimonial speeches were given by Chancellor-Emeritus Robert B. House, APO southeast section chairman T. Mac Long and Occaneechee Council Scout Executive John Shutt.

Roth, told he was to speak to the pledge class, arrived at the surprise dinner in his honor at 7:05 p.m. Representatives from chapters at North Carolina State College, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Georgia State Teachers College, as well as friends of Rho chapter from South Carolina, attended.

After an invocation by Mr. James Wadsworth, the APO members ate a dinner of fried chicken, french fries, salad, hush puppies and coffee.

After dinner Rho Chapter President Harold Johnson introduced Chancellor-Emeritus House who started his speech on the topic "Pioneering with a Harmonica Solo." House said "World War II moved the students right out of the University. Bill was a member of that generation that put us back on the right track after the war."

"In most fraternities, graduates wear their pin on their undershirts. In APO you wear it on your character. One of the greatest things about Bill is that when he could have commanded other forms of success, he chose service to God, man and country in scouting by the investment of himself."

Dr. John Shutt followed House, speaking on Roth's life and honors. "Bill served in nearly every position in scouting at one time or another. He said that he might as well go into professional scouting since that was all he did and he might as well get paid for it."

Shutt pointed out that Roth has received the Distinguished Service Award of the Order of the Arrow. WWW and is now the Director of Field Service in Occaneechee Council, BSA.

"Bill is presently active in the J.C.s, Red Cross, Rotary and is a Sunday school teacher in his church. He has made a place in the hearts of everyone he has ever known," Shutt said.

T. Mac Long, who helped Bill refound Rho chapter said, "Our first law of growing was to do something. We have something great in APO and would have to hate a man not to tell him of it."

Speaking of early service projects, Long said, "A job didn't have to be big for Bill to do it. It just had to be there. A usual comment that a brother made at this time was 'Bill has been loading me down with work and I love it.'"

President Roth then told the brothers at the dinner that Rho chapters first service project was to furnish a crippled girl from Florida with a "pusher" to wheel her from class to class. The girl, in gratitude, toiled the chapter log book.

Roth said "APO is the largest and the best men's fraternity in the nation." He referred to the principle of APO, service as "an attitude and spirit."

Harold Johnson then led the brothers in the Toast song and dismissed the meeting.

Roth, who was elected national president this summer in Austin, Tex., transferred to UNC in 1948 from Asheville-Billmore College in Asheville. He received his BS in Commerce in June of 1950. He did graduate work in Social Work.

His honors at UNC include the presidency of the Grail, membership in the Golden Fleece and the position as Director of Graham Memorial Student Union, as well as his position in Alpha Phi Omega.
